No. 1805.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

ACCOUNTS.

Simla, the 25th July 1878.

READ again—

Financial Resolution No. 2055, dated 25th July 1877, directing that no money shall be removed from the Public Treasury for investment without the sanction of the Government of India, and pointing out that this Rule applies to Local Fund balances as much as to Provincial Funds.

Financial Resolution No. 680, dated 4th February 1878, exempting Dispensary Funds from the operation of the foregoing orders.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor-General in Council observes that there has been some misunderstanding of the intentions of the Government of India in respect to the investment of Local Fund balances, and that it is necessary to state clearly the principle on which the orders of 25th July 1877 were based. That principle is, that no funds contributed from the public revenues, or raised by general taxation, such as the District Cess Funds, and the like, shall be invested without the consent of the Government of India. Thus the orders of July 1877 do not apply to Municipal or Port Funds, nor do they apply to Trust or Endowment Funds of any kinds.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

Circular Order issued by Authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CIVIL.

No. 30, dated the 19*th August* 1878.

It having been brought to the notice of the Court that in certain districts fees are not paid to Revenue Agents for conducting cases in Moonsiffs' Courts agreeably to Act IV of 1876, and in view to an uniformity of practice in all districts, the following extract from the Court's letter to the Judge of Moorshedabad is circulated for the information and guidance of all Judicial Officers:—

Extract (paragraph 3) from the High Court's letter No. 987, dated the 9*th May* 1876, to the Judge of Moorshedabad.

"3. As regards your enquiry whether you are to follow the scale of fees for pleaders, laid down in High Court Circular No. 22, of the 13th June 1866, in fixing the fees of the Revenue Agents, or that followed by the Revenue Courts in former days or any other scale, I am directed to say that the Revenue Agents should be allowed half pleaders' fees and that if a Pleader and Revenue Agent be retained and act on the same side in the same suit, one pleader's fee will have to be allowed."

CRIMINAL.

No. 7, dated the 17*th August* 1878.

All Magistrates subordinate to the High Court are hereby informed that the Board of Revenue have, at the instance of the Court, issued the following instructions to Collector, in connection with the attachment and sale, under Section 172, Criminal Procedure Code, of land paying revenue to Government:—

"The High Court have represented that Collectors of districts, who hold sales of land paying revenue to Government from time to time, could more conveniently and advantageously hold sales of such attached land as is above referred to, situated within their jurisdictions, than could Magistrates, especially in cases where the Magistrate is in another district. The Board therefore direct that Collectors will in future comply with the requisitions of Magistrates to hold sales in such cases; and it is further directed that in these cases the procedure in respect of advertisement, sale, and delivery of possession in the case of sales in execution of decrees of Civil Courts, under Act X of 1877, the Code of Civil Procedure, may be strictly followed."

No. 8, dated the 22nd August 1878.

The attention of the Court having been drawn by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to the inconvenience arising from the practice said to prevail in some districts of requiring jail officers to attend the Sessions Courts from day to day until cases in which their evidence may be required come up in their turn, the Judges are pleased to direct that, in future, when jail or other departmental officers of Government who reside in the station are summoned as witnesses, arrangements be made to send for them only when actually wanted.

Sheriff's Office, the 21st August 1878.

Notice is hereby given that the Eighth Criminal Sessions of the year 1878, of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, for the Town of Calcutta and Factory of Fort William and the places subordinate thereto, will be holden at the Court-house, in the Town of Calcutta, on Monday, the Ninth day of September next, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and so on from day to day until the said Session be over. To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

WITH reference to your No. 719T., dated 30th June 1878, I have the honor to forward for orders copy of a letter, dated 20th July 1878, from Maharajah Jotendro Mohun Tagore, Bahadoor, offering a scholarship of Rs. 8 a month, to be called Prosunno Kumar Tagore Scholarship, and a gold keyur or armlet, to be called Hurro Kumar Tagore Keyur, which are to be annually awarded to two of the most successful private students from any of the Toles of Bengal. I beg to recommend that the Maharajah's offer should be accepted by Government and notified in the official Gazettes. The scholarship will be of the nature of a prize, and will not require the holder to prosecute his studies further in a recognised institution.

Dated Calcutta, the 20th July 1878.

From—MAHARAJAH JOTENDRO MOHUN TAGORE,

To—A. W. CROFT, ESQ., M.A., Director of Public Instruction.

WITH reference to the resolution of the Government of Bengal, General Department (Education), dated the 22nd ultimo, I have the honor to inform you that I am desirous of establishing a scholarship of Rs. 8 per month, to be called "Prosunno Kumar Tagore Scholarship," and awarding a gold keyur or armlet, to be called "Hurro Kumar Tagore Keyur." They are to be annually awarded to two of the most successful private students from any of the Toles of Bengal in any of the subjects of the examination to be held annually in the first week of the Bengalee year. The scholarship will be tenable for one year. The keyur will bear the following inscription—

হরকুমার ঠাকুর কেয়ুরং
প্রদত্তং
শ্রী
শকাব্দা ১৭

The gold keyur will be sent by me every year on the name of the successful candidate being communicated to me.

I beg that the names of the recipients of the scholarship and the keyur should be published every year in the Calcutta Gazette.

On hearing from you that all arrangements have been completed with the sanction of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, I shall endorse over to you 4 per cent. Government securities for Rs. 2,500, yielding an income of Rs. 100 per annum, out of which Rs. 96 should go for the scholarship and Rs. 4 for printing the scholarship card and meeting other contingent charges.

No. 2893, dated Calcutta, the 23rd August 1878.

From—H. H. RISLEY, Esq., Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal,
To—The Director of Public Instruction.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 4032, dated the 3rd August 1878, enclosing copy of a communication from Maharajah Jotendro Mohun Tagore, Bahadoor, offering a scholarship of Rs. 8 a month, to be called the Prosunno Kumar Tagore Scholarship, and a gold keyur or armlet, to be called Hurro Kumar Tagore Keyur, which are to be annually awarded to two of the most successful private students from any of the Toles in Bengal.

2. In reply, I am to say that the Lieutenant-Governor accepts the offer, and desires that an expression of his thanks may be conveyed to the Maharajah for this example of his public spirit and liberality.

3. The correspondence will be published in the Calcutta and Bengali Gazettes for general information.

4. I am to take this opportunity of requesting that you will be good enough to report what steps should be taken to revive and encourage the Sanskrit Toles. It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that grants might be given to Toles based on the number of the pupils passing by a certain standard.

CAPTURE AND DESTRUCTION OF SIX MAN-EATING TIGERS BY BABOO RAMPERSAD NARAIN SINGH.

No. 3088, dated Calcutta, the 30th August 1878.

From—HORACE A. COCKERELL, Esq., Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial, Political, and Appointment Departments,
To—The Commissioner of the Chota Nagpore Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your No. 2389, dated 19th July 1878, bringing to the notice of Government the success achieved by Baboo Rampersad Narain Singh in capturing and killing six man-eating tigers that have for the past two years frequented the road and jungle between Hazareebagh and Ranchi.

2. From the correspondence you submit, it appears that the ravages committed by these tigers first attracted attention in the beginning of 1876. In August of that year it was reported that 30 or 40 persons had been killed by them whilst passing along the imperial road. By the month of April following not less than 97 people, it is stated, had been carried off; the road was entirely closed to travellers by night, and even by day no one would venture to pass alone along the portion of the road near Ramgurh. The impression of the local officers at first was that there was only one man-eating tiger in the neighbourhood, but subsequently it was discovered that there were four or five that had taken to eating human flesh; and, as they had cubs with them, there was every probability of a continuance of the evil. A large number of native shikaries were employed at the cost of Government to set spring-guns and poisoned arrows in the jungle; attempts were also made to destroy the tigers by poisoning their kills; but none of the measures adopted were successful. The tigers appeared to bear a charmed life, escaping with equal good fortune from large hunting expeditions organized by experienced European sportsmen, and from the lures of poisoned baits.

3. In January last, Baboo Rampersad Narain Singh of Moksudpore, in the district of Gya, determined, if possible, to free the country from the tigers that had so long been causing havoc on the Hazareebagh and Ranchi road. He accordingly camped out in the jungle, and in six months he succeeded in catching four tigers alive and in killing two others. He has thus made the road quite safe for travellers by day and night, and the people have returned to several villages that had been deserted in consequence of the ravages of the tigers.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to learn that the Baboo should have lost a considerable portion of his camp equipage owing to a fire. Baboo Rampersad Narain Singh has well earned the gratitude of the people of the district of Hazareebagh by his disinterested and successful exertions on their behalf. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that you will take an early opportunity of presenting to him in a suitable manner on behalf of Government the accompanying double-barrelled gun and rifle in recognition of the services rendered by him, and that you will at the same time convey to him the thanks of Government.

5. A copy of this letter will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE SMALL CAUSE COURT OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

JUDICIAL.

Dated Calcutta, the 27th August 1878.

READ—

Report on the Calcutta Court of Small Causes for 1877-78.

THE report shows that the number of cases instituted during the year was 870 in excess of the number of the previous year, but one thousand less than the average number of the previous five years. The whole number of suits instituted was 33,510, and the amount in litigation was Rs. 17,11,118, a considerably larger sum than in any of the previous ten years.

Cases between Rs. 50 and Rs. 100 ...	2,703	2,693	2,577	2,491	2,840
" " " 100 and " 500 ...	2,789	2,718	2,071	2,600	2,913
" " " 500 and " 1,000 ...	507	509	502	475	627
" " " 50 and " 1,000 ...	5,999	5,920	5,750	5,566	6,380

3. The increase in the number of suits as compared with those of the previous year is attributed by the Judges entirely to the great impulse given to trade by the Madras famine. This is no doubt also the correct explanation of the number of suits of high value as compared with the number in any year since the establishment of the Court. Although the total number of suits was less than in many previous years, the amount in litigation was higher than in any other year since the famine of 1866. During the latter half of the year 1877 the Court was inundated with suits on rice and wheat contracts, suits in trover in respect of gunny-bags, and suits for the hire and demurrage of cargo-boats. There were also many suits against the East Indian Railway Company for short delivery of goods, and the sudden collapse of trade in October gave rise to numerous suits for damages for failure to ship goods.

4. The decrease in the number of suits below Rs. 10 is explained by the Judges as probably due to the lower classes being able to pay their debts with greater facility in consequence of the additional employment given to them by the increase of trade. This explanation does not, however, appear to the Lieutenant-Governor to be sufficient, for the same decrease was noticed in the year 1876-77 as compared with the previous year. It appears more probable that the decrease in suits of small value is due to permanent causes. The ruling of the High Court that the Court of Small Causes has no power to seize tiled huts in execution of its decrees necessarily diminishes the amount of credit given to those who have no other property to tender as security; while the effect of the exclusion of touters has probably been to prevent the institution of suits of small value until efforts have been made to settle the claims out of court.

5. Owing to the amounts involved in the suits of the past year being larger than usual, pleaders and other legal practitioners were more often employed. The Judges remark that there is a growing tendency on the part of the public to avail themselves of the services of legal practitioners, and that the administration of justice, though improved, is delayed by cross-examination and arguments.

6. Under section 538 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877) the Small Cause Court has been vested with jurisdiction for the summary disposal of cases dealt with in Chapter XXXIX of the Code. The Judges consider the extension of this chapter to their Court to have been a mistake; but as only one case has been filed under the chapter, and that case was compromised, the point does not appear to be of any material importance.

7. The suggestion made in paragraph 12 of the report that the several notifications issued under section 15 of Act XXVI of 1864 should be withdrawn, and a fresh notification issued under section 8 of Act X of 1877, extending to the Court of Small Causes certain sections of the new Code of Civil Procedure, appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to be a good one. Extract paragraph 12 of the report will be forwarded to the High Court, with a request that the Hon'ble Judges will favour the Lieutenant-Governor with their opinion on the subject. The attention of the High Court will also be drawn to the irregularity noticed by the Judges in paragraph 15 of their report.

8. The following statement shows the results of the trials of the past three years. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that there are some grounds for thinking that the number of unfounded and harassing claims is decreasing.

9. The receipts of the year amounted to Rs. 2,21,219, and the expenditure to Rs. 1,53,860. The net sum to be credited to the General Revenues was therefore Rs. 67,359, a larger amount than has been credited during any of the last seven years, even after making allowance for the rent formerly paid for the Court premises.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Judges of the Calcutta Court of Small Causes, and that reference be made to the High Court as indicated in paragraph 7.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., an 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All th thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at th Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four fee above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 8(formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in th Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA,
The 2nd September 1878.

ALEXANDER PEDLER,
For Offg. Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India.

Report on the Fluctuations in traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of July 1878.

INCREASES.

Ale ... ... Mds. 471

This increase is due almost entirely to a heavy despatch of Commissariat Beer upwards.

Hides ... ... Mds. 109

There has been an active demand for hides of all sorts for export during the month Prices have advanced and the low rates of freights and exchange have induced speculators to turn their attention to this staple.

Piece-goods ... ... Mds. 243

The despatch of piece-goods was somewhat checked last month owing to the difficulty of carting from our stations. The increase shewn is the result of stocks in the local bazars having run short.

Salt ... ... Mds. 119

The increase in this staple, although not large, is important, when it is remembered that so many of our principal stations are tapped at this season of the year by boats, and we might fairly have expected the diversion of this traffic by its being carried by river at a low rate as return load.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 198

Nearly the whole of this increase was in mustard seed upwards, presumably for sowing purposes.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 1,123

There was a demand at the beginning of the month for this article for shipment, and favourable prices were obtained for parcels of the new crop which resulted in heavy despatches from our Rungpore station.

All other goods ... ... Mds. 1,764

This increase is mainly in general merchandise booked through from Eastern Bengal Railway.

DECREASES.

Food-grain ... ... Mds. 51,180
Ginger ... ... ,, 1,342
Gunnies ... ... ,, 742

The falling off in these staples may fairly be set down to the difficulties of cartage in the present state of the roads. Large despatches of grain by boat are still going on from Hillee and Phulbari

Jute ... ... Mds. 3,700

Old stocks have become exhausted and the new crop is not yet ready for despatch.

Railway materials ... ... Mds. 5,791

The decrease in the weight carried under this head is caused, as explained in previous reports, by near completion of the line.

Tea ... ... Mds. 1,814

The break on the Siliguri extension checked despatches to a considerable extent during the period under review and has no doubt diverted the traffic to the Carragola route for a time.

Statement shewing Increases and Decreases in maundage of Staples carried over the line during the month of July 1878.

DRAFT RULES PROPOSED UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1876.

Dated the 10th September 1878.

No. 249.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Sone Canals which it is proposed to substitute for the rules passed and published at pages 938 to 943, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd August 1876.

Rule under Act III (B.C.) of 1876.

1. The Collector, before awarding compensation under sections 16 and 17 of the Act, shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

2. Water shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, loss from wastage is likely to occur. From the decision of the Divisional Canal Officer an appeal shall lie to the Superintending Canal Officer, whose order shall be final.

3. Water shall not ordinarily be granted where the length of the water-course, from its head to its point of contact with the village boundary, would exceed two (2) miles.

4. Water for irrigation shall not be supplied, except through a water-course so constructed and maintained that, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer—

(a) the water will pass without wastage;

(b) the existing necessary lines of communication, the flow of drainage water, and the passage of water for irrigation, will not be obstructed.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer may withhold or postpone the grant of water for a crop to any cultivator whose fields he may have ascertained by personal inspection (by himself or one of his assistants) to be unprepared for irrigation by division into compartments not greater in area than 1 cottah or 1361·25 superficial feet, and by the addition of small water-channels, as is customary in irrigation from wells.

Rice-fields are exempted from the operation of this rule.

NOTE.—This rule shall only apply in those cases in which the discovery is made previous to the first watering of a crop; the water having been once given cannot be withheld for that crop, but a higher rate may be levied as provided in Rule 25.

6. Persons desiring to construct a village channel shall prefer a written application to the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer. In the latter case the application shall be forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer.

7. The application, if granted, shall be subject to the Act, and also, unless otherwise specially agreed upon, be deemed granted under the following conditions:—

(a)—That the water supplied shall not be used for other purposes than irrigation without the written consent of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer.

(b)—That the applicants nominate a headman known or ascertained to be a substantial person possessed of property to attend to their interests to receive and carry out the orders of the Canal Officers, to distribute the water among the shareholders in the water-course according to their shares, and to collect and pay in to the Collector, or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the lands watered from the water-course. Such headman shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Penal Code.

(c)—That in any case where persons desirous of taking water fail to appoint a headman, or cannot agree among themselves as to the headman, the Collector shall nominate, and the Divisional Canal Officer appoint a headman.

(d)—That the headman shall furnish security for the payment of all sums realized by him, the stamp and registration fees on security bonds being deducted from the percentage allowed under Rule 10.

(e)—That for each crop, previous to water being taken for any field, application shall be made in the prescribed form (appendix A) through the said headman to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer or other officer authorized to receive such applications, and that no water shall be taken until after the receipt of a "permit" (appendix B) from such officer.

(f)—That in any case where the Divisional Canal Officer, owing to the known recusancy of any village, or of any class of cultivators, anticipates difficulty in realizing water-rates, he shall intimate the same to the Collector or Sub-Deputy Collector, in whose option it shall be to require payment of water-rates in advance.

(g)—That any other cultivators in the same village, able and willing to irrigate their lands from the said water-course, shall be admitted as shareholders in the water-course on paying their proportionate share (to be determined by the amount of land they hold) of the first cost and maintenance of the water-course.

(h)—That all alterations in the number of shareholders, distribution of shares, or nomination of headman, shall be reported through the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer for the sanction of the Divisional Canal Officer.

8. The Divisional Canal Officer may accept the nominee of the shareholders in a water-course as "headman" of such water-course, and is empowered to pay him the fees as hereinbelow detailed, subject to the condition of satisfactory performance of duty.

9. The allowance to the headman of a water-course for duties connected with that water-course, such as arranging that it shall be kept in proper repair, seeing that no lands obtain water without a regular "permit," distributing the water to the shareholders, seeing to the outlet being closed according to the orders of the Divisional Canal Officer, and generally assisting the officers of the Irrigation Department, shall be 5 per cent. on the assessments of canal water-rates derived from the water-courses in his charge. The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees under this rule in the event of the conditions not being complied with.

10. The allowance to the headman of a water-course for collecting the water-rates shall be 3 per cent. on the assessments, and shall be paid by the Collector on receipt of the full payment of demand for that crop and not otherwise, unless he can satisfy the Collector that the balance in arrear is so through no negligence of his. The payment to be made within two months of the dates named in the permit.

11. An appeal against retrenchment under Rules 9 and 10 shall lie to the Superintending Canal Officer and Commissioner respectively, if preferred within thirty days of such retrenchment, and the Superintending Canal Officer or Commissioner's decision shall be final.

12. Contracts between the Divisional Canal Officer on the part of Government and private individuals for the use of water as a motive power, or for any other purpose whatsoever not included in the published schedule of rates, shall, if for any period not exceeding one year, require the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

If for longer periods, such contracts shall be submitted for the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, in the Irrigation Department.

13. Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge and without reference to the area irrigated in any village, whenever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependent on any canal, under the following regulations :—

(a)—No tank shall be so filled unless exclusively used for domestic purposes, and for watering cattle; such tanks are generally in the immediate neighbourhood of villages.

(b)—No tank shall be so filled from which irrigation is practised.

(c)—No tank shall be so filled which, intercepting any line of drainage, is liable to overflow from accumulation of water derived from natural causes.

(d)—No tank shall be so filled except on the written order of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, issued on the written applications of the parties concerned. The filling of tanks can only be permitted at such times and to such extent as the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer approves.

(e)—No tank shall be so filled unless the water-course used to fill it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

(f)—The privilege herein accorded may be suspended for twelve months for breach of these regulations by written order of the Divisional Canal Officer, subject, however, to revision by the Superintending Engineer, whose decision shall be final.

14. The Divisional Canal Officer may, by written order under section 76 (a) (ii), stop the supply to any water-course when he has satisfied himself by personal inspection (by himself or one of his assistants) that the water-course is not maintained in proper repair. Immediate report of any such closure shall be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, and the special ground for stoppage explained.

15. The Divisional Canal Officer may, under section 76 (a) (iii), regulate the distribution of the available water in proportion to the average area irrigated from the several outlets, or in proportion to the quantities of water contracted for, and may close the outlets in rotation as shall be necessary.

Such periodical closures shall not extend beyond ten consecutive days, and shall be notified to the headman of water-courses. For longer closures the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer is required.

Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to affect the power of the Superintending or any Divisional Officer to stop any supply of water in case of pressing emergency.

16. The water-gauges on distributaries or other channels shall be held to give authoritative data for all calculations of discharge required to verify claims for remission of water-rate on account of loss of water.

17. Claims to remission, under section 76 (b) of ordinary charges payable for use of canal water shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the charges. All applications for remission of water-rates shall be made by the parties concerned in person, or through their headman, to the nearest Sub-Divisional Canal Officer at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop, and the Sub-Divisional Officer shall thereupon inspect the applicant's fields, and forward his application for decision to the Divisional Canal Officer with his remarks.

18. Before awarding compensation under section 76 (c), the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, and such opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings. Under this rule an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the division, whose order shall be final.

19. Under section 78 of the Act the rates chargeable per acre on the different descriptions of crops are fixed for three years, viz. from 1st June 1876 to the 1st June 1879, and are as follows :—

20. Up to 1st June 1879 leases for three years may be granted at the following rates provided that the area leased in any village shall not be less than the whole irrigable area in the case of khureef cultivation or half the irrigable area in that of the rubbee cultivation. In the latter case the area must be as far as possible in one block. In certain cases it may, at the discretion of the Superintending Engineer, be comprised in two or at most three blocks.

Rubbee, including bhadaee	2	4	0	1	6	6	0	1	2
Khureef	1	8	0	0	15	0	0	0	9

21. Three-year leases will not be granted for sugarcane.

22. By irrigable area is to be understood as a general rule the extent of land for which water can be supplied at the rate of 80 acres in khureef and 180 acres in rubbee per cubic foot of available supply.

23. Leases for three years at the reduced rates may be given (1) on the application of all the cultivators of a village, on condition of their agreeing in such application to become jointly and severally responsible for the payment of all amounts due on account of water-rates; or (2) on the joint application of the cultivators and of some person hereinafter called the contractor, who may agree to collect and pay to Government under section 82 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876 all sums which may be due under the application on account of water-rates. The application of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally will be in the form prescribed in appendix C. The joint application of villagers and a water-rate contractor shall be in the form prescribed in appendix D. Every application under this rule must be signed by each applicant in the presence of at least one respectable witness.

24. A contractor or contractors shall be entitled to collect water dues at the rates given in the schedule attached to rule 20 from the cultivators who have applied for the water supplied. Every due from a cultivator to a contractor on account of water rates shall be deemed a sum due to Government under sections 82 and 85 of Act III of 1876.

25. A contractor (or, in case there be more than one, each severally and jointly) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the application (appendix D), and shall be entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. for cost of collection.

26. When the lease under these rules is for the supply of water to khureef crops or to all irrigable rubbee in the village, a list in form E should be submitted with the application showing the number of each field in the map, the area of the field, crop to be grown, and amount payable; and this should be signed by each cultivator. Water will be supplied in accordance with this list during the period of the lease. Similar lists must be submitted each year before water is supplied to rubbee lands when the area leased is less than the whole area of irrigable rubbee land in the village. In such cases the fields receiving water may vary from year to year, but the total area to be watered can never be less than the area stated in the application for the three years' lease.

27. No water shall be taken previous to receipt of a permit (appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a contractor or contractors the Divisional Canal Officer shall furnish such contractor or contractors with an authorization under section 82 to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to the list furnished under rule 26, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every contractor shall nominate a headman to be approved by the Canal Officer to perform the duties specified in rule 9. Such headman shall receive 5 per cent. on the assessment, but the Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. If only a portion of a field be irrigated the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

30. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exists between the two portions. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

31. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

32. Irrigation from natural or artificial escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

33. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

34. Persons irrigating lands from a canal without a written permit for water for such lands, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be chargeable with double water-rates on the area irrigated, in addition to such penalties as may be imposed under sections 93 and 94 of the Act.

35. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, viz. five rupees per acre on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower charge if he thinks fit. The headman to be held responsible for the payment of such rates as may be imposed, leaving it to him to realize the same from those to blame.

36. If mixed crops be grown in the same field, the water-rate shall be calculated on the highest rated crop.

37. When the original crop sown in a canal irrigated field fails and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates leviable shall be due on the second crop.

38. When a field is irrigated which has not been prepared by division into compartments, and by the addition of small water-channels as prescribed in rule 5, an additional charge may be imposed equal to half the amount of water-rate leviable on the field. In each case the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Officer must certify that he personally examined the field, and that it was not properly prepared for irrigation according to the terms of the rule.

39. The amounts demandable for water-rate shall be determined and apportioned by the Divisional Canal Officer.

40. All water-rates shall become due on the dates noted on the "permits," viz the dates on which the crops ordinarily come to maturity, and are as follows :—

Water-rate on spring crops,—wheat, barley, peas, poppy, &c.,—shall become due on 15th April

Water-rate on summer crops,—cheena, &c.,—shall become due on 15th August.

Water-rate on bhadoi crops,—seera rice, Indian-corn, murwa, &c.,—shall become due on 30th November.

Water-rate on annual and winter crops,—aghani rice, joaur, &c.,—on 31st January and shall be paid within one month of such dates.

41. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

42. Collection of all water-rates will be made by the Collector strictly in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer, in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

43. The Collector will make the collections through the Deputy Collectors attached to each division of the canal and the Subordinate Canal Revenue Establishment.

44. Objections to the demand on the score of short supply, or of matters affecting the Irrigation Department, addressed to the Collector, shall be referred by him to the Canal Divisional Officer. Meanwhile the collection of the demand shall not be suspended.

45. Claims for remission so referred by the Collector, and admitted by the Divisional Canal Officer, shall be reported by him for the sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

46. A remission statement signed by the Superintending Canal Officer shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

47. If the decision of the Divisional Canal Officer uphold the original demand, an appeal may be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, provided that it is preferred within forty days from the issue of the order. The decision of the Superintending Canal Officer shall be final.

48. In cases in which the water-rate is irrecoverable, from the absconding or bankruptcy of the defaulter, or when the question at issue does not depend on the canal supply or the action of the Irrigation Department, the Collector will obtain sanction to remission of canal demands from the Commissioner of the division. All such remissions shall be reported at the close of each official year to the Divisional Canal Officer.

49. If a cultivator is dissatisfied with the entries made against him in the "permit" (appendix B), whether as to the fact of the land having been charged "flow" instead of "lift," or as to the measurements and entries of class of crop, he must lodge a complaint, either personally or through the headman of his water-course, with the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer within fifteen days of the issue of the permit.

50. No person, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officers, shall pass, or shall cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks, or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, excepting upon such bridges, fords, and ferries, and their approaches, as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer.

51. No Canal Officer, unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly, or in shares with others.

52. The ameen after completing the measurement of a village, before leaving it, will compile the Khatianni. A copy of the Khatianni will be taken by the putwaree, who must himself make the copy; but if he cannot from any cause do so, the ameen must give it, and the latter is to be held responsible that a copy is taken

53. The copy of the Khatianni thus made will be hung up in some conspicuous place, and slips in the prescribed form (appendix F) will be prepared by the putwaree and given to each ryot showing the amount he will have to pay, area irrigated, &c.

54. The allowance to the putwaree for the above work shall be 2 per cent. on the assessments which shall be paid by the Collector on his being satisfied that the putwaree did his work properly.

55. The measurements shall be made as soon as practicable, and every care taken to have the Khatianni hung up in the village at least 15 days before the crop is cut, so that the ryot may make his complaints, if he have any, in good time.

56. In case of any alteration in the Khatianni owing to correction of clerical errors, &c., the same shall be communicated to the putwaree at once to enable him to correct the village copy and slips accordingly.

57. The zilladar shall submit his check measurements in the form (appendix G) which shall be sent in for the inspection of the Divisional Canal Officer. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall also check the measurements as often as he possibly can. If it is found that any ameen systematically makes wrong measurements, he shall be punished by dismissal, and shall be declared incapable of obtaining further employment under Government.

APPOINTMENT OF A COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER THE QUESTION OF IMPROVING THE RENT LAW IN BEHAR.

No. 2122, dated Calcutta, the 7th September 1878.

To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

THE Lieutenant-Governor, in a letter No. 503 of the 22nd February last, laid before the Government of India, in the Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce, a draft Bill to provide a more speedy and effectual procedure for the recovery of uncontested arrears of rent. No orders have yet been received with reference to that measure. While, however, its provisions were under discussion locally, the question arose whether these were altogether or at all applicable to the requirements of Behar. In Bengal the primary want is a ready means of recovering rents which are clearly due, and which are withheld either for the sake of delay, or in pursuance of some organised system of opposition to the zemindar. In Behar, what is most wanted is some ready means of enabling the ryot to resist illegal restraint, illegal enhancement, and illegal cesses, and to prove and maintain his occupancy rights.

2. Apart from the backwardness and poverty of the ryots, there are many points in the existing system of zemindari management in Behar which seem to call for speedy amendment. The loose system of zemindari accounts, the entire absence of leases and counterparts, the universal prevalence of illegal distraint, the oppression incident to the realization of rents in kind, the practice of amalgamating holdings so as to destroy evidence of continuous occupation, are evils which necessarily prevent any possible development of agricultural prosperity among the tenant class, and place them practically at the mercy of their landlords, or of the thikadars, to whom ordinarily their landlords from time to time transfer their rights. When to all this is added the tediousness and expense of carrying a rent suit through the civil court, the corruption of the process servers, and the uncertainties of execution of decrees, the provision of some special legislation to deal with the question of the relations of landlord and tenant in Behar appears to be as desirable for the sake of the landlord as for that of the ryot.

3. Holding these views, the Lieutenant-Governor in August 1877 addressed your predecessor, Mr. Molony, directing him, after consulting Collectors and others, to report on the shape and character which a rent law for Behar should take.

The following extract from the letter to Mr. Molony may here be quoted :—

One great difficulty is to bring the law within easy reach of complainants who can afford but little time and less money to sue for their rights. It has been suggested that this might be met by investing rural Sub-Registrars with the powers of Moonsifs to try rent suits, and also making use of them as Sub-Deputy Collectors and giving them 3rd class criminal powers. We should still have to increase their number and to give them a fair salary all round. It is questionable whether this would not be as expensive as increasing the number of Moonsifs. The scheme, moreover, is essentially weak, owing to the dislike which the High Court would naturally have to supervising the civil work of officers who are in such a very partial way subordinate to them. Still the Lieutenant-Governor thinks the scheme worth considering, and one which should not altogether be lost sight of. The Bill at present under his consideration for Bengal proposes to confer a summary jurisdiction on Moonsifs, and not to place the disposal of these suits in the hands of the Deputy Collectors. As the orders of the Government of India to abstain from trenching in any way on the powers and jurisdiction which the law has conferred on civil courts are clear and decided, this point is not open to discussion; and whatever alteration is made in the law, the jurisdiction must remain with civil courts, under the superintendence of the High Court. This, of course, does not preclude amendments in the procedure now in force in those courts, and it is in this direction, rather than in altering the substantive law, that the Lieutenant-Governor sees most probability of useful amendment. By giving due notice, after which no accounts shall be received in evidence unless kept in proper form and authenticated by the registered putwari; by insisting on forms of printed receipts and the use of counterfoils; by improving the system of serving process; by refusing all decrees for back rent till a pottah is offered, and giving special facilities for recovery where registered kaboolyuts are produced in support of the claim—the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that some first steps may be taken towards placing the relations of landlord and tenant on a proper footing. Another point which requires earnest attention is to get rid of the system of illegal restraint, or of placing a peon to prevent the cutting of a crop till rent is paid, which now obtains in Behar; and if this, which is more in the hands of the Magistrates than of the rent courts, is to be done, it would be well at the same time to simplify greatly the legal process of distraint; for distraint under proper safeguards is a right in the exercise of which Mr. Eden would fully support the rent receiver. In asking you to consider these points, I am to say that the less radical the interference with the existing law, the more chance is there of its being accepted; and it is better to have a short Bill supplementary to the law in force than to substitute an entirely new Bill for it.

4. In reply to this call, Mr. Molony submitted reports of more or less value from all his District Collectors, some of them enclosing the opinions of Deputy Collectors and other gentlemen consulted. Mr. Molony set forth his own views of the subject in a covering memorandum; the conclusion which he came to being that "it would be well to watch the result of the proposed legislation for Bengal Proper, and in the meantime to prepare the way by improving the putwaries and the village and zemindari accounts. Tenants are (he said) awaking to a knowledge of their rights, and this knowledge will spread. At present there is no general withholding of rents to render necessary special legislation in the interest of the landlords. It will be time enough to extend summary processes for the recovery of rent when this occurs. Meanwhile the administrative reforms in the putwari system might (he concluded) be carried out under the powers at present vested in the Board of Revenue, and the registration of leases might be facilitated."

5. The Lieutenant-Governor, having had an opportunity of consulting Sir S. C. Bayley and other officers with a large experience of Behar, is not satisfied that matters can or ought to be left to themselves in the way proposed by Mr. Molony. It is true that an attempt is now being made to organize and improve the putwaries or village accountants, and to secure some trustworthy record of village rents. But great difficulty has been found in carrying out these reforms; and at best they are only a step in the right direction, and it will be many years before they yield substantial benefit to the ryot. Nearly every local officer consulted is agreed that, while a system of summary and cheap rent procedure is required in the interests of both zemindar and ryot, the most urgent requirement of Behar is an amelioration of the condition of the tenantry.

6. There is a general concurrence of opinion that the law should by a simple and effective procedure enable a ryot—to maintain his rights of occupancy when acquired;

to hold his land subject to fixed conditions of tenure;
to be certified exactly of the amount which he will have to pay for it annually; to resist illegal distraint, illegal cesses, and illegal enhancement; to have at hand a trustworthy record of demands and payments.

All the suggestions contained in the papers aim at improving the existing machinery for attaining these ends, and the points at which it is proposed to strengthen and improve this machinery may be indicated under the following heads.

In order to secure more effectual record of rights, it is proposed—

I.—To improve the system of zemindari accounts in connection with the obligations imposed on putwarees.

II.—To encourage or render compulsory interchange of pottahs and kaboolyuts.

III.—To insist on the use of counterfoil receipts.

IV.—To cheapen registration.

V.—To discourage amalgamation of old and new holdings.

VI.—To allow occupancy rights to be transferable by sale, and to create certain presumptions of law in favour of the ryot.

And for the other purposes in view, it is proposed—

VII.—To simplify and amend the law of distraint, and to make illegal distraint, or restraint of crops, specially punishable.

VIII.—To limit the right to enhance, and make illegal enhancement punishable.

IX.—To make the demand of illegal cesses punishable.

X.—To recognize and provide by law for the system of payment in kind which obtains largely in the province.

And to these may be added—

XI.—The provision of a summary procedure as in the Bengal Bill for the recovery of undisputed arrears of rent.

XII.—The empowering of Collectors to effect a settlement in certain disputed cases.

7. The foregoing headings seem to summarise nearly all the suggestions made for improving the rent law in Behar. There is, however, a considerable divergence of opinion as to the best mode of effecting the objects contemplated under each of these processes and the limitations to which each should be subjected. The Lieutenant-Governor has therefore thought it desirable to appoint a Committee of gentlemen, official and non-official, European and Native, well acquainted with the land system of Behar, to consider the papers relating to the proposed special rent law, and to draw up a report and draft Bill embodying such proposals as may seem to them desirable. The Committee will consist of the following gentlemen:—

1. The Commissioner of the Division, President.
2. C. F. Worsley, Esq., Collector of Mozufferpore.
3. G. J. S. Hodgkinson, Esq., Collector of Sarun.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

DRAFT RULES PROPOSED UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1876.

Dated the 10th September 1878.

No. 249.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Sone Canals which it is proposed to substitute for the rules passed and published at pages 938 to 943, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd August 1876.

Rule under Act III (B.C.) of 1876.

1. The Collector, before awarding compensation under sections 16 and 17 of the Act, shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

2. Water shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, loss from wastage is likely to occur. From the decision of the Divisional Canal Officer an appeal shall lie to the Superintending Canal Officer, whose order shall be final.

3. Water shall not ordinarily be granted where the length of the water-course, from its head to its point of contact with the village boundary, would exceed two (2) miles.

4. Water for irrigation shall not be supplied, except through a water-course so constructed and maintained that, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer—

(a) the water will pass without wastage;

(b) the existing necessary lines of communication, the flow of drainage water, and the passage of water for irrigation, will not be obstructed.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer may withhold or postpone the grant of water for a crop to any cultivator whose fields he may have ascertained by personal inspection (by himself or one of his assistants) to be unprepared for irrigation by division into compartments not greater in area than 1 cottah or 1361·25 superficial feet, and by the addition of small water-channels, as is customary in irrigation from wells.

Rice-fields are exempted from the operation of this rule.

NOTE.—This rule shall only apply in those cases in which the discovery is made previous to the first watering of a crop; the water having been once given cannot be withheld for that crop, but a higher rate may be levied as provided in Rule 25.

6. Persons desiring to construct a village channel shall prefer a written application to the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer. In the latter case the application shall be forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer.

7. The application, if granted, shall be subject to the Act, and also, unless otherwise specially agreed upon, be deemed granted under the following conditions:—

(a)—That the water supplied shall not be used for other purposes than irrigation without the written consent of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer.

(b)—That the applicants nominate a headman known or ascertained to be a substantial person possessed of property to attend to their interests to receive and carry out the orders of the Canal Officers, to distribute the water among the shareholders in the water-course according to their shares, and to collect and pay in to the Collector, or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the lands watered from the water-course. Such headman shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Penal Code.

(c)—That in any case where persons desirous of taking water fail to appoint a headman, or cannot agree among themselves as to the headman, the Collector shall nominate, and the Divisional Canal Officer appoint a headman.

(d)—That the headman shall furnish security for the payment of all sums realized by him, the stamp and registration fees on security bonds being deducted from the percentage allowed under Rule 10.

(e)—That for each crop, previous to water being taken for any field, application shall be made in the prescribed form (appendix A) through the said headman to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer or other officer authorized to receive such applications, and that no water shall be taken until after the receipt of a "permit" (appendix B) from such officer.

(f)—That in any case where the Divisional Canal Officer, owing to the known recusancy of any village, or of any class of cultivators, anticipates difficulty in realizing water-rates, he shall intimate the same to the Collector or Sub-Deputy Collector, in whose option it shall be to require payment of water-rates in advance.

(g)—That any other cultivators in the same village, able and willing to irrigate their lands from the said water-course, shall be admitted as shareholders in the water-course on paying their proportionate share (to be determined by the amount of land they hold) of the first cost and maintenance of the water-course.

(h)—That all alterations in the number of shareholders, distribution of shares, or nomination of headman, shall be reported through the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer for the sanction of the Divisional Canal Officer.

8. The Divisional Canal Officer may accept the nominee of the shareholders in a water-course as "headman" of such water-course, and is empowered to pay him the fees as hereinbelow detailed, subject to the condition of satisfactory performance of duty.

9. The allowance to the headman of a water-course for duties connected with that water-course, such as arranging that it shall be kept in proper repair, seeing that no lands obtain water without a regular "permit," distributing the water to the shareholders, seeing to the outlet being closed according to the orders of the Divisional Canal Officer, and generally assisting the officers of the Irrigation Department, shall be 5 per cent. on the assessments of canal water-rates derived from the water-courses in his charge. The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees under this rule in the event of the conditions not being complied with.

10. The allowance to the headman of a water-course for collecting the water-rates shall be 3 per cent. on the assessments, and shall be paid by the Collector on receipt of the full payment of demand for that crop and not otherwise, unless he can satisfy the Collector that the balance in arrear is so through no negligence of his. The payment to be made within two months of the dates named in the permit.

11. An appeal against retrenchment under Rules 9 and 10 shall lie to the Superintending Canal Officer and Commissioner respectively, if preferred within thirty days of such retrenchment, and the Superintending Canal Officer or Commissioner's decision shall be final.

12. Contracts between the Divisional Canal Officer on the part of Government and private individuals for the use of water as a motive power, or for any other purpose whatsoever not included in the published schedule of rates, shall, if for any period not exceeding one year, require the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

If for longer periods, such contracts shall be submitted for the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor in the Irrigation Department.

13. Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge and without reference to the area irrigated in any village, whenever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependent on any canal, under the following regulations :—

(a)—No tank shall be so filled unless exclusively used for domestic purposes, and for watering cattle; such tanks are generally in the immediate neighbourhood of villages.

(b)—No tank shall be so filled from which irrigation is practised.

(c)—No tank shall be so filled which, intercepting any line of drainage, is liable to overflow from accumulation of water derived from natural causes.

(d)—No tank shall be so filled except on the written order of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, issued on the written applications of the parties concerned. The filling of tanks can only be permitted at such times and to such extent as the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer approves.

(e)—No tank shall be so filled unless the water-course used to fill it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

(f)—The privilege herein accorded may be suspended for twelve months for breach of these regulations by written order of the Divisional Canal Officer, subject, however, to revision by the Superintending Engineer, whose decision shall be final.

14. The Divisional Canal Officer may, by written order under section 76 (a) (ii), stop the supply to any water-course when he has satisfied himself by personal inspection (by himself or one of his assistants) that the water-course is not maintained in proper repair. Immediate report of any such closure shall be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, and the special ground for stoppage explained.

15. The Divisional Canal Officer may, under section 76 (a) (iii), regulate the distribution of the available water in proportion to the average area irrigated from the several outlets, or in proportion to the quantities of water contracted for, and may close the outlets in rotation as shall be necessary.

Such periodical closures shall not extend beyond ten consecutive days, and shall be notified to the headman of water-courses. For longer closures the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer is required.

Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to affect the power of the Superintending or any Divisional Officer to stop any supply of water in case of pressing emergency.

16. The water-gauges on distributaries or other channels shall be held to give authoritative data for all calculations of discharge required to verify claims for remission of water-rate on account of loss of water.

17. Claims to remission, under section 76 (b) of ordinary charges payable for use of canal water shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the charges. All applications for remission of water-rates shall be made by the parties concerned in person, or through their headman, to the nearest Sub-Divisional Canal Officer at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop, and the Sub-Divisional Officer shall thereupon inspect the applicant's fields, and forward his application for decision to the Divisional Canal Officer with his remarks.

18. Before awarding compensation under section 76 (c), the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, and such opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings. Under this rule an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the division, whose order shall be final.

19. Under section 78 of the Act the rates chargeable per acre on the different descriptions of crops are fixed for three years, viz. from 1st June 1876 to the 1st June 1879, and are as follows :—

1 Beegha ... ... = 27225·00 " "
1 Acre ... ... = 43560·00 " ".

20. Up to 1st June 1879 leases for three years may be granted at the following rates provided that the area leased in any village shall not be less than the whole irrigable area in the case of khureef cultivation or half the irrigable area in that of the rubbee cultivation. In the latter case the area must be as far as possible in one block. In certain cases it may, at the discretion of the Superintending Engineer, be comprised in two or at most three blocks.

Schedule of Rates.

	Per acre.	Per beegha.	Per cottah.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Rubbee, including bhadaee	2 4 0	1 6 6	0 1 2
Khureef	1 8 0	0 15 0	0 0 9

21. Three-year leases will not be granted for sugarcane.

22. By irrigable area is to be understood as a general rule the extent of land for which water can be supplied at the rate of 80 acres in khureef and 180 acres in rubbee per cubic foot of available supply.

23. Leases for three years at the reduced rates may be given (1) on the application of all the cultivators of a village, on condition of their agreeing in such application to become jointly and severally responsible for the payment of all amounts due on account of water-rates; or (2) on the joint application of the cultivators and of some person hereinafter called the contractor, who may agree to collect and pay to Government under section 82 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876 all sums which may be due under the application on account of water-rates. The application of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally will be in the form prescribed in appendix C. The joint application of villagers and a water-rate contractor shall be in the form prescribed in appendix D. Every application under this rule must be signed by each applicant in the presence of at least one respectable witness.

24. A contractor or contractors shall be entitled to collect water dues at the rates given in the schedule attached to rule 20 from the cultivators who have applied for the water supplied. Every due from a cultivator to a contractor on account of water rates shall be deemed a sum due to Government under sections 82 and 85 of Act III of 1876.

25. A contractor (or, in case there be more than one, each severally and jointly) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the application (appendix D), and shall be entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. for cost of collection.

26. When the lease under these rules is for the supply of water to khureef crops or to all irrigable rubbee in the village, a list in form E should be submitted with the application showing the number of each field in the map, the area of the field, crop to be grown, and amount payable; and this should be signed by each cultivator. Water will be supplied in accordance with this list during the period of the lease. Similar lists must be submitted each year before water is supplied to rubbee lands when the area leased is less than the whole area of irrigable rubbee land in the village. In such cases the fields receiving water may vary from year to year, but the total area to be watered can never be less than the area stated in the application for the three years' lease.

27. No water shall be taken previous to receipt of a permit (appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a contractor or contractors the Divisional Canal Officer shall furnish such contractor or contractors with an authorization under section 82 to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to the list furnished under rule 26, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every contractor shall nominate a headman to be approved by the Canal Officer to perform the duties specified in rule 9. Such headman shall receive 5 per cent. on the assessment, but the Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. If only a portion of a field be irrigated the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

30. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exists between the two portions. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

31. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

32. Irrigation from natural or artificial escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

33. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

34. Persons irrigating lands from a canal without a written permit for water for such lands, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be chargeable with double water-rates on the area irrigated, in addition to such penalties as may be imposed under sections 93 and 94 of the Act.

35. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, viz. five rupees per acre on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower charge if he thinks fit. The headman to be held responsible for the payment of such rates as may be imposed, leaving it to him to realize the same from those to blame.

36. If mixed crops be grown in the same field, the water-rate shall be calculated on the highest rated crop.

37. When the original crop sown in a canal irrigated field fails and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates leviable shall be due on the second crop.

38. When a field is irrigated which has not been prepared by division into compartments, and by the addition of small water-channels as prescribed in rule 5, an additional charge may be imposed equal to half the amount of water-rate leviable on the field. In each case the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Officer must certify that he personally examined the field, and that it was not properly prepared for irrigation according to the terms of the rule.

39. The amounts demandable for water-rate shall be determined and apportioned by the Divisional Canal Officer.

40. All water-rates shall become due on the dates noted on the "permits," viz. the dates on which the crops ordinarily come to maturity, and are as follows:—

Water-rate on spring crops,—wheat, barley, peas, poppy, &c.,—shall become due on 15th April.

Water-rate on summer crops,—cheena, &c.,—shall become due on 15th August.

Water-rate on bhadoi crops,—seera rice, Indian-corn, murwa, &c.,—shall become due on 30th November.

Water-rate on annual and winter crops,—aghani rice, joaur, &c.,—on 31st January and shall be paid within one month of such dates.

41. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

42. Collection of all water-rates will be made by the Collector strictly in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer, in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

Circular Order issued by Authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CRIMINAL.

No. 10, dated the 3rd September 1878.

In March 1875,* the High Court, at the instance of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, called the attention of District Magistrates to the instructions contained in Circular Order No. 5, dated 5th July 1865, with a view to a strict observance of those instructions.

* Circular memorandum No. 1, dated 1st March 1875.

2. It is to be feared that the register of criminals convicted of heinous offences has, nevertheless, not been duly kept up in all districts, and His Honor has again moved the Court to take action in the matter, and has at the same time approved of a proposal made by the Inspector-General of Police to make Court Sub-Inspectors primarily responsible for keeping the registers of convicts regularly written up.

3. The High Court desires again to impress upon all district and sub-divisional Magistrates the importance of this register, and the necessity of keeping it always written up to date; and, in order that the matter may not be overlooked, directs that a certificate in the form subjoined shall be annexed to the quarterly Statement D, to be signed by the Magistrate of the district, except when he is on tour, when it may be signed by the officer for the time being in charge of the Head-Quarters' Office. As it is desirable to keep this register in as compact a form as possible, and to save the trouble of re-copying, all registers should be written in printed forms of uniform size, so that the sub-divisional returns may be added to the Magistrate's register as they come in. The general register should be paged and stitched as a book at the close of the year when the annual alphabetical index is made, and at the end of five years the registers for the previous five years with the general index should be bound together, the whole being re-paged.

FORM OF CERTIFICATE.

I certify that I have inspected the register of criminals convicted of heinous offences prescribed by Circular Order No. 5, dated 5th July 1865, and that it has been duly written up, and that the returns from sub-divisional offices for the three months of the quarter of 18 have been received and incorporated.

Magistrate of the District.

The list shall then be made and printed in the form given below :"—

In Rule 13, the words "including the cost of the list prepared under Rule 1," shall be omitted.

In Rule 14, after the words "or added thereto by the orders of the Court," insert "or in the case of the Appellant of the list prepared under Rule 1."

In Rule 15, after the words "or to make the necessary deposit," read "under Rules 1, 13 and 14" instead of under Rules 13 and 14.

RESOLUTION.—Under the "Indian Coinage Act, 1870," silver coins of British India, which have been clipped, or filed, or defaced, or diminished otherwise than by use, are declared not to be legal tender.

2. The same Act provides that certain authorities may cut or break silver coins tendered to them, which have been reduced in weight otherwise than by reasonable wear, returning the pieces to the person tendering the coin.

3. The practice of marking, notching, and filing, or otherwise injuring, the coin, being still more or less prevalent in some parts of India, and it being necessary, in order to secure conformity with the provisions of the law, to repress such practises as far as practicable the Government of India is pleased to issue the following orders.

4. In those Provinces in which the Local Government shall be of opinion that the provisions of the law may be strictly enforced without causing undue pressure of the community, the following measures shall be adopted :—

A. The Presidency Banks and their Branches, and all Public Treasuries, shall, with convenient despatch, cause all shroff-marked, notched or otherwise defaced, silver coin in their custody, which has not lost more than two per cent. weight, to be exchanged, at the nearest Currency Office, for notes or legal coin. The Currency Offices will transmit the defaced coin thus received with any similarly defaced coin in the Currency Reserve, to the nearest Mint, to be exchanged for legal coin. No shroff-marked, notched, or otherwise defaced, silver coin, shall henceforth be issued from any Public Treasury.

B. The Mint will receive, at their nominal value, all such coins, and bear the expense of their re-coinage.

C. After a reasonable delay, to be determined by the Local Government, and to be notified for general information, no such defaced coin shall be received in payment of Government demands.

D. The officers authorized so to do under the Indian Coinage Act, should cut, or break, in pieces, any such defaced coin tendered to them, the weight of which shall have been reduced otherwise than by reasonable wear; the broken pieces being returned to the person who tendered the coin.

E. If such defaced coin is not so reduced in weight as to justify its destruction, the officer to whom it is tendered, should offer to accept it, at the rate of one rupee per tolah of its actual weight; and coin so accepted should be exchanged at the nearest Currency Office, as before directed, with a view to its recoinage.

5. In Provinces in which the Local Government shall be of opinion that the foregoing Rules C and D should not be immediately enforced, the following procedure shall apply :—

F. Rules A, B, and E will be carried out as in the other case.

G. Notice should be publicly given in the principal towns and bazars of the Province, that the practice of notching, or marking, or otherwise defacing, the coin, renders it liable to be rejected by every one on tender for payment; and that it is the intention of the Government to refuse such coin in payment of public demands, after a reasonable time has elapsed within which the defaced coin can be exchanged for legal coin: that defaced coin, which has lost weight otherwise than by reasonable wear, if tendered at a Public Treasury, will be liable to be cut or broken: and that the Government will enforce the law on this subject, at some future time which cannot be long delayed.

H. After a reasonable delay, to be determined by the Local Government, and to be notified for general information, no public officer should receive, in payment of Government demands, coins which have been greatly defaced, even though they have not lost so much weight as to cease to be a legal tender on that account.

I. The application of Rule D shall be so far modified that only such coins shall be cut or broken as are notably reduced in weight otherwise than by reasonable wear.

6. The Local Governments will, from time to time, issue such instructions for the guidance of officers, in giving effect to Rules H and I, as they may think suitable to local circumstances, bearing in mind the importance of gradually eradicating the practice of defacing the coin.

7. In those Provinces in which Rules C and D are not enforced, special reports should be prepared yearly, for submission to the Government of India in the Financial Department, as to the condition of the coin in the Public Treasuries, and as to the progress made in suppressing the defacement.

8. The Currency Department should, for the present, report monthly the amount and description of coins received for re-coining, under the operation of this Resolution, with a Statement of the Provinces from which they were received.

ORDERED that this Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information, and distributed for information and guidance as follows:—

(1) To the several Departments of the Government of India.
(2) To the several Local Governments and Administrations.
(3) To the Comptroller-General and to the several Accountants-General and Deputy Accountants-General in independent charge.

PART VI.

Bills of the India Council.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following preliminary Report of a Select Committee, together with the Bill as settled by them, was presented to the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 5th September 1878 :—

1. We, the undersigned Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Stamps and Court-fees was referred, have the honor to report that we have considered the Bill and the papers specified in the annexed list.

2. The Bill as originally introduced was intended to combine in one enactment the law relating to general stamps and that relating to Court-fees, which have been kept separate since the year 1867.

The circumstance that there were a certain number of provisions common to both laws seemed to make this arrangement to some extent a convenient one. But on examination the provisions thus common to both laws are found to be so few, that it seems to the majority of us that, even from the draftsman's point of view, the proposed consolidation would not be an improvement. It is, moreover, the majority would observe, to be borne in mind that the members of the mercantile community and many other persons who have frequently in the course of their daily business to refer to the general stamp-law have scarcely ever any concern with the law of Court-fees, and that to such persons an Act treating of both subjects, together with constant transitions from one to the other, would be extremely confusing and awkward to use.

For these reasons we have deemed it best to adhere to the existing arrangement of the law, and confine the present Bill to the subject of general stamps, leaving the subject of Court-fees to be separately dealt with.

It may be added as a further reason in favour of this course that certain questions relating to Court-fees are not yet ripe for decision, and that it would in all probability lead to an undue delay in the amendment of the general stamp-law if we were to wait till we were in a position to make any definite recommendation regarding them.

3. The portion of the original draft embodied in the present Bill will be found to have been considerably altered both in substance and in form. Many of the amendments made have been suggested in the communications received by us from the various authorities consulted, or have been borrowed from the English Stamp Acts of 1870. The rest (which are chiefly of a formal nature) have been adopted with a view to clearness or simplification.

We proceed to notice the more important of them.

4. The definitions of the following terms, namely:—

"Affidavit,"	"Letter of Credit,"
"Banker,"	"Negotiable Instrument,"
"Bottomry-Bond,"	"Promissory Note,"
"Respondentia-Bond,"	"Property,"
"Counterpart,"	"Protests,"
"Impressed,"	"Stamp,"
"Instrument,"	"Stamp-law,"

have been omitted; of these, "Bottomry-Bond" and "Respondentia-Bond" are covered by the definition of "Mortgage," and "Letter of Credit" by that of "Bill of Exchange." The rest have been omitted as superfluous.

5. The definitions of the following instruments, namely—"Charter-party," "Composition-deed," "Delivery-order," "Warrant for goods" (described in the former Bill and in the existing law as "Dock-warrant") and "Notarial Act," have been transferred to the first schedule, as these instruments are not mentioned elsewhere.

6. The definition of "Bill of lading" has been so drawn as to exclude receipts given for goods received by cargo boats for shipment within the limits of a port.

7. The definition of "Bond" has been enlarged so as to include expressly the ordinary "khátá" or "tamassuk," and also instruments securing the repayment of a loan in kind.

8. The definitions of "Chief Controlling Revenue Authority" and "Collector" have been extended so as to include certain persons to whom the Government may delegate the functions of these authorities under the Act.

9. The term "Conveyance" has been expressly limited to transfers of property (whether movable or immovable) on sale, as it is in the English Stamp Act.

10. "Lease" has been made to include a "pattá;" also a kabúliyat where the latter instrument is not a counterpart of a lease but is the only instrument passing between the parties.

11. The definition of "Mortgage-deed" has been enlarged, so as to include all instruments with the exception of a particular class of documents therein specified, pledging movable property. This change goes to maintain the existing law.

12. The term "Receipt" has for the purposes of the stamp-law been declared to include all acknowledgments of the discharge of a debt, whether by the payment of money, delivery of goods or otherwise, and all acknowledgments of the receipt of money, bills of exchange, promissory notes and cheques, whether in satisfaction of a debt or otherwise; but in connection with this extension of the term, the schedule of exemptions should be referred to

13. "Settlement" has been re defined, so as to exclude dispositions of property for religious or charitable purposes; such dispositions will accordingly be stamped as "Instruments of Gift," which are by the Bill made chargeable as "Conveyances."

14. We have in section 8, at the instance of the Government of India in the Financial Department, made the power to reduce or remit stamp-duties retrospective as well as prospective.

15. In section 11, which corresponds with section 42 of the former Bill, the obligation to cancel an adhesive stamp by writing the name or initials of the person affixing the same across it has been omitted, it being simply provided, in accordance with the existing law, that the stamp shall be cancelled in such manner as effectually to prevent its being used again. The obligation imposed by the Bill as introduced was, it appears to us, unsuited to the very large number of cases in which the person affixing the stamp would be unable to write.

16. The effect of the definition of the term "duly-stamped" when applied to sections 12, 13, 14, and 15, is to invalidate all instruments in respect of which the rules laid down by these sections have been violated; but it will be seen, on reference to sections 35 and 36, that provision is made for validating such instruments on easy terms.

17. Section 7 of the former Bill in regard to the misapplication or wrong use of any particular description of stamps has been omitted as now unnecessary, its object being effected by the definition just referred to taken in conjunction with section 9.

18. In section 18, corresponding with section 9 of the former Bill, the period within which an instrument executed out of British India may be stamped has been extended from one to two months.

19. In section 19 we have, following the English Act, introduced a proviso protecting a person who in good faith takes a foreign bill bearing a proper stamp, though it may afterwards turn out that such stamp was not affixed in accordance with the law.

20. The provision as to the rate of exchange in respect of the Mauritius dollar in section 21 of the former Bill has been omitted from section 20, as it is understood that the rupee has been substituted for the dollar currency in that place.

21. Sections 25 and 26 (corresponding to section 34 (b) and section 12 of Act XVIII of 1869) and section 29 (which is altogether new) have been framed on the lines of the sections of the English Act relating to valuations for duty.

Section 28, which is a generalization of section 34 (a) of Act XVIII of 1869, is similarly taken from the English law.

22. The provisions of chapter 3 (relating to adjudication) have been made expressly applicable to instruments or drafts of instruments brought to the adjudicating officer prior to their execution. It has been a question under the present law whether any person could, before executing an instrument, claim an adjudication as to the amount of duty to which such instrument would be liable, and we think it desirable to enable him to do so.

23. The provision in this chapter empowering the Collector to require an abstract to be furnished to him is taken from the English Act. It is obviously useful as saving the Collector's time when the document is a lengthy one.

24. The obligation to examine all instruments coming before them in the execution of their duty, and the power of impounding such as appear to be not duly stamped, have been extended, by section 34, to all persons having by law or consent of parties authority to receive evidence, in which category are included not only all judicial officers, but persons acting as arbitrators, special commissioners and the like, and to all executive officers having charge of any office, except police-officers. Under one or other of these heads, it is thought, all persons having any public duty to discharge, and whose position and standing are such as to justify their being invested with such powers, will be found to be included It would for obvious reasons be inexpedient to assign such functions to police-officers. Power has been given to the local Governments to declare who for the purposes of this chapter (IV) shall be deemed to "have charge of an office."

25. The penalty leviable by a Civil Court before admitting in evidence an instrument not duly stamped has, by section 35, been increased from four to ten times the deficient amount of duty, and it is provided further that in no case shall the fine levied be less than five rupees; but the Collector is, by section 37, empowered to remit any portion of the amount so levied in excess of the minimum fine of five rupees.

26. By section 38, the Collector is authorized to levy a fine, the amount of which is in no case to be less than five rupees, and which may extend to the amount leviable in the Civil Courts under section 35. The provision of the former Bill in regard to the levy of interest on the unpaid amount of any duty chargeable has been omitted, as likely to cause trouble and inconvenience wholly disproportionate to the advantage to be gained by its retention.

27. The power given to the Collector under the former Bill of prosecuting before a Magistrate any person who might appear to have committed a criminal offence in regard to the stamping of any instrument, irrespective of the levy of deficient duty or penalty in respect of such instrument, has been retained, but subject to the condition that no such prosecution shall be instituted unless the deficient duty and penalty are not paid, or it appears to the Collector that the neglect or omission to use the proper stamp proceeded from an intention to evade payment of the duty.

28. The provision of the former Bill enabling a Collector to recover any deficient amount of stamp-duty or any penalty payable under this chapter as an arrear of revenue, has been omitted.

When the person from whose custody the instrument has come has not been concerned in the execution of it, it seems to us that it would, generally speaking, be unfair to compel him to pay, and when he has been so concerned, the proper course clearly is to prosecute him for the offence he has committed.

29. The third proviso to section 35 is intended to settle an important question, regarding which there is at present a conflict of opinion, namely, the question as to whether an objection for want of stamp can be allowed in appeal when the document has been received in evidence in the Court below. We think it should not be allowed. The advantage gained to the revenue by allowing it seems to us to be more than counterbalanced by the delay and expense which must frequently be caused to suitors when a document forming the basis of the decision in the Court below is rejected on a purely technical ground in appeal. It might no doubt be provided that, on the defect being brought to notice in appeal, the party relying on the document might remedy it by paying in the deficient stamp-duty and penalty in the Appellate Court; but there would frequently be cases in which, being the respondent, he would not be present, or in which, if present, he would not have the money at hand at the moment, or in which again he would find it more to his interest to substitute other evidence for that objected to; and in such cases the result would usually be a postponement or remand. For these reasons we have deemed it best to provide that a document once admitted shall not afterwards be objected to; but for the protection of the revenue, we have in section 51 given power to the Appellate Court, either of its own motion or on the application of the Collector, to take the question of the stamp-duty into consideration; and if it declares that a higher duty or penalty was payable than was actually paid and the deficiency is not then paid, or it appears that there was an intention to evade the stamp-law, the Collector may, notwithstanding the admission of the document in evidence, prosecute for any offence that may have been committed.

We consider such a power necessary, not only in cases in which a lower court has pronounced an erroneous decision on a question of liability to stamp-duty, but still more in the much larger class of cases in which it has overlooked the point altogether.

30. The provisions of section 50, corresponding with section 47 of the former Bill, have been so modified as to confine the references to such Courts as are presided over by not less than three Judges.

31. The provisions allowing a refund in the case of spoiled adhesive stamps and of instruments void for want of registration have been omitted. It would be almost impossible to devise adequate protection against frauds on the revenue if refunds were granted in the case of spoiled adhesive stamps; and it seems expedient to provide for the mitigation of any of the consequences attaching to neglect of the registration law.

32. In modification of the absolute prohibition of the sale of stamps by any person other than a licensed vendor contained in the former Bill, it is now provided (by implication in section 66) that a person who has in good faith purchased a stamp for his own use may, in the event of his not requiring the same, resell it. This change renders unnecessary the retention of the provision of section 80 of the former Bill for the recovery in the way of a refund of the value of a stamp purchased by any person for his own use which he does not require.

33. We have, in the case of a spoilt stamped paper on which no instrument has been executed, made the period within which an application must be made for a refund run from the date of the purchase of such stamp from the stamp-vendor instead of from the time at which it is spoilt. By so doing we get rid of an issue of fact on which much false evidence would be likely to be adduced.

34. In section 57, the obligation of giving a receipt has been confined to cases in which the money paid, or the value of the property delivered, exceeds 20 rupees.

35. A provision equivalent to that of section 51 of the General Stamp Act, 1869, has been introduced in section 58 with the object of giving the utmost possible publicity to the requirements of the stamp-law.

36. The maximum limit of fine for the offence of under-stamping has been raised (section 57) from 200 rupees to 500 rupees; but on the other hand it has been provided when any person from whom any penalty has been recovered under chapter IV is prosecuted and convicted in a Criminal Court, the amount of the penalty so paid is to be allowed as a set-off against, and to be deducted from, the amount of any fine which he may be sentenced to pay under this chapter.

37. In lieu of the provision of the former Bill rendering the parties to an instrument in which the full consideration passing under such instrument is not truly set forth in all cases liable to a fine of five times the amount of the proper duty which would have been payable if the consideration were truly stated, together with a further fine which might amount to 500 rupees, the liability of such persons has been restricted (section 61) to cases in which there appears to have been a fraudulent intention; and a single fine without any minimum limit, but with a maximum limit of 5,000 rupees (the limit fixed in section 35 of the present Act for the similar offence when committed by a person employed professionally in the preparation of the instrument) has been provided. The minimum limit of fine fixed by section 35 of the present Act has likewise been abolished, and all parties concerned in the wilful suppression or misrepresentation as regards the amount of the consideration given for, or the value of, the property to which the instrument relates, whether they are the executants of, or the persons employed in drawing up, such instrument, are made punishable in like degree. The effect of these alterations is to simplify, and probably on the whole to mitigate, the existing law.

38. By section 69 we have made an offence committed in respect of any instrument triable in any place in which such instrument may be found, as well as in any place in which it would be triable under the Criminal Procedure Code.

39. We now proceed to notice the changes we have made in the schedules. To begin with, we have thrown the schedule of ad valorem duties and that of fixed duties into a single schedule arranged in alphabetical order, which we think will be found simpler and easier for reference. We have further made changes both of substance and of form in several of the articles. The Bill as introduced provided for an increase of about 50 per cent. in the duty on bills of exchange and promissory notes payable otherwise than on demand; but it has seemed to the majority of us that, except under circumstances of considerable financial pressure, we should not be warranted in imposing this additional tax upon the commerce of the country, especially at a season of comparative depression like the present. We have accordingly amended the Bill so as to keep the duties on these instruments at their present rates.

40. In connection with the subject of bills of exchange, we may further mention that we have deemed it unnecessary to make any change in the existing law by which the duty payable on bills drawn in sets is distributed over the several parts. We have accordingly omitted the foot-note to the first schedule of the Bill as introduced, and inserted a table like that contained in the existing Act.

41. We have in article 29 expanded article 3 of the first schedule to the Bill as introduced, first by extending it to hypothecations of movable property, and secondly by extending it (with duty equal to that on bills of exchange) to cases when the loan is repayable more than three months, but not more than one year, from the date of the instrument. This, we believe, will afford considerable relief in a very large class of mercantile transactions which would otherwise be chargeable with the mortgage-duty.

42. Policies of insurance have been divided into two classes—(1) marine policies, and (2) all other policies, including life policies. For the first, it is proposed to maintain the rates prescribed by the existing law. In the present days of quick communications marine policies have a very short currency, in most cases not exceeding three months, and the number of policies of this class issued is much greater than formerly. There is consequently, in the opinion of the Committee, no good ground for reverting, as the original Bill would have done, to the higher rates of duty which were charged previous to 1869. As regards life and other kinds of insurances, the case is different, and some increase seems permissible. The rates we propose for them are medium rates, 25 per cent. below the rates laid down in the former Bill, and 50 per cent. in excess of the rates charged on policies of insurance generally under the existing law.

43. The Bill as introduced omitted the minimum rate of two annas to which bonds and other instruments chargeable as bonds involving an amount not exceeding 25 rupees are subject under the present Stamp Act. The effect was to make every bond and other instruments similarly chargeable involving an amount, however small, liable to a duty of four annas. As a compromise between this rate, which in the case of very small transactions would in our opinion be unduly heavy, and the rates prescribed by the existing law, we propose that the two annas rate be continued in respect of bonds and other instruments chargeable at bond-rates where the amount secured by such instrument does not exceed ten rupees.

44. We have provided that the duty on amounts above Rs. 1,000, both in the case of the "Bond" class, and the "Conveyance" class of instruments, shall ascend by steps of Rs. 2-8 and Rs. 5 in lieu of Rs. 5 and Rs. 10, respectively, as provided by the former Bill. The effect of this reduction is to maintain the existing rates of duty on amounts ranging between Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 10,000 in respect of Bonds and Conveyances, and the several instruments similarly chargeable.

45. We have in article 20 inserted words to make it clear that only copies certified by a public officer are chargeable with duty.

46. As important additions to the schedule we desire to mention—

Bought and sold notes (No. 45), and Enrolment of a vakíl under the letters patent of a High Court (No. 25), and among omissions we would direct attention to article 52, by which the duty it was proposed to take on receipts between 10 rupees and 20 rupees has been abandoned.

47. The duty payable on articles of clerkship (No. 8) we propose to reduce from 500 rupees, the amount chargeable under the existing law and under the Bill as introduced, because a new duty of 250 rupees is imposed (by article 26) on enrolment as an Attorney.

48. The entries in the exemption schedule are for the most part transferred from existing enactments or from notifications issued by the Government under the powers conferred by the present Stamp Act; but among those now added we may mention—

(1.) Receipts for payments of money exceeding 20 rupees, when such payment is made without consideration, as e. g., in the case of a subscription to some religious, charitable or public object;

(2.) "Lease, pattá, kabúliyat or other undertaking to cultivate, occupy or pay rent for land granted to or by a cultivator without the payment or delivery of any fine or premium when a definite term is expressed and such term does not exceed one year or when the annual rent reserved does not exceed Rs. 100.

(3.) "Counterpart of any lease granted to a cultivator."

49. We think that such instruments as "Articles of Association," which deal with important interests, may reasonably bear a somewhat higher duty than that to which they have heretofore been subjected; we propose therefore that the amount be raised from fifteen to twenty-five rupees.

50. We desire to acknowledge the valuable criticisms received from the Chambers of Commerce at Madras and Bombay, from Mr. Justice Sewell White and Mr. Justice Plowden, from Mr. C. D. Field, District Judge of Burdwan, from Mr. Jacob, Registrar of the Judicial Commissioner's Court, Central Provinces, from the Committee appointed by the Panjáb Government, and from Bábu Upendra Náth Mitra, Government Pleader, Dacca.

51. The publication ordered by the Council has been made; but the Bill has been so considerably altered by us that we are of opinion that it should be re-published.

* WITH all deference to the opinion of the other Members of the Select Committee, I beg to observe that I fail to see the reason why settlements made for religious and charitable purposes should not come under the same head as family settlements. Considering the laudable objects for which the former are intended, they ought not, in my opinion, to be charged with a higher rate of stamp-duty than the latter.

With regard to article 50, clause (c), Schedule I (Power of Attorney), though in its present form it meets my objection respecting joint execution, I still take exception to it for this reason: when I took objection to this clause I did not mean that different attorneys for different objects should be constituted by one instrument. What I meant to say was that provision should be made to enable a person or persons to execute a power in favour of one or more persons to "act in more than one transaction or generally," such power to act being exercised simultaneously or concurrently by the persons named in the instrument. I have already stated my reasons for this proposed modification in my former note, and I need not repeat them here.

With these remarks I subscribe the report.

JOTINDRA MOHAN TAGORE.

† I AGREE with this report, except as to article 46 of Schedule I, which I think must be further altered or struck out altogether.

‡ ON consideration, I agree with Mr. Evans. The clause as it stands would apply to the statement of the balance in a banker's pass-book not signed by the constituent.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 5th September 1878:—

No. 6 of 1878.

A Bill to amend Act No. IX of 1878 (for the better control of Publications in Oriental languages).

Preamble.

WHEREAS by Act No. IX of 1878 (for the better control of Publications in Oriental languages), section five, it is enacted that when any publisher or printer is called upon by a Magistrate or Commissioner of Police to execute a bond under that Act in respect of any newspaper, the publisher of such newspaper may deliver to such Magistrate or Commissioner an undertaking in writing to the effect that no words, signs or visible representations shall, during the year next following the date of such undertaking, be printed or published in such newspaper which have not previously been submitted to such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf, by name or in virtue of his office, or which on being so submitted have been objected to by such officer, and that when such undertaking has been so delivered, no such bond and no such deposit as is mentioned in section four of the said Act shall be required from the publisher or printer of such newspaper during the said year;

And whereas by the last paragraph of section eight of the same Act it is provided that the publisher of any newspaper may, on the publication of a notice in respect thereof under section six of the said Act, and before anything has become liable to forfeiture under the said section eight in respect of such newspaper, deliver to the Magistrate of the district, or to the Commissioner of Police in a Presidency-town, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such newspaper is published, an undertaking as aforesaid, and, if such Magistrate or Commissioner accepts such undertaking, nothing shall become liable to forfeiture as aforesaid between the date on which such undertaking is so accepted and the end of the period for which it is given;

And whereas by the same Act, section eighteen, it is enacted that when any publisher of a newspaper has given any undertaking as aforesaid, and during the period for which such undertaking is given, any words, signs or visible representations which have not been submitted to the officer appointed as aforesaid, or which on being so submitted have been objected to by him, are printed or published in such newspaper, such publisher and the printer of such newspaper shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine, or with both;

And whereas it is expedient to repeal the enactments and proviso hereinbefore recited and the reference in section three of the said Act to the said section five; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. The following portions of the said Act are repealed (that is to say): sections five and eighteen, the last paragraph of section eight, and in section three, the words "and subject to the provisions of section five."

Repeal of Act IX of 1878, sections 5 and 18, and parts of sections 3 and 8.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IN his despatch dated the 31st May 1878, the Secretary of State in Council conveyed the sanction of Her Majesty's Government to the Vernacular Press Act. But with reference to the provisions of the Act under which a publisher may undertake to submit a proof of his newspaper to the Local Government before publishing the same, he requested that the Governor-General in Council would refrain from putting this part of the Act into operation, taking power by fresh legislation to suspend or abandon it if this was deemed necessary. After a careful consideration of the frame of the Act, fresh legislation has been deemed necessary to carry out the wishes of Her Majesty's Government, and accordingly the present Bill has been prepared, by which the enactments relating to the provisions noticed by the Secretary of State's despatch are repealed.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE CHOTA NAGPORE DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 15th August 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Report of the Chota Nagpore Division for 1877-78.

Mr. V. T. Taylor, who was Commissioner during the year, died on the 9th March 1878 from fever contracted while on tour in the Tributary States. Mr. A. C. Mangles took charge of the division only three days before the close of the year, and his report is therefore little more than a compilation of the reports of the district officers.

2. Cold weather tours.—The Deputy Commissioners of Manbhoom, Hazareebagh, and Lohardugga were on tour during the greater part of the cold weather, and they appear to have done much useful work while they were camping out in their districts. The Deputy Commissioner of Singbhoom did not pay sufficient attention to this important duty. The tour of the sub-divisional officer of Pachumba, Mr. Bedford, extended over four months; but none of the three officers who were in charge of the Palamow sub-division during the year went on tour, as the late Commissioner objected to their making over the treasury to the Sub-Deputy Collector. The work that a sub-divisional officer can perform while on tour is so important and useful, that the Lieutenant-Governor must insist that he shall not be forced to remain at his head-quarters throughout the year, merely because there is no other officer at the sub-division fit to take charge of the treasury. At a sub-division like Palamow the treasury might very well be closed for several days together without the public being put to serious inconvenience. The sub-divisional officer should therefore, if necessary, close the treasury while on tour, making a flying visit to his head-quarters once in every week or ten days. As a rule, however, a Sub-Deputy Collector, posted to a sub-division, should be competent to take charge of the treasury during the absence of the sub-divisional officer.

3. Weather and Crops.—There was a great deficiency in the rainfall of the division compared with that of the previous year. The following table shows the rainfall of the two years :—

	1876-77.	1877-78.
Manbhoom	69·27	61·29
Singbhoom	70·35	60·51
Hazareebagh	58·78	40·58
Lohardugga	67·64	53·83

The fall in Hazareebagh was 12 inches below the average yearly rainfall of the division. The distribution of the rainfall during the year was unfavourable to cultivation. In each district the rains began unusually early, and ceased almost a month too soon. In Singbhoom, Hazareebagh, and Lohardugga the result was a partial failure of the winter rice crop; while in Manbhoom the cultivators mistook the breaking of the rains for a preliminary burst, which would be succeeded by a period of hot weather, and abstained at first from sowing their high land rice. In consequence of this delay, when the rains ceased, much of the crop had not come to maturity and withered away. In Hazareebagh, but for the success of the bhadoi crop on which the poorer classes of that district mainly depend, there would probably have been much distress, as the outturn of the dhan and mohwa is estimated to have been only half that of an average crop, while the rubbee was even a greater failure. In the Lohardugga district, the sub-division of Palamow suffered very severely: not only was the rainfall insufficient, but much damage was caused by heavy frosts to the rahur and other cold-weather crops. The mohwa crop also, which promised to be a very good one, was damaged by hail. The rice crop of Lohardugga was, however, far in excess of the wants of the district, and the high prices noticed hereafter were the result of exportation.

4. Public health.—The general health of the division was very good throughout the year. There were a few sporadic cases of cholera and small-pox, but none of the districts suffered from any epidemic.

5. Material condition of the people.—All the district officers, except the Deputy Commissioner of Lohardugga, speak somewhat unfavourably of the material condition of the people, considering that the high prices, and the partial failure of the crops, must, even if they caused no deterioration, have at least prevented any improvement during the past year. The Commissioner, however, appears to have formed a very decided opinion that the people are better off than is generally supposed, and there are certainly circumstances to be taken into consideration in estimating their position to which sufficient attention does not in all cases seem to have been paid. The rents paid by the agricultural classes are extremely low, while the high prices of the last two or three years, mainly due to the great demand for grain for export, must have materially benefitted them, and cannot have injured any who were sufficiently provident to retain enough grain for home consumption: at the same time, the opening out of tea gardens has added considerably to the local demand for labour, and the foreign demand from the labour districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet has steadily increased. In Manbhoom, moreover, the people have the railway and the Raneegunge mines very close at hand, where doubtless many of them find steady employment. It is possible, however, that the growing emigration of the non-agricultural labouring classes indicates the pressure upon them of high prices and bad seasons; but it is even more probable that, as knowledge of the advantages of emigration increases, numbers who were content hitherto to pass their days as kamias or bond-slaves, are learning to seek an independent livelihood outside the province.

6. Emigration.—There was no emigration during the year, but an enormous increase in the number of emigrants to the labour districts, as will be seen from the following figures showing the number of emigrants registered in each district in each of the past three years:—

	1875-76.	1876-77.	1877-78.
Manbhoom	3,022	3,437	7,014
Singbhoom	186	142	324
Hazareebagh	1,969	2,213	6,952
Lohardugga	3,922	3,960	5,921
Total ...	9,099	9,752	20,211

It is not clear from the report whether the figures given this year for Hazareebagh do not include dependents; but in any case the number of coolies registered in 1877-78 was nearly, if not quite, double the number of the previous year. 8,239 dependents accompanied the thirteen thousand emigrants registered in Manbhoom and Lohardugga. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the provisions of the law for recruiting have been more carefully observed by the registering officers, and that when abuses have occurred the recruiters concerned have been prosecuted and convicted. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely agrees with the Commissioner as to the desirability of breaking up the kamiati or bond-slave system, and the benefit that emigration is now conferring in this direction, on both the districts of Hazareebagh and Lohardugga, can scarcely be over-estimated.

The Commissioner draws attention to a westward movement of the aboriginal tribes of Lohardugga into the territories of the tributary Chiefs. It is said to be extensive and to be due to high prices, rising rents, and the facility of acquiring lands in the wilder tracts at merely nominal rentals. The Commissioner thinks that it is indicative also of general recession of the aborigines before the march of civilization. The subject is deserving of more close and careful enquiry, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires to have an early report in regard to it after special local enquiry.

7. Prices of food and labour.—In no part of the division, except Palamow, does there appear to have been any rise in money wages to compensate for the dearness of food; but a large proportion of the agricultural laborers receive their hire in grain, and are therefore little affected by its price.

The following figures show the price of rice in the past two years:—

	Highest price (seers per rupee).		Lowest price (seers per rupee).		Average (seers per rupee).
	1876-77.	1877-78.	1876-77.	1877-78.	1876-77.	1877-78.
					S. c.	S. c.
Manbhoom	22	17	34	29	26 10	20 14
Singbhoom	38	22	48	40	39 8	31 0
Hazareebagh	18	13	26¾	20	21 8	16 0
Lohardugga	26	16½	32	34	29 0	24 0

In the Palamow sub-division prices were far higher than in the Sudder station of the district. Common rice was being sold at Palamow in March for 12⅓ seers per rupee, and Indian-corn was selling at 17½ seers per rupee, the price in the previous August having been a rupee for 81 seers.

8. Manufactures and Mines.—There are no manufactures of any importance in Chota Nagpore. Coarse cloth and brass and earthenware utensils and agricultural implements are made for local use, and there is a small export of tusser silk from Manbhoom. There are several lac factories in Manbhoom, the palas and kusum trees, both of which yield lac in large quantities, being very abundant in the district. The industry is, however, as noticed in last year's Resolution, a declining one, and the large lac factory at Dorundah in Lohardugga has this year been forced to suspend operations. Coal is found in each of the districts of the division, but the mines of Singbhoom and Lohardugga were not worked during the year. There are seven coal mines in the Pachumba sub-division of Hazareebagh, but in only four were operations carried on, and of these by far the most important is the Kurhurbari mine leased by the East Indian Railway Company from Government. The average number of men employed in this mine during the year was 4,500, and the yield of the year was 308,386 tons. The shafts are for the most part shallow, and entirely free from fire damp, and bare torches are used by the miners at their work. The coal mines of Manbhoom should have been more fully noticed in the report. The fields of Raneegunge extend some few miles west of the Burrakur river, but no information is furnished in the report as to whether these mines were worked during the past year. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that in the year 1876-77 several pits were being worked within the Govindpore sub-division. Mica appears to have worked at a profit in the Hazareebagh district, but no successful attempt has been made in recent years to work the copper mines of Singbhoom and Hazareebagh.

It is interesting to note that in Palamow the local sugar manufacturers are using extensively the hand-mills patented by Messrs. Thomson and Milne of Behar, and that this industry shows signs of a rapid increase.

The report altogether omits to notice the tea industry of Hazareebagh. This cultivation appears to have been lately much extended in the Lohardugga district. The last two seasons have suited the tea planters exactly, the older concerns have shown good returns, and ten new gardens have been recently opened out. The condition of this enterprise in both the districts of Hazareebagh and Lohardugga should be noticed at length in future reports.

9. Trade and Commerce.—Notwithstanding the partial failure of the rice crop, there was a considerable export of rice to districts where higher prices prevailed. Oil-seeds were also exported in large quantities. The Deputy Commissioners of Manbhoom and Singbhoom report that a trade has sprung up in the fruit of the haritaki, a species of Terminalia. A considerable profit must, it would appear, be made by the export of the fruit of this jungle tree, as it can be purchased at Chyebassa for six annas a maund, while at Midnapore it sells at two rupees per maund. The fairs periodically held in the Manbhoom district have for many years been declining in importance, and they have now been almost entirely replaced by permanent markets. The trade of this division is not likely to develope as it ought, until its communications are materially improved.

10. State of public feeling, &c.—Among the primitive people of this division, there is nothing that can be termed 'public opinion,' no press, and no readers of periodical literature. There have been no administrative changes of importance, and the only statistical enquiries related to births and deaths, the ratios of which were perhaps not more inaccurate and fictitious than they are elsewhere.

11. Police and Crime.—The subjects of police, crime, and civil justice appear to have been very meagrely treated by the district officers. In Manbhoom serious offences showed a decrease, but lurking house-trespass and theft had increased. The causes of this increase are not satisfactorily explained. There can have been no special deterioration in the character of the chowkidars during the year, and if the police did their duty, the really bad characters would be very soon convicted of specific offences. In Singbhoom there was a general decrease of crime, attributable apparently to the excellent working of the district system of village and ghatwali police. The ghatwals are especially described as a most useful body, clean and well fed and very different indeed to what they used to be. Some account of the causes of this marked improvement would have been interesting and useful. In Hazareebagh there was a serious increase in offences against property, especially in dacoity or highway robbery. This is a great reproach to the district administration, and a falling back to a state of things for which Hazareebagh was once only too notorious. It is, however, to be hoped that the reorganization of the road patrols, and the increased control over the rural police given to the local authorities by the Act recently passed in the Bengal Council, will lead to improvement in this respect. In Lohardugga also there is an increase in petty crime reported, which the Deputy Commissioner seeks to explain away by terming it 'only nominal, and due to greater vigilance on the part of the police.' With the Commissioner, the Lieutenant-Governor must hesitate to accept that theory. In future reports the district officers must endeavour to give some detailed and intelligent account of the amount and character of the civil litigation of their districts. This is a matter of peculiar interest in a province like Chota Nagpore, and should be specially easy to treat where the district officers are themselves the principal civil courts. The few facts noted in the present report are entirely without general interest or value.

12. Land and Land Revenue Administration.—The only district in which any difficulty appears to be experienced in the realization of the Government revenue is Hazareebagh. Colonel Boddam complains of the want of a law for enforcing punctual payment, but it is not clear why this difficulty should be felt in Hazareebagh more than in the other districts of the division. The subject is, however, deserving of attention, especially as the present procedure is said to involve much harassment to under-tenants and ryots. The Board of Revenue will be requested to report specially on the system now in force in Chota Nagpore, and to make any suggestions necessary for its amendment. There was a great falling off in the number of rent suits in Manbhoom, and this the Deputy Commissioner explains to be due to the distance by which the landlords and tenants in the south of the district are separated from the nearest court. The Lieutenant-Governor has already recommended to the Government of India that the thanas of Raipore and Soopore be transferred to the district of Bankoora—a measure which will do much to mitigate this inconvenience. Great dissatisfaction formerly prevailed at the delay in the execution of decrees in rent cases in Manbhoom, but from the Commissioner's report, it would seem that during the past year there was a very marked improvement in this respect.

13. Excise.—There was an increase of excise revenue in all the districts, except Singbhoom, where there was a decrease of Rs. 827, chiefly under the head of country spirits. This falling off is attributed to the partial failure of the mohwa crop; but it may be inferred, from the great falling off in excise cases, that the district administration has been lax, which would more than account for all deficiencies. The increase in Manbhoom and Lohardugga amounted to Rs. 5,823. Out of the seven distilleries in Manbhoom at the beginning of the year, four were abolished during the year, and the other three since its close. At the same time the number of out-stills has been reduced from 284, the average of the previous five years, to 194. In the Resolution on the report for last year, the Lieutenant-Governor expressed a wish that some enquiry should be made as to whether the aboriginal tribes are addicted to excessive drinking at festivals and village gatherings. The matter has been separately reported upon by the Commissioner, and it appears that the Mundas and Oraons in Lohardugga, the Hos in Singbhoom, and other kindred tribes are addicted to excessive drinking at festivals. The liquor consumed is, however, 'handya' or rice-beer, which is far more wholesome and nutritious than spirits. The decreased consumption of ganja in Lohardugga is a decidedly good thing.

14. Money Orders and Treasury.—The transactions in inland money orders in the four districts of the division during the last two years are shown in the following table:—

District.	Issues.				Payments.
	Orders.		Amount.		Orders.		Amount.
	1876-77.	1877-78.	1876-77.	1877-78.	1876-77.	1877-78.	1876-77.	1877-78.
			Rs.	Rs.			Rs.	Rs.
nbhoom	227	270	9,570	8,922	145	136	10,216	7,304
gbhoom	265	Not given.	10,905	9,699	49	Not given.	4,062	2,916
zareebagh	503	ditto.	14,816	21,025	215	ditto.	11,723	8,970
ardugga	884	778	37,915	22,873	167	193	8,419	12,564
Total ...	.....	.....	73,206	62,519	.....	.....	34,450	31,754

The increased issues from Hazareebagh are said to be due to remittances made by the subordinates of the survey parties: the increased payments in Lohardugga are not accounted for. With these two exceptions, there was a decrease in issues and in payments in each of the districts of the division, attributed in some instances to the increased use of currency notes for purposes of remission. Complaints are general that the supply of notes is inadequate to meet the demand on this account. There appears to have been an extraordinary demand for copper coin in Lohardugga district. Rupees 56,998 worth of copper coin was received into the treasury during the year, and yet the supply was inadequate to the demand, said to have been caused by the opening of the ten new tea gardens mentioned above.

15. Savings Banks.—There was an increase in the number of depositors, and in the amount deposited in the savings bank of each of the districts of Manbhoom, Singbhoom, and Hazareebagh. The statistics for Lohardugga are not given. The savings banks are only, as a rule, used by Government servants. . .

16. Irrigation.—There are no great works in the division, though petty reservoirs are common, and would, if multiplied, do much to secure the crops in bad seasons. The Deputy Commissioner should use his influence with the zemindars and others to induce them to undertake such works where feasible. It would seem that even the ryots are at times ready to combine for such purposes, and an account is given in the report of how the cultivators of the Bagmoondi Estate contemplate a local irrigation scheme of some considerable magnitude, which the district engineer considers perfectly feasible. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that the Deputy Commissioner proposes to assist the ryots to come to terms with their landlord before they undertake this work. He will be glad to hear of the success of the undertaking.

17. Roads.—The provincial, local, village, and station roads in Hazareebagh are all reported to be in good order, and the Manbhoom District Committee appear to be persevering in their efforts to improve the six main roads of that district. The funds at present assigned to Singbhoom are certainly not sufficient to keep 540 miles of road in repair, and the Deputy Commissioner apparently wishes that the Road Cess Act should be extended to his district, or at least to the permanently settled pergunnah of Ghatsila, and that the Government grant should be increased. Any proposals that the Commissioner may have to make on the subject should be submitted separately. The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to do something more, if possible, to improve the communications of this division generally. Good roads are, in a country like Chota Nagpore, the best civilising agency that Government can employ, and the local grants from provincial funds might very well be increased. The two principal roads of Lohardugga, the importance of which was noticed in the last year's Resolution, are said to be still in very bad condition. These roads are not under the District Committee and are kept in repair from provincial funds. The attention of the Public Works Department will be invited to the matter. It is of the utmost importance to the district that they should be properly maintained.

18. Education.—The prospects of education in Manbhoom are better than in the other districts of the division, and the system of payment by results introduced in 1876 has been so successful that the Deputy Commissioner of Singbhoom proposes also to adopt it. The number of unaided schools in Lohardugga is reported to have increased during the year from 65 to 157, but the cause of the increase is not given. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot but think that some of the 92 schools recently entered in the returns must have existed before the beginning of the year, though their existence may not have been known to the Deputy Commissioner or the educational officers. It is satisfactory to find that the want of proper gurus for the pathsalas—a want which has hitherto prevented the progress of education among the aboriginal tribes—is being gradually supplied by the normal and mission schools. In each of the districts, except Singbhoom, there was during the year an increase in the number of children attending schools under Government inspection.

19. Vaccination.—The only district in which vaccination is reported to have progressed during the year is Singbhoom, where 11,146 operations were performed, against 7,587 in the previous year. The successful cases were 10,226, against 6,456 in 1876-77. Two hundred and sixty-eight operations were performed at the dispensary, and all the rest in the interior of the district by 15 vaccinators, of whom 10 were ex-inoculators. For the last two years the results in Singbhoom have been most satisfactory. In both Manbhoom and Lohardugga there was a great falling off as compared with the previous year, and the Lieutenant-Governor does not consider that the Deputy Commissioner of Manbhoom is correct in ascribing the decrease in the number of operations to the extension of the circle system of vaccination to his district, and the appointment of a Deputy Superintendent of Vaccination to supervise the work instead of the Civil Surgeon. The circle system was also extended to Singbhoom, and there the number of operations has largely increased, although that Deputy Commissioner also disapproves of the change. It is, however, too soon now to judge by results, the extension of the circle system to Manbhoom and Singbhoom having been ordered only last December. In the Hazareebagh district the subject of vaccination appears for the last two years to have been much neglected. The attention of the Medical Department will be invited to paragraphs 123 to 126 of the Commissioner's report.

20. Conduct of Zemindars.—Most of the zemindars in Chota Nagpore are so deeply involved in debt that they are unable to incur any expense for the benefit of their districts, or even to assist their own ryots when in distress. There are, however, some few exceptions to this, and Government has on more than one occasion acknowledged the liberality of Maharanee Higan Kumari of Pandra. Natabor Sing Chowdry of Simlapal, Hurgobind Sing Chowdry of Bheliadiha and Rasbehary Lal Sing of Jerriah are also spoken well of by the Deputy Commissioner of Manbhoom. The acknowledgments of Government are due to the Tekait of Kurhurbari and the Rajah of Sreerampore for the great interest they have taken in the cause of education in Hazareebagh. The Palgunj Rajah also deserves notice for his considerate treatment of his Sonthal ryots when combined under bad advice to withhold their rents.

21. Encumbered Estates.—There were at the close of the year 173 attached estates under management by the district officers on account of the debts of the proprietors. The Encumbered Estates' Act VI of 1876 is now being brought into operation. Rules framed under the Act were sanctioned by the Government of India in September 1877, and the Lieutenant-Governor has ruled that, as a general principle, no estate should be protected of which the clearance from debt cannot reasonably be expected within 25 years. The Commissioner has been called on to submit a list of estates to be brought under the Act, and as soon as the list is approved, the duties of the Political Department with reference to the protection of the estates of debtors from sale in execution of decrees will cease. The Lieutenant-Governor has already issued orders for stopping the very expensive and unnecessary cadastral survey of the Chota Nagpore minor's estate. All the survey that the estate requires can be done by a much smaller party, and on a much less costly scale than was originally proposed.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE BHAGULPORE DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 14th September 1878.

READ—

The General Report of the Bhagulpore Division for the year 1877-78.

The report is submitted by Mr. G. N. Barlow, who was in charge of the Bhagulpore Division during the whole of the past year. The delay in submission is explained to be due to the unpunctuality of the district officers in sending their reports to the Commissioner. From Maldah alone of the five districts in the division was the General Administration Report received in proper time, while the Purneah report was not only sent in late, but was so incomplete that the Commissioner was compelled to call for further information, and to defer the preparation of his own report until he had obtained it. The Lieutenant-Governor has observed of late that the standing orders fixing the dates at which reports are due are treated too often with entire disregard, but measures will shortly be taken to enforce punctuality in future.

2. Cold weather tours.—The Commissioner was in camp for nearly three months, but most of his time was occupied with inspection duties at the head-quarters of districts. He was, however, able, for the first time during his incumbency, to make a somewhat extended tour through the Sonthal Pergunnahs, a visit which is said to have afforded as much gratification to the people as to the Commissioner himself. The former were "much impressed with the sense of our greatness," evincing great respect for the Commissioner, 'as the embodiment of Government power,' while the latter was unexpectedly pleased with the place, the people, and his reception.

3. None of the district officers spent sufficient time in the interior of their districts, although they endeavoured by rapid travelling to cover as much ground as possible during the time at their disposal. In the case of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, the Deputy Commissioner commenced his tour very early in the year, and his failure to make a thorough inspection of his district is sufficiently accounted for by the malarious fever which attacked himself and his entire camp. In the other districts of the division, it is stated that the Magistrates were compelled to remain at their head-quarters to attend to current work. This is an excuse which the Lieutenant-Governor is unable to accept. Such work as the Magistrates could not take into camp with them should have been entrusted to the Deputy Collector, or allowed to stand over. For a considerable time the stations of Monghyr, Bhagulpore, and Purneah had no Joint-Magistrate, and this detained the district officers at their head-quarters when they otherwise might have been on tour. The Commissioner complains that during the past year "a disposition has been manifested to leave the districts of his division under-officered." That is not a reflection which Mr. Barlow was warranted in making, knowing, as he does, how the deputation of officers for famine relief in Madras has left this Government helpless to meet the demands for assistance from many districts in which the work is far heavier than it is in any of the districts of the Bhagulpore Division. It is doubtless generally understood that the Government attaches great importance to the duty of district officers making a thorough tour in the cold weather, and that in ordinary years the Lieutenant-Governor will not accept a hurried run through a district as an adequate substitute for this, however many police-stations and other subordinate administrative posts may have been cursorily inspected.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks that the Joint-Magistrates should be sent out into the districts for a portion of the cold season. At present these officers have very little opportunity of learning anything of the districts, or of the habits of the people, until they are called upon to take charge of districts. Some of the sub-divisional officers also appear not to have spent so long a time in camp as they might have done. Mr. Hampton, the sub-divisional officer of Jamoee, was particularly negligent in this respect. Nothing is said of the tours of the sub-divisional officers of Arrareah and Kishengunge. The Commissioner should state whether it is the case that the former officer made no tour at all. The Lieutenant-Governor must insist upon greater attention to this subject. A subordinate officer should be at least four months of the year in the villages of his charge.

5. Rainfall and crops.—Judged by the agricultural results, the season appears to have been a fairly prosperous one. Rain fell at intervals in the early months of the year, and, as usually happens in such cases, the regular rains began rather late, and were not so heavy as usual. In Purneah and the Sonthal Pergunnahs the autumn and spring corps were deficient, but the abundance of the winter crop from which the bulk of the food-supply is derived quite made up for this. In Monghyr, on the other hand, the winter crop was bad, and the spring crop below the average, while the autumn harvest was exceptionally abundant. In Bhagulpore and Maldah the general outturn of all crops was good, owing to the opportune distribution of the rain. The mango crop is said to have been a total failure throughout the division. In Monghyr the poppy and the grain crops were attacked by caterpillars, a source of loss which was first brought to the notice of Government by the officers of the Opium Department. Special enquiry has been made, and the result appears to show that the ravages of these insects were due to the very intermittent character of the rainfall. In ordinary seasons they are drowned by the continuous rain, and nothing has been heard of them during the current year. With regard to the tables of rainfall appended to the report, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that they would be more instructive for purposes of comparison if the rainfall for each month of the year were shown in juxtaposition with the rainfall of the last year, and the average rainfall of as many preceding years as may be on record. This should be done in future.. It should also be stated in a note on how many years observations the average is calculated for each district.

6. Health and material condition of the people.—As is usual in seasons of irregular and intermittent rainfall, the public health suffered considerably during the past year. Cholera appeared in an epidemic form at Jamalpore, where many deaths occurred among the European subordinates of the East Indian Railway, and at the Singhessur fair in the Mudhepoorah sub-division of Bhagulpore. In Rajmehal the disease was confined to batches of emigrants who were passing through on their way to Assam and Cachar, and the creditable exertions of Mr. Henry, the sub-divisional officer, seem to have prevented the disease from spreading to the bazaar. But the most alarming feature of the season was the outbreak of malarious fever in Maldah, which is said to have lasted from the beginning of September to the end of January, to have affected no less than one thousand villages, or nearly two-fifths of the entire district, and to have caused 22,000 deaths. The district officer draws attention to the fact that the increase of fever in Maldah, during the last four years, has coincided with a decrease in the annual inundation, and appears to consider that the fever is due to the deterioration of the drinking-water caused by the change of level. Doubtless the use of bad water may have had something to do with the prevalence of fever, but the causation of such diseases at present is obscure, and the tendency of recent theories is to refer them rather to causes originating in defective drainage than to the use of bad water. Further particulars have been called for by the Commissioner, and the subject should be treated of at length in the report for the current year. If the people would only be induced to raise their houses, or even sleep on platforms, there would, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, be a decided improvement in the public health.

7. As regards the condition of the people, the information furnished is somewhat meagre, and lacks that vivid appreciation of details in the daily life of the people which might be expected from district officers who knew their districts thoroughly. Prices ruled high throughout the year, and the exceptional prosperity of the agricultural classes formed a striking contrast to the pressure felt by artisans, servants, and other persons remunerated by fixed wages. It is satisfactory to find that the agricultural classes are said to have freed themselves extensively from the obligations which they had incurred to the village grain-lenders. The progress effected in the recovery of advances made by Government and by the landholders in 1874 appears to show that this statement is correct. The district officer of Maldah speaks highly of the prosperity of the ryots in his district and cites in support of his opinion the fact that the unlawful assemblie landlords, and not from the disputes between landlords and tenants, which are so common in Eastern Bengal. On the whole, the Commissioner is of opinion that, apart from any particular circumstances which might affect the condition of the people at any particular time, they slowly advance, year by year, in wealth and intelligence, and are happy and contented. One fact is quite certain, that the people are at the present moment able to live without any signs of distress, though the price of rice is what was a few years ago held to be the famine standard of price.

8. Emigration and movements of the people.—The only districts of the division from which emigration regularly takes place are Monghyr and the Sonthal Pergunnahs. During the past year 2,503 emigrants left Monghyr, against 2,056 in 1876-77, while the number of emigrants from the Sonthal Pergunnahs rose from 625 to 1,817. In the case of Monghyr the movement is said to be due partly to the exertions of the late Magistrate, who used his influence strongly to promote emigration, and partly to high rents on the estates of Maharajah Sir Jye Mungul Singh, which drove a number of his tenants to leave the district. The Magistrate also says that "many more left who were not registered." It is not clear whether he means that these went to Assam or the Colonies, or simply left the district and settled elsewhere. In a subsequent paragraph the Commissioner states that, since the behaviour of his subordinates was reported to Sir Jye Mungul Singh, no further complaints have been heard; but it is not stated whether any measures have actually been taken to mitigate the evils complained of, or whether the Maharajah was originally aware of the oppressive action of his subordinates, and of its effect in causing the peasantry to desert their lands. In the Sonthal Pergunnahs the increased emigration seems to have been due to the high prices, which pressed heavily upon the landless low castes who work for wages.

9. Prices of food.—Prices ruled high throughout the year, the average in the case of rice ranging from 13 seers to the rupee in Monghyr to 18 in Purneah, while the average for wheat varied from 11 in the Sonthal Pergunnahs to 17 in Purneah. This latter staple would no doubt have been dearer, but for the block in grain traffic on the East Indian Railway. It is observed that the wages of labour have not risen appreciably, although a tendency in that direction is manifesting itself.

10. Manufactures and trade.—Indigo still maintains its place as the chief manufacturing industry of the division. It is satisfactory to find that the judicious measures taken by Mr. Rees in Maldah resulted in allaying the excitement said to exist at the beginning of the year among the ryots in respect of the sowing of indigo. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that no further disputes will occur, and that the planters will understand that they will best serve their own interests by treating the ryots with consideration.

11. The demand for stone from Monghyr and the Sonthal Pergunnahs is still on the increase, and the recent development of this industry is largely due to the return of the main stream of the Ganges to Rajmehal. In the latter district leases of hills in which it is proposed to form quarries have been taken by the Calcutta Municipality and the East Indian Railway. Slate quarries are worked to a small extent in Monghyr, and talc is found in the hills of the Jamoee sub-division and in the Sonthal Pergunnahs. But at present no one is disposed to invest money in working it, and it is believed that the market is fully supplied from the Mica mines in the north of Hazareebagh. The export of hides from Purneah and of oil-seeds from Deoghur increased largely during the year. It is curious to note, from the facts stated in paragraph 53 of the report, that native cloth merchants in Calcutta are adopting the system of selling on credit by means of travelling agents to consumers in the interior. These agents correspond very closely to the travelling drapers, who in the midland and other districts of England drive a considerable trade, and succeed in selling their goods at very high rates, payable generally by instalments.

12. Public feeling on matters of administration, &c.—Rapid progress was made in the work of land registration during the past year, and the Commissioner states that the measure has now ceased to attract any special attention among the people. The Public Works Cess appears to have taken its place in the recognised system of taxation, and to be paid without complaint—a result which is largely due to the fact that it is collected by machinery to which the people have become accustomed. The license tax was not in force during the year under report, but it is said to be popular with the agriculturist classes, who are well aware of the practical immunity from taxation which the money-lending and grain-dealing classes have long enjoyed. Some slight interest in the Turco-Russian war was shown by some of the educated Mahomedans living in the towns and large villages, who are moreover said to have expressed strong approval of the despatch of troops to Malta; but the Mahomedan community generally displayed no feeling on the subject, and were probably hardly aware that a war was going on at all. The anniversary of the assumption by Her Majesty the Queen of the Imperial title was celebrated in Begooserai by an illumination of the town.

13. At the Commissioner's request the annual report, which is usually submitted on the Sonthal settlement, has been deferred until the operations are completed, and Government is therefore in possesssion of no detailed information on the subject for the past year. It is stated, however, that great progress has been made in the preparation of the jummabundees showing the allotment among individual ryots of the lump sum assessed upon each village by the settlements, and it is particularly satisfactory to find that these jummabundees are already being used, without opposition, as authoritative evidence in deciding rent suits. The Hinduizing improvement among the Sonthals appear to be more of a social than a religious character. Abstinence from particular kinds of food has always been regarded as a badge of caste distinction, and the self-important air which Bhagirath Manjhi's followers are said to assume is thoroughly characteristic of aboriginal races undergoing the process of refinement into Hindus. This movement also accounts for the check which the progress of Christianity is said to have received. On the whole, the political aspects of the movement do not seem to be very marked. It is stated, however, that there is a tendency among the reformed Sonthals to withhold their rents, and the Government officers must continue to watch quietly and unobtrusively the progress of things. At any moment such a movement among a simple and exciteable people like the Sonthals may call for decisive action. The Lieutenant-Governor was glad, however, to learn from Maharajah Gopal Singh that Bhagiruth Manjhi has now settled down to become a quiet and peaceful religious reformer, and entirely avoids all political agitation. The Lieutenant-Governor would wish special enquiry to be made into the truth of the statement that the Hinduized Sonthals, who have abandoned their national drink, rice-beer, have taken to smoking ganja. If this is the case, it is the worst phase in connection with the movement as yet reported. It should also be explained why the new converts call themselves "Kherwars," which is understood to be the name of a wild tribe remotely akin to the Sonthals.

14. The difficulties arising from the encroachment of Hindu mahajuns and others upon Sonthali villages have long been felt and recognized by Government. The subject must be separately and completely dealt with in connection with the settlement of the division.

15. Effect of administrative changes and arrangements.—The measures taken for the repression of drunkenness among the Sonthals seem to have met with a fair measure of success, though the Lieutenant-Governor was compelled to remark that, except in the Rajmehal sub-division, the orders of Government had not received the special attention which should have been given to them by the Sonthal officers. Habitual drunkenness on the part of village headmen will now render them liable to dismissal, and it is hoped that this will have a salutary effect. The Lieutenant-Governor strongly approves of the proposal to limit the Bandhana festival to a stated period, as appears to have been done in Rajmehal. But this innovation should be introduced with some caution, and the concurrence of the leading Sonthals should be secured before any definite orders are issued. With regard to the statement that the administrative staff of the Sonthal Pergunnahs is unable to cope with the work, and that the European officers are thereby debarred from personal contact with the people, the Lieutenant-Governor has had the opportunity of personal conference with the Commissioner, and he will be prepared to consider any definite proposal that may be made for strengthening the ministerial establishments of Pakour and Jamtara, and for assisting the European officers by appointing Sub-Deputy Collectors. The Lieutenant-Governor is not, however, prepared to admit that the excuses given for that want of personal communication with the people are at all justified.

16. In Bhagulpore, Maldah, and Monghyr the Chowkeedaree Act of 1870 is working fairly well. Every effort should be made to support the punchayets in dealing with influential men who are disposed to resist assessment. Some fuller explanation should be given of the alleged failure of the Act in Purneah. Monghyr is the only district in the division where measures are in progress for the revival of the putwaree system. Difficulties have been experienced in securing the nomination of putwarees by the proprietors of joint estates, and it is stated that the coercive provisions of the law will have to be resorted to in order to enforce the filing of regular accounts. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that, when this has been done in one or two cases, the zemindars will recognize the necessity of complying with the rules, and the whole measure will work smoothly.

17. The confusion and intermixture of jurisdictions in Maldah should be separately reported and dealt with.

18. Police and justice.—The returns of crime show a considerable diminution in the number of cases reported, and also in the number considered to be true. The several districts of the division stand thus in order of criminality with reference to population:—

Sonthal Pergunnahs ...	...	...	...	1 in	448
Maldah ...	...	...		1 „	559
Monghyr				1 „	690
Purneah				1 „	899
Bhagulpore ...	...			1 „	1,363

The small proportion of crime in Bhagulpore is attributed by the Magistrate partly to the vigorous measures taken against bad characters during the last few years, and partly to "Major Gordon's system" of dealing with complaints to the police. As regards the treatment of bad characters, the policy which the Government will follow in future has been indicated in the Resolution recorded on the police report for 1877; but the Lieutenant-Governor would wish to know what were the special peculiarities of the system introduced by Major Gordon, and now done away with, which is said to have made the people of Bhagulpore so reluctant to report crime. The results in every 100 cases of cognizable crime stood thus—

	False, and not enquired into.	Successful.	Unsuccessful.
Sonthal Pergunnahs	5	20	75
Purneah	26	19	55
Maldah	21	30	49
Bhagulpore	26	31	43
Monghyr	27	31	42

Here, again, there appears to be some pronounced difference of practice which should be explained. It is not understood why the proportion of cases entered as false and not enquired into should be so much less in the Sonthal Pergunnahs than in the regulation districts. The Commissioner's statement that the Magistrates were not in any way consulted as to the reductions effected in the police during the year is shown by a reference to Mr. Monro's report to be incorrect.

19. In Bhagulpore, Monghyr, and Maldah civil litigation is said to have declined in consequence of the checks on reckless litigation imposed by the new Code of Civil Procedure. A decrease in the number of rent suits in the Sonthal Pergunnahs is clearly due to the introduction of stamps in those parts of the country where the settlement has been completed.

20. Revenue.—The collections of the land revenue demand for the year were on the whole satisfactory. In the Sonthal Pergunnahs the balance of 6·8 per cent. on the current demand is said to be due to the outbreak of cholera at Rajmehal, which frightened away the headmen of the villages of the Damin as they were coming in with their rents. Of the balance of 4·2 per cent. in Monghyr, the larger proportion is said to be due from Government estates under direct management, and it is also observed that, out of Rs. 27,730 entered as the balance of the arrear demand in the division, nearly Rs. 24,000 is due from these Monghyr estates. The Lieutenant-Governor regards this as extremely unsatisfactory, and the Board will be asked to pay special attention to the matter.

21. Affairs connected with the land.—The relations between landlord and tenant were for the most part free from disturbance during the year.

In Monghyr complaints were made of oppression by the subordinates of Sir Jye Mungul Singh, but, as already noticed, there is some ground for hope that the grievance has been redressed at the instance of the Magistrate. In the Mudhepoora sub-division of Bhagulpore the number of cases in which rent was deposited in court by the ryots rose from 1,183 in 1876-77 to 5,516 in the past year. It appears that the high prices which prevailed, and the manifest prosperity of the cultivators, induced the landlords to demand enhanced rents. This was met by a combination among the ryots, large numbers of whom deposited their rents at the old rates, and declined to pay the increase demanded. In Purneah and Maldah no troubles of this kind appear to have occurred, and the prosperity of the tenants in those districts is attributed to the bad climate and other physical disadvantages which operate as checks on agriculture and tend to perpetuate the state of things which was prevalent in Bengal at the beginning of the century, when landlords were competing with one another for tenants instead of tenants struggling for land. Enquiry was made during the year into oppressive dealings alleged to exist on the farmed estates in Monghyr and in the sub-division of Banka in Bhagulpore. In both districts there appears to be some oppression, but it is said to be no more than is inevitable under the farming system. This is scarcely a satisfactory account. The dealings of the farmers with their ryots should be closely watched by the district officers whose influence may be of some avail in checking illegality and injustice.

22. The marked prosperity of the agricultural classes during the past year is well illustrated by the progress that has been made in realizing the advances made in 1874 under the Land Improvement Act. In Maldah the entire balance had already been paid up, and the amount due in the whole division at the close of the year was only Rs. 5,792, most of which is expected to be recovered. In Monghyr Rs. 30,698 were collected out of Rs. 34,541 actually due—a result which does great credit to the exertions of the Collector Mr. Magrath.

23. Excise.—The net excise revenue of the division rose from Rs. 6,59,158 in 1876-77 to Rs. 7,92,459 in the past year, being an increase of 20 per cent. The Commissioner considers this striking increase to be quite exceptional, and argues that it cannot be due to the general prosperity of the agricultural classes during the year; for the labouring class, who are the greatest consumers of intoxicating liquors and drugs, were not in easier circumstances than usual. It is true that the consumption of liquors and drugs by the labouring classes is brought more to the notice of European officers, as they make no secret of their fondness for such articles. But it is a matter of universal experience that a prosperous agricultural year invariably leads to a larger consumption of intoxicants, and the Lieutenant-Governor fears that indulgence of this kind is largely on the increase among respectable Hindus of all classes, though it is only among the lower classes that it ordinarily attracts attention. The substitution of outstills for central distilleries came into force at the close of the year, but has not been extended to the Sonthal Pergunnahs.

24. Stamps and monetary arrangements.—The stamp revenue realised in the division was Rs. 8,65,141, against Rs. 7,72,301 in the preceding year, the increase being chiefly due to the operation of the Land Registration Act and to the stimulus given to litigation by the general prosperity of the people. No prosecutions were instituted during the year for evasions of the stamp law, owing, it is said, to the omission of the civil courts to bring such cases to the notice of the Collector. The attention of the High Court will be invited to the action of the Moonsif of Begooserai, who intimated to the Collector his intention (of reporting him to the Judge for giving him orders) when furnished by the Collector with a copy of the Government circular on the subject.

25. The transactions in currency notes increased largely in consequence of the activity of the grain trade. The demand for pice in Bhagulpore and Monghyr noticed by the Commissioner is curious. The treasury at Bhagulpore was at one time entirely denuded of copper coin, and pice were selling at 15 annas a rupee in the bazar. The Accountant-General will have his attention drawn to this.

26. Railway.—Six fatal accidents occurred on the East Indian Railway during the year, in one of which, however, the medical evidence subsequently pointed to the conclusion that the body was that of a murdered man wh-had been placed on the rail in order to conceal the crime. In 13 cases persons were injured. There was one case of placing an obstruction on the line of rails, but the offender escaped. One man was convicted of stealing spikes and sentenced to three years' rigorous imprisonment. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Commissioner that the punishment was inadequate, and that such cases should be committed to the Sessions in future. It is believed, however, that the railway authorities are now counter-sinking the heads of the spikes in such a manner as to make their abstraction almost impossible.

27. Irrigation and Roads.—The peculiar facilities which the conformation of the surface of the Damin-i-Koh afford for the storage of water for use in irrigation are well known, and the question of undertaking small local irrigation works in that part of the country will be considered in the Irrigation Department. Roads are progressing throughout the division. The Irrigation Department will be asked to enquire into the silting up of the mouth of the Kalindry river in Maldah.

28. Education.—Scarcely anything is said by the Commissioner about the progress of education in the Bhagulpore Division during the past year. The number of first class patshalas is, however, stated to be increasing, and the system introduced last year for controlling the primary schools through the agency of selected gurus appears to be successful. The Lieutenant-Governor lately inspected some 600 pupils collected from patshalas in the immediate neighbourhood of Bhagulpore and was much struck by their quickness and intelligence. The proposal to raise the status of the Bhagulpore school to that of a high school is in abeyance for want of local funds.

29. Local Committees.—The Road Cess Committees in all the districts are said to have done satisfactory work, though more use might have been made of the Branch Committees. The Commissioner complains of the apathy of the members of the Education Committees, who, he says, will not assemble for discussion, and will not visit schools within easy reach of their homes. It is difficult to understand why there should be this difference between the two kinds of Committees, and the Lieutenant-Governor can only suppose that there has been some want of judgment in nominating members to the Education Committees, or that they see that the Magistrates themselves do not take much interest in their work.

30. The Municipalities of Monghyr, Deoghur, and Jamalpore are the most successful in the division. At Jamalpore, in particular, great assistance was received from the railway officials who were members of the Committee. The Magistrate of Bhagulpore has reported very favourably on the amount of work done by the Bhagulpore Municipal Committee, and the Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that the praise was well bestowed. But from the complaints which have been made of the condition of the station roads there is reason to fear that the efforts of the Committee have not been seconded by their executive officers.

31. Wards' Estates.—The management of the Wards' estates in the division appears to have been judicious and fairly successful. Three new estates were taken under the charge of the Court during the year—two in Bhagulpore and one in Monghyr. It is satisfactory to find that the debts of the Soorjapore estate in Purneah have been reduced from Rs. 6,00,000 to Rs. 2,37,000 since it has been under Government management.

32. Conduct of Zemindars, &c.—The Commissioner makes special mention of the liberal conduct of Rajah Ram Narain Singh of Khyra in Monghyr, who suspended the collection of rent from his ryots in consequence of the shortness of their crop. The relations between Maharajah Sir Jye Mungul Sing and his tenantry have already been commented on, and the Commissioner has been instructed to see that any fresh cases of oppression are brought to the Maharajah's notice. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that Rajah Lelanund Singh has entered upon a course of reform, by giving his son, with whom he has till now been on bad terms, authority over his estates, and appointing a European manager.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON COLONIAL EMIGRATION.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 12th September 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report of the Protector of Emigrants to British and Foreign Colonies during the year ending 31st March 1878.

Read again—

The Reports of the two previous years, with the orders of Government thereon.

Emigration to the colonies appears to have received a remarkable impulse during 1877-78, partly no doubt from the well directed measures of the Emigration Agents, but mainly owing to the scarcity in Oudh and the North-Western Provinces, whence the larger proportion of the supply of colonial emigrants is usually drawn. In consequence of the combined operation of these causes, the number of emigrants actually despatched rose from 7,734 in 1876-77 to 18,488 in the past year. In view of this extraordinary activity of recruiting operations continuous efforts were made by Government to guard against abuses, one important step taken being to require all unauthorized sub-agents to take out licenses as recruiters so as to bring them within the control of the law. The attention of the District Magistrates was also drawn to certain points in respect of which their careful co-operation is essential to the success of emigration, and a variety of minor reforms have been or are being introduced with the object of providing for the health and comfort of the emigrants during their stay in Calcutta and on the voyage to the colony for which they have engaged. Sir Ashley Eden has on several occasions expressed opinions in favour of encouraging emigration to British colonies, not only as affording an outlet for the surplus population of the overcrowded districts of Behar and the North-Western Provinces, but as indirectly tending to raise the standard of living among Indian labourers. He therefore views with satisfaction the increase last year in the number of emigrants.

2. The duties of Protector of Emigrants were discharged by five different officers during the year, and the present incumbent, Dr. V. Richards, only took charge of the work on the 16th March 1878. These changes were unfortunate but unavoidable, and it does not appear that the business of the office was materially affected by them.

3. Under the orders of the Government of India some important alterations were made during the year in Rule 23 which regulates the proportion of female to male emigrants, the object of the modifications being to reduce the number of women despatched during the monsoon months when the voyage is supposed to be more trying to weak persons, and increase the number shipped later in the season. Some practical difficulty has been found in enforcing the new rules, and in the case of the Colony of Guadeloupe they have been relaxed for the present season. At the close of the season a special report on their working will be submitted to the Government of India, and it may then be a matter for consideration whether it is worth while to maintain a distinction of the kind.

4. Nine emigration agencies were at work during 1877-78, being three more than in the previous year. This increase was due to the opening of agencies for the three colonies of Jamaica, Grenada, and St. Lucia. The emigration business of these colonies, together with that of Trinidad, was, however, transacted by a single agent, and a similar arrangement was followed during the past year for the colonies of Demerara and Natal. Mauritius, Surinam, and Guadeloupe have separate agents. Thus the work of the nine agencies is, in fact, conducted by five agents, two of whom are members of mercantile firms in Calcutta. The Lieutenant-Governor fears that the supervision of the detailed work of an emigration agency cannot always be properly attended to by gentlemen who are occupied with important business on their own account, and in the event of the emigration to Guadeloupe and Surinam increasing, it may be necessary to recommend that separate and independent agents be appointed.

5. In 1876-77, the number of admissions to depôts was 9,417, while in the past year they rose to 22,544. Nor is this due merely to the opening of the three fresh agencies, and to the resumption of operations by the Surinam agency from which no emigrants were despatched in the previous year. These causes account for only 2,963, or less than one-fourth of the total increase, the balance being due to the greater number of admissions to existing depôts. Thus Demerara recruited 9,688 emigrants against 4,746 in 1876-77, while Mauritius collected 3,044 against 1,274, and Guadeloupe 2,733 against 441.

6. That this conspicuous rise in the number of admissions should have been attended by some enhancement of the death-rate is no more than might have been expected looking to the circumstances under which many of the emigrants were recruited. During 1876-77, 9,417 coolies were received into the depôts. Forty out of the number died, showing a death-rate of 4·20 per thousand. In the past year, 168 emigrants died out of 22,544 admitted, representing a death-rate of 7·40 per thousand. The Protector of Emigrants observes that, comparing the death-rate with the average number of days' detention (25), it appears that the annual rate of mortality was 111 per thousand, and adds that the death-rate in the Mauritius and Guadeloupe depôts amounted on this calculation to the abnormally high figure of 160 per thousand. Apart from certain minor discrepancies in the calculations which need not be noticed here, the Lieutenant-Governor must remark that the argument implied by the Protector's statement is after all somewhat fallacious. It is obvious that the death-rate among intending emigrants during their detention in depôt represents the mortality arising partly from the changed conditions of their life, and partly from the weeding out of the weaker members, to whose "anœmic and ill-fed condition" the Protector has called attention. This initial death-rate can in no way be regarded as an index to the probable mortality during an entire year, and to put forward a death-rate of 111 per thousand, as representing the annual mortality among coolies, while awaiting embarkation, might suggest erroneous conclusions as to the unhealthiness of the depôts. It may, however, be noted that the Mauritius depôt nearly always shows a greater mortality than the other depôts, and the Protector considers this partly due to the fact that its chief recruiting ground is Behar, where the emigrating classes are sickly and anœmic. In the Guadeloupe depôt also a high mortality and a large proportion of Behari emigrants were found to be coincident.

7. The proportion of infant mortality was undoubtedly high. Out of the 168 deaths which occurred in the depôts, 109 or 65 per cent. of the total were those of children, while among adults, there were 59 deaths, being 35 per cent. of the recorded mortality. In the Guadeloupe depôt, the death-rate among infants amounted to 10 per cent. The Protector should make enquiry into the circumstances attending this heavy mortality, and should endeavour to introduce some special precautions against its recurrence. It is not enough to say that the emigrants were Beharis. In the case of infants proper and timely feeding arrangements would probably prevent any great mortality. Cholera and diarrhœa caused the largest number of deaths, and these are the diseases which would most naturally be induced among coolies by the journey from their homes to Calcutta, and their change of food and of habits of life. Small-pox, however, caused 18 of the deaths, and chest affections 21. The Protector points out that, in consequence of medical examination in the districts of recruitment not being compulsory under Act VII of 1871, a large number of coolies on arriving at the depôts are found to be physically unfit to emigrate. This point will be brought to the notice of the Government of India for consideration in connection with the proposed amendment of the Colonial Emigration Act.

8. Although the average period during which coolies were detained in depôt before emigration fell from 29 days in 1876-77 to 25 days in 1877-78, cases of exceptionally long detention occurred in the depôts of the Jamaica, Guadeloupe, and Surinam agencies. In the two former the detention was due to disease among the emigrants, but the Surinam coolies were detained by the non-arrival of the steamer which had been chartered to convey them.

9. During 1876-77 recruiters' licenses were granted to 306 persons, while in the past year, although the number of intending emigrants more than doubled, the number of licenses granted, was not above 375, being an increase of only 69. It is explained by the Protector that 86 licenses granted at the end of 1876-77 continued in force during the next season, so that in fact 461 licensed recruiters were at work. Although many of these recruiters worked only for a few months of the year, each of them appears to have recruited on an average no less than 48 emigrants. The Protector points out that the recruiters employed in inland emigration, although they work all the year round, obtain an average of only 14 coolies apiece, and suggests the inference that illegal recruitment is more largely resorted to in colonial than in inland emigration. It is by no means clear to the Lieutenant-Governor that this conclusion is correct. There is some reason to believe that the numbers of colonial emigrants are swelled by the transfer to colonial recruiters of coolies already collected in inland depôts, and the question of allowing this is now under the consideration of Government. But excluding this special mode of obtaining emigrants, the Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to think that the comparative paucity of the numbers recruited by the recruiters for the tea districts is sufficiently accounted for by the excessive competition for coolies of the class most sought after, and by the fact that, the districts in which recruitment for inland emigration has hitherto been mainly carried on, are far less thickly peopled than those to which colonial recruiters resort. It is satisfactory to find that the orders requiring sub-agents to take out recruiters' licenses are stated to have produced a good effect, and that greater vigilance has been shown by the registering officers in recruiting districts.

10. Enquiry was made during the year into the truth of a statement that, although the right to a return-passage is unconditionally guaranteed to Indian emigrants in the French colonies by the Convention executed between the French and British Governments in 1861, that right is liable to forfeiture under an earlier local law if the immigrant has undergone criminal or corrective condemnation in the local courts. It was stated by the Governor of Guadeloupe that this provision was still in force, but that in practice no recourse was had to it, and that return-passages were always granted to immigrants who applied for them, whether they had been condemned or not. The Guadeloupe administration, however, expressed their willingness to repeal the obnoxious section. The Lieutenant-Governor certainly thinks that the law must be brought into harmony with the Convention, and the Government of India has been addressed with the view of bringing this about.

11. In 1875-76 the number of emigrants indented for by the colonies who receive emigrants from India was 12,965 statute adults, and the number actually despatched was 7,138½ statute adults or 7,734 persons. In the past year the demand of the colonies rose to 15,036 statute adults, and this was more than complied with by the despatch of 16,092 statute adults, or 18,488 souls. It is observed that the Mauritius demand is stated in the return as 830 males, while 2,034 persons were actually despatched. The Protector furnishes no explanation of this excess in the supply. It would appear moreover from the fact that the number of statute adults corresponds exactly with that of persons, that no children accompanied the 2,034 emigrants who went to Mauritius during the past year. The Protector should report whether this was the case, and generally explain these figures, noting specially what arrangements were made by the Agent to select emigrants who had no children under 10 years old dependent upon them. Out of 18,488 persons who emigrated during the year, 306 were returned emigrants, who in most cases went back to the colony where they had previously served.

12. In reviewing the reports on colonial emigration for the years 1875-76 and 1876-77, the Lieutenant-Governor directed the attention of the Protector to the discrepancies between the number of emigrants registered as shown in the returns furnished by district officers and the number reported by the Emigration Agents as having arrived in Calcutta. A circular was also addressed to Magistrates of recruiting districts in Bengal, and the Government of the North-Western Provinces were requested to issue instructions to officers subordinate to them. It is hoped that these measures will enable the Protector to detect the irregular operations of unscrupulous recruiters in future. The returns of 1877-78 do not show any improvement in this respect. The reports received from the Magistrates during the past year showed that 21,356 emigrants were registered in the districts, while 22,544 were actually admitted into the depôts. There is apparently no evidence to show that the excess number of 1,188 were ever registered at all. According to the reports of the Emigration Agents the numbers recruited in the districts and registered were 23,476, showing that 2,120 persons were unaccounted for by the local officers' returns. The provisions of the law on the subject appear, however, to be sufficient if properly enforced. By section 27 the registering Magistrate is required to furnish every emigrant with a copy of his registration written on substantial paper, while under section 28 a copy of each registration must be sent to the Emigration Agent and the Protector. From the wording of section 27 it is obviously the intention of the law that emigrants should retain with them the copy of their registration which is given to them by the Magistrate, and this condition should be strictly enforced. It may be suggested that coolies cannot be trusted to retain their copies of registration during the journey to Calcutta, but under section 32 all emigrants must be accompanied by a recruiter or an authorized substitute, and these men might take charge of the copies of registration of the emigrants forming their party. They should be instructed under no circumstances to bring emigrants to Calcutta without obtaining copies of their registration, and emigrants who are not provided with copies of their registration under section 27 should not be admitted into a depôt unless the copies required by section 28 have been received, and the emigrants can be identified as the persons therein referred to. It should be understood that, when no intimation of the registration has been sent to the Protector under section 28, the burden of proving that any emigrant was legally recruited must rest upon the agency and its subordinates.

13. The following statement compiled from the Protector's report explains how it was that, although 22,544 emigrants were received into the depôts, only 18,488, or 82 per cent., were actually despatched to the colonies :—

Admitted into depôt	22,544
Rejected as unfit to labour or as dependent on emigrants unfit to labour	1,737
Unwilling to emigrate	155
Claimed by relatives	49
Deserted	1,037
Died	168
Total casualties	3,146

It will be observed that the difference between the number admitted and the number despatched is 4,056, of which 3,146 persons are accounted for by the causes detailed above, while the remaining 910 are described by the Protector as forming an "unrequired surplus at the end of the season." Dr. Richards also remarks that the numbers under this head were rather too numerous in some cases, but that, as the coolies were generally transferred through the Emigration Department to other agencies, no particular hardship resulted to the intending emigrants. This observation is not fully understood. Primâ facie it would appear that the transfer of an emigrant to a different agency from that for which he elected before he left his district is likely to be attended with some hardship to the emigrant, and in any case his choice cannot be exercised so freely in Calcutta as in his native district. The Protector should explain in greater detail what becomes of this unrequired surplus of emigrants, and under what safeguards the transfers of which he speaks are conducted.

14. It appears from the detailed returns furnished by the Protector that of the 1,737 persons rejected as unfit to labour or as dependent on persons unfit to labour, 977 or 10·10 per cent. of its admissions were rejected by the Demerara Agency, 186 or 6·59 per cent. by Trinidad, and 78 or 15·47 per cent. by Surinam. It is stated moreover that the agents for Demerara and the West Indian Colonies employ medical men to examine intending emigrants in the recruiting districts, and have made every effort to reduce the number of rejections. The Lieutenant-Governor would wish further enquiry to be made into this matter. The agents are said to give liberal allowances to the medical men who conduct the examinations; but it is evident from the large proportion of rejections in Calcutta that the examinations in the districts must have been most cursory and insufficient. Some information as to the class of medical examiners employed and the rate of payment made to them is desirable. In the case of Surinam the very high proportion of rejections is explained by the anxiety of the Dutch Government to obtain thoroughly healthy emigrants, and it must be admitted that the results of this stringent selection appear to have been satisfactory, for the mortality on the voyage and on arrival at Surinam was unusually low. But the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that, if an exceptionally high standard is to be insisted upon, the Surinam agency would do well to secure a more thorough medical examination of the emigrants in the districts where they are recruited. The hardship of bringing down a large number of men from their homes and then rejecting them, to return home worn out and disappointed is very great, and constitutes an abuse which the Protector must bring under control.

15. The proportion of persons who declined to emigrate after admission into depôt was small in all the agencies, except that of Surinam, where it amounted to 3·96 per cent. It is stated in explanation of this that "their [illegible] accompanied by a batch of dancing girls and [illegible] the idea of becoming agriculturists. [illegible] very imperfect supervision was exercised over the recruiting staff of that agency, and it should be considered whether licenses should be granted again to the recruiters who were concerned in this very injudicious selection of intending emigrants. It is also observed that the desertions from the Surinam depôt amounted to 10·59 per cent. of the number admitted. The Agent considers that this was due to an unusually long detention in the depôt (the average period of detention was 47 days) to the prevalence of very high wages in Calcutta, and to an intrigue between some designing coolies and one of the durwans at the depôt. The matter called for special enquiry by the Protector. A practice has recently been detected of entering as deserters the ineffective relatives of coolies who die in hospital, while in fact these people are frightened or driven away from the depôts. Every case of desertion should form the subject of strict investigation. There is reason to believe that the class of men who are usually employed in the offices and as servants at coolie depôts need very close supervision. None of the coolies admitted into the Mauritius depôt declined to emigrate, but on the other hand no less than 344 or 11·24 per cent. deserted. It should be explained by the Agent how it was that not one of the 344 persons who thus practically showed themselves unwilling to emigrate, made any formal application for release from engagement.

16. The rule requiring the shipment of at least forty women for every hundred men was complied with during the year by all the agencies, except those of Mauritius, Demerara, and Guadeloupe. The returns for Mauritius show a deficiency of 3 and those for Natal of 42, which will be made up during the current year. Guadeloupe started with a deficit of 192 and made up only 11; so that 181 women beyond the standard proportion remain to be supplied in the present season. The Protector should see that the Guadeloupe agency carries out the requirements of the rule. It is satisfactory to find that the Demerara agency, which commenced the year with a deficiency of 40, has now embarked the proper proportion.

17. The following statement shows the provinces from which the emigrants despatched to the colonies were recruited during the last two years:—

	1876-77.	1877-78.
North-Western Provinces and Oudh ...	4,279	13,254
Behar	2,446	3,038
Bengal	470	268
Madras, Bombay, &c.	266	1,594
Native States	94	41
Punjab and Dependencies	51	69
Central India	108	197
Orissa	20	18
Total ...	7,734	18,488

It will be observed that the number of persons from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh who emigrated to the colonies was nearly trebled in the past year. As the increase in emigration from Behar was no more than proportioned to the enhanced demand of the colonies and the vigorous recruitment which went on to make up for the deficient supply in 1875-76, it may be concluded, as already remarked, that the distress which prevailed in Oude and in parts of the North-Western Provinces formed a strong inducement to emigration in 1877-78. In Bengal itself the number of emigrants, always small, shows a considerable decrease. As regards emigration from Madras and Bombay, it must obviously be quite exceptional for natives of those Presidencies to emigrate through Calcutta, but even in this case the famine has had its effect in raising the number of these casual emigrants from 266 to 1,594.

18. During 1877-78 no fewer than 37 sailing ships and one steamer left the port of Calcutta with emigrants, against 18 vessels in the previous year. The average number of emigrants conveyed in each ship was 486. Of the 26 vessels for which detailed information is available, the Botanist and the Jorawar show the highest rate of mortality, 4·62 and 4·56 per cent. respectively. The most successful voyage was made by the steamer Clive, which took 324 emigrants to Surinam without a single death. It is not quite clear, however, why the passage should have occupied so long as 77 days. In 1872, the steamer Enmore ran from Calcutta to Demerara in 49 days, and it was stated that the distance would have been accomplished even sooner if the vessel had been supplied with good coal, and had not met with headwinds in rounding the Cape of Good Hope. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to know if there were any special circumstances which delayed the Clive, and whether she was a full-power or an auxiliary steamer. A proposal has recently been made by the Government of Demerara to employ a steamer in the transport of emigrants to that colony, and the Lieutenant-Governor has expressed his opinion as to the class of vessel which should be built. The highest mortality was on a vessel which had been used for carrying salt on the previous voyage and remained damp accordingly. The agents should avoid chartering salt ships for emigrants.

19. As many as 2,544 emigrants returned from the various colonies in 1877-78, bringing with them acknowledged savings in money, amounting to Rs. 4,72,926, or an average of Rs. 185 per head. In addition to this, many of them possessed valuable jewellery. The Emigration Agent for Trinidad has placed on record some remarkable instances of the successes of Indian immigrants in that colony, and forwards an extract from a report by a Moravian Missionary furnishing satisfactory evidence of the material prosperity of immigrants in Demerara. It is curious to note that three Indian coolies run thorough-bred horses in the local races, frequently winning prizes to a considerable amount. In the town of San Fernando 22 of the burgesses are men who were originally ordinary Indian coolies, and one of them died lately leaving a fortune of Rs. 1,34,000. On the other hand, among the great mass of the coolies there is said to be much drunkenness, and want of cleanliness, with a tendency to imitate the lazy habits of the Creole or Negro laborers. The Lieutenant-Governor is also sorry to gather from the Colonial report for 1877, lately received, that in Trinidad the number of Indian children at school is not so great as it should be.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Government of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce, and to the Officiating Protector of Emigrants, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

NOTE BY COLONEL F. T. HAIG, R. E., CHIEF ENGINEER, BENGAL, IRRIGATION BRANCH, ON THE HOWRAH, AMPTAH, AND RAJAPORE DRAINAGE SCHEMES.

THE following is published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

D. B. HORN,
Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept., Irrigation Branch.

THE resolution of this Government, dated 5th April 1877, gives a resumé of the history and results of the Dancuni drainage scheme up to 12th February 1878, when the final report of the Drainage Commissioners was approved and their apportionment of the outlay affirmed by the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division. Notices have been served on the proprietors, and we have now to await the recovery of the money.

Meantime, detailed plans and estimates have been received for the Howrah and Amptah schemes. The Rajapore scheme is not so far advanced, but an abstract of its probable cost has been submitted by the Executive Engineer. These three schemes, together with the Dancuni, comprise the drainage of the whole of the swamp lands of the southern part of the Hooghly district, and it therefore becomes desirable to review what has already been accomplished in this direction, and to point out its bearing upon the proposals now before Government for new and still larger undertakings of the same kind.

In the first place, then, it may be remarked that experience has proved not merely that it is only in so far as irrigation can be combined with drainage that the full benefit of these scheme can be derived, but that for all practical purposes the improvement is limited to the area for which irrigation is available. In the case of the Dancuni works, it has not been found practicable in apportioning the outlay to include any lands above what is called irrigation level; that is, the highest level to which the water can be allowed to rise within the basin drained without injury to the crops in the lowest grounds. Before the construction of the drains and outfall sluices which regulate the discharge and supply, the great hollows used to be filled by accumulated local rainfall and the backwater from the Hooghly to 15 feet above a certain datum, and when the works were originally projected, it was assumed that a certain appreciable benefit, varying in degree with the levels of the ground, would be conferred on the whole of the lands thus liable to submersion when once the inundation was stopped. The lowest lands are at a level of about 8 + datum, and the water can be safely raised for irrigation to 11·50 only. Now, though there can be no doubt that many of the lands between 11·50 and 15·00 must on the whole have benefited more by their present security from inundation than they lost by being deprived of such precarious irrigation as they formerly enjoyed when the flood happened to be well timed, it has not been found possible to determine the benefit thus derived with sufficient accuracy and certainty for the purposes of assessment, and thus the whole of the lands above irrigation level have been exempted from payment. This area amounts to no less than 10,000 out of a total of 46,000 beeghas. As far as can now be seen, the same rule must apply in the case of the new schemes; that is to say, that no credit can be taken for any improvement from drainage above the level to which irrigation can be supplied. This will necessitate considerable modifications of the Engineer's estimates of profits.

While, however, it will be safest to base all calculations of profits upon the areas so determined, it may not be amiss to bear in mind that the prospects of irrigation in the case of all these schemes are now likely to be more favourable than has hitherto been assumed. At present irrigation is from below upwards, the water being allowed to accumulate, or, as is often the case, admitted from the Hooghly through the outfall sluices, on to the lowest lands, and to rise with the gradual growth of the rice plants to a maximum depth of 3½ feet. There has been no way of leading water to the higher levels. But if the Joojuty scheme should, as seems now very probable, be carried out, irrigation will be available for the high lands; and in the case of the Dancuni jullahs for instance, if the Commissioners should construct a distributary from the Surasutti along the upper margin of the drained and protected lands, they might fairly charge a rate which should represent not only the value of the water for irrigation, but the benefit of the protection from floods which the lands now enjoy, and for which they have paid nothing. This would form a very important addition to the assets of the scheme.

I pass on, however, to remark in the next place that, if experience has thus reduced the area of really remunerative drainage within narrower limits than might at first have been anticipated, it has also shown conclusively that works of this class will be less expensive than was once supposed. Some misapprehension appears to exist upon this point, and has perhaps occasioned the remarks in the resolution referred to in the first paragraph of this note—"that the cost of the (Dancuni) works seems to have been much higher than was anticipated;" directly the contrary is the fact. The scheme, as originally designed by Mr. Adley in 1870, was estimated to cost Rs 6,23,000 for works only, or, with the necessary addition for establishments and interest during construction, at least Rs. 8,30,000. After considerable reduction by Colonel Rundall, the estimates were brought down to Rs. 6,00,000. The sanctioned estimates amounted to Rs. 4,32,554, and the expenditure, inclusive of a charge of over Rs. 20,000 for cadastral survey not included in the estimate, to Rs. 3,97,395. The sum apportioned against the proprietors is Rs. 4,78,895, but this includes the accumulated interest on the outlay from its commencement in January 1873 up to the date of the apportionment report in November 1877. Hence it appears that, while a very considerable outlay for purely revenue purposes, such as field surveys, record of rights, and apportionment proceedings, followed upon the completion of the works, the latter were constructed at a cost of less than one-half the amount of the original estimates. . .

The explanation of this is to be found in the fact that the works, as ultimately designed and carried out, were planned to discharge a very much smaller proportion of the rainfall than was originally intended. Our ideas in fact upon this point have undergone very important modifications since the works have been constructed, and we have been able practically to test the assumptions of the original projectors. Mr. Adley's works were designed, under instructions from Colonel Rundall, to carry off in 48 hours a body of water equal to a rainfall of 9 inches over the whole catchment basin. When the project came into my hands, I found that, large as the estimates were, they were still far from sufficient if this co-efficient of discharge were to be adopted; in fact, that the cost would mount up to something absolutely prohibitory. A careful inspection, however, of the charts of levels showed that the capacity of the great lagoons in the centre of the hollows was so large relatively to the rainfall, that an accumulation might be permitted there without serious injury to the crops, which would greatly reduce the needful capacity of the drains and outfall sluices. It was therefore determined to take advantage of this peculiarity, and to ascertain by actual experiment for what proportion of the rainfall it would be necessary to provide the means of escape within a definite period. This was arranged in the following manner. Two main drains were proposed—one having its outfall at Biddabatty; the other at Bally. Such dimensions were assigned to the former as would enable it to discharge one inch of rainfall over its catchment basin in 24 hours. In the case of the Bally sluice the dimensions were such as to give a discharging capacity only half as great, or of half an inch in 24 hours. It was determined that if half an inch were found too small an allowance in the one case, a catch drain should be made which should take off the surplus; and in the case of the one-inch drain, that if that capacity should be found more than enough, the drainage of two smaller outlying swamps should be turned into it, and so make up for the deficiency.

Contrary to all expectation, the experience of the five years which have passed since the completion of the works has shown that in years of ordinary rainfall even half an inch is more than it is necessary to provide for; and further, that the sluices and drains are required much more for letting water in from the Hooghly for irrigation than for draining it off. Thus in 1873, during the 153 days from June to October, in which there was a rainfall of 31 inches, the sluice-gates were never once opened for drainage, but were opened on 15 days for admission of water. In 1874, with a rainfall in the same months of 41·48 inches, the sluices were not once worked for drainage, but during 13 days for irrigation. In 1875 the rainfall was 31·69 inches, and the sluices were worked 8 days for drainage and 15 for irrigation. In 1876, with a rainfall of 46·71 inches, the sluices were opened for drainage for 8 days, and for irrigation for 26 days. In 1877, with 38 inches of rain, the number of days were 4 for drainage and 22 for irrigation. The capacity of the sluices is in fact determined, not with reference to the requirements of drainage at all, but to those of irrigation; it must be such as experience shows to be necessary to raise the level of the water in the low grounds with the gradual growth of the plants, and this is probably in excess of what is required for drainage, though the point has yet to be determined by a year of excessive rainfall, which we have not had since the works were finished. The average rainfall in Hooghly of the five months above referred to is given by the Meteorological Department at 50·72 inches. These are very curious facts, and show what an immense proportion of the heavy rainfall of Lower Bengal is consumed in the process of vegetation, the rice plants apparently requiring a great part of it, and the rest passing off chiefly by evaporation, for the subsoil drainage appears to be very small.

It also appears from what has been said that some very important experience has been gained in this our first experiment in drainage on a large scale in India, as it is now found that it is sufficient if the discharging capacity of the drains is not above one-ninth of what was originally thought necessary.

The next point of interest appears to be whether drainage schemes of this class are likely to be profitable investments. This manifestly will depend entirely upon the cost as compared with the value of the improvements in each case. Taking the Dancuni scheme as our only guide so far, we have the following results:—

The cost was for—

	Rs.
Works	2,97,466
Land	88,792
Survey and record of rights	21,816
Maintenance	2,055
	4,10,129
Accumulated interest on advances made by Government up to date of apportionment report, 30th June 1877 ...	72,570
Total to be recovered from the proprietors ...	4,82,699

	Acres.
Area of land reclaimed from total waste	2,269
Ditto improved	9,893
Total area assessable ...	12,162

	Per acre. Rs. A. P.
Annual value of reclaimed lands	7 8 0
Ditto of improved „	2 10 0

	Rs.
Total annual value at the above rates—
Reclaimed lands	17,017
Improved „	25,988
Total value ...	43,005

$\frac{4,82,699}{43,005} = 11\frac{1}{4}$ times annual value of the lands drained was the capital cost of the works. The ordinary market value of land in that part of the district is 15 times the annual value.

The profit therefore to the proprietors would appear to be $\frac{43,005 \times 100}{4,82,699} =$ nearly 9 per cent.

No deduction is here made for cost of maintenance, as it is found that that is so small that it will be covered by rents of fisheries, tolls, or other miscellaneous sources of revenue not taken into account above.

At first the investment would appear to be fairly remunerative, 9 per cent. being a pretty fair return from land. But a little investigation will show that the question of profit must depend entirely upon whether the capital cost is paid down at once, or, if by instalments, upon the time allowed, the interest charged upon unpaid balances, and the rate at which money can be borrowed.

A wealthy proprietor might pay down his share at once and be satisfied with the investment; but a smaller proprietor, paying as the Act provides in 10 years, with interest at 5 per cent on unpaid amounts, might be compelled to borrow at so high a rate that his gain would be turned into a deficit Thus a detailed calculation shows that a proprietor assessed at Rs. 1,125 on account of lands having an increased annual value from drainage of Rs. 100, paying by 10 yearly instalments, with interest at 5 per cent. and borrowing at 12 per cent., would at the end of 10 years be Rs. 776 in debt.

Two questions therefore arise closely affecting the question of the further prosecution of such schemes,— 1st.—If to meet the case of small proprietors, the term for payment be extended so that the annual instalments of capital and interest would be covered by the increased rent resulting from the improvement, and borrowing be unnecessary, how many years must be allowed?

2nd.—What multiple of the increased annual value per acre should be the limit of the capital cost if the capital plus interest is to be paid off in 10 years simply from the increased rent?

The answer in the first case is that the term should be 17 years where the capital cost per acre is the same as in the Dancuni scheme. The answer in the second case is 7, that is to say, that if the cost per acre can be kept down to seven times the increased annual value, the proprietors would have to pay nothing out of their own pockets, the increased rent in 10 years covering the whole charge for capital and interest.

We may now proceed to consider the proposals for new drainage schemes with the aid of the experience derived from the Dancuni works.

Four new projects have been brought forward. They are all so similar in kind to the Dancuni that any detailed description will be unnecessary. In the southern part of the Hooghly district, between the Hooghly, the Damuda, and the Ooluberria canal, there lie three other drainage basins containing extensive areas of permanently swamp lands, and still larger extents of land liable to submersion in one degree or another by floods, whether from the Hooghly or local drainages. It is proposed to drain each, and regulate the supply for irrigation by large drains furnished with outlet sluices in the same manner as in Dancuni. The only respect in which the works proposed differ from those already constructed is that the dimensions given to the main drains are such as will carry off a less proportion of the rainfall than was allowed in Dancuni. The point is not one of immediate interest, and its discussion here would add unnecessarily to the length of this note, as it does not very materially affect the cost. In two cases locks have been provided, but I have not separated them from the other works in the following statement of cost. The particulars of each scheme are given below:—

	Sq. miles.	Sq. miles.	Sq. miles.	Sq. miles.
Dancuni	62	28	19	3·54	Blue.
Howrah	54	27	20·16	3·41	Yellow.
Rajapore	267	74·82	59·25	6·87	Brown.
Amptah	112	62·87	55·94	3·56	Red.

The high flood level here mentioned is that of the Hooghly, which stands back up the nullahs and khals, damming back the natural drainage and inundating the areas shown. Irrigation level means the level at which water will ordinarily be retained for the rice cultivation.

The following table gives the particulars of the estimated cost of each scheme:—

Abstract of cost of the four Hooghly Drainage Schemes.

	Dancuni.	Howrah.	Amptah.	Rajapore.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Works	2,30,509	1,77,708*	1,71,357	5,04,283
Establishment	59,795	44,420	42,800	1,26,000
Tools and plant	7,162	4% 7,000	6,850	4% 20,000
Land	88,792	33,705	55,452	58,341

Survey and record of rights ...	21,816	15,000	40,000	42,000
Interest after completion	37,829	18,400	21,000	50,000

	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Area of improved and reclaimed lands ...	12,162	13,094	35,801	37,983

* This sum excludes the Rs. 57,000 for a lock which is now to form a separate scheme.

The total cost and cost per acre of land below irrigation level, i.e., of reclaimed and improved lands together, is shown below:—

	Estimated cost.	Area below irrigation level.	Cost per acre.
	Rs.	Acres.	Rs.
Dancuni	4,82,699	12,162	40
Howrah	3,15,633	13,094	24
Amptah	3,57,809	35,801	10
Rajapore	8,55,184	37,983	22·5

The point which at once strikes the eye in this statement is the high cost of the Dancuni scheme. This is mainly attributable to (1) the heavier excavation rendered necessary by the shape of the ground; (2) the very high price paid for land, the main drain in some places passing through very valuable lands; (3) heavy charge for interest consequent on the long time occupied in the detailed surveys and investigations necessary for apportioning the outlay.

The difference in cost between this and the other schemes is so great that I have had the points carefully examined, and am satisfied that it is due to the causes I have mentioned, and not to any under-estimating of the newly proposed schemes.

The following statement shows the improved and reclaimed areas in each scheme :—

	Improved.	Reclaimed.	Total.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Dancuni	9,893	2,269	12,162
Howrah	10,912	2,182	13,094
Rajapore	33,587	4,396	37,983
Amptah	33,523	2,278	35,801
			99,040

If the increased annual value from drainage be taken in each scheme as the same as in the Dancuni, viz. Rs. 7-8 for reclaimed lands, and Rs. 2-10 for improved, the ratio of the capital cost to the increased annual value may be found as follows :—

Dancuni, as already seen, 11¼ times.

	Acres.	Rs.
Howrah	10,912 at Rs. 2-10	=28,644
	2,182 at „ 7-8	=16,365
Total increased annual value	„	... 45,009

Rs. $\frac{3,15,633}{45,009}$ = 7 times.

Rajapore	33,587 at Rs. 2-10	=88,165
	4,396 at „ 7-8	=32,970
Total increased annual value	„	... 1,21,135

Rs. $\frac{8,55,184}{1,21,135}$ = 7·05 times.

Amptah	33,526 at Rs. 2-10	=88,006
	2,278 at „ 7-8	=17,085
Total increased annual value	„	... 1,05,091

Rs. $\frac{3,57,809}{1,05,091}$ = 3·44 times.

In all the above calculations it is assumed that the miscellaneous revenue will, as in the Dancuni scheme, cover the cost of maintenance.

If therefore the acreage value of the improvements be the same in every case as in the Dancuni, it would seem that all the three new schemes fulfil the condition most essential to success, viz. that their cost is only about seven times the increased annual value of the land.

RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVN. 10	Dinagepore, „ 13 „	3·66	Heavy rain. The station is now flooded for the fourth time this season. Reports of slight damage are coming in from the district, but as the high lands are cultivated owing to the floods, this will more than compensate for some damage in the low lands.
11	Rajshahye, „ 14 „	4 93	Weather—cloudy and rainy. The amun dhan is said to be thriving. The cutting of aus is nearly finished, but the thrashing, winnowing and other attendant operations have been much retarded by the incessant fall of heavy rain. Common rice continues to be sold at 15 kutcha seers per rupee.
12	Rungpore, „ 13 „	11·70	The weather has been very rainy during the last five days, and a very strong wind has been blowing from the north-east since the 12th. The low lands are again under water from the recent heavy and almost incessant rain. The amun crop there is likely to be injured, but not seriously. Fever of a mild type is somewhat prevalent.

13	Bogra, „ 14 „	4·67	Weather—seasonable. South-east wind is prevailing. The crops are promising, except sugarcane, which has suffered somewhat from the rains. Aus rice and jute are still being cut. The transplantation of amun has been nearly finished. The price of rice continues the same as reported last week. Cattle disease is reported towards the east and south-east of the district. The district is fairly healthy.
14	Pubna, „ 14 „	4·71	Weather—rainy, with heavy rain at the end of the week. No change since last report in the prospects of the crops or public health: the rivers have continued to rise.

	16	Julpigoree, „ 14 „	15·15	Very heavy and continuous rain till the 13th, when it began to clear up. The heavy rain has not done any injury to the crops, which are everywhere reported to be excellent.
		Cooch Behar, „ 12 „	15·11	Nights generally rainy. Days cloudy with showers. Very little sunshine. The first three days of the week were, however, fair. Far more rain has fallen than was wanted, and in low lands it is doing harm. Generally, however, the prospects are good for the late rice. There is the danger that, when the present rain clears off, we may have no more, and some will be needed in October. Jute is being cut and is a good crop. Tobacco cultivation is retarded by the rains. The rainfall of this year up to date has already far succeeded the total rainfall of any year on record. Some cholera has appeared

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet in elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof., Papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by o, and one completely overcast by 10.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

T. H. WICKES,
Offg. Asst. Secy. to the Government of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the four weeks ending 24th August 1878.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, SEALDAH TERMINUS.

Report on the Goods Traffic for the four weeks ending 24th August 1878.

Dated Calcutta, the 11th September 1878.

From—W. INNES, ESQ., Acting Traffic Superintendent,
To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway, Sealdah.

THE total weight of goods carried over this Railway during the above period was 6,56,140 maunds, which, as compared with the corresponding period of 1877, shews a decrease of 5,33,522 maunds; this decrease is mainly in grain, including rice, seeds, bundles, gunny, and foreign railway material, and the increase is in drums of jute, salt, tea, tobacco, and turmeric.

Decreases.

Grain, including rice and seeds ... ... Mds. 5,16,078

This heavy decrease is in consequence of the very depressed state of trade at present, there being scarcely any demand for export as compared with the unusually heavy demand for this purpose last year at this time

Gunny, bundles of ... ... Mds. 36,052

Owing to the absence of demand for grain and seeds, there has been a corresponding absence of demand for bags in which to export it, and consequently the supply from the different mills has fallen off.

Foreign railway materials ... ... Mds. 65,416

This decrease is owing to the bulk of material, &c, for the Northern Bengal State Railway having gone forward.

Increases.

Jute, drums of ... ... Mds. 15,882

This increase is principally owing to the large stock of old jute forwarded this month as compared with August 1877.

Salt ... ... Mds. 17,857

This increase I anticipated in my last report, and I attribute it to the low rate of freight on this railway and facilities offered to salt merchants.

Tea ... ... Mds. 5,498

This increase is satisfactory, and is accounted for by the opening of the Northern Bengal State Railway.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 22,444

This increase is attributable to the growing demand for Indian tobacco.

Turmeric ... ... Mds. 9,157

This is capricious, and rises and falls according to the fluctuations in the market; the increase is owing to an increased demand for export.

I attach the statement of increases and decreases.

Passenger boats.—A charge of one anna per head per mile on 1st class passengers, i.e., by steamers and boats and ¼ (quarter) pie per head per mile for all other passengers over and above the toll leviable from the boats or steamers by measurement. This charge to be leviable from the owners of boats or steamers and not from the passengers, except when a Government boat or steamer is hired by any person for his exclusive use. The hire in such cases charged by Government is for the use of the boat, and the tollage of boat, plus mileage charge per head, will be levied from the passenger at the rate of one anna.

Empty boats.—To be charged on tonnage of the boat itself as ascertained from its draught for displacement.

Exemption.—From payment of canal dues at the above rates for goods will not be allowed to any department or departments. The canal officers, i.e., those directly in charge of irrigation works, and whose duty will necessitate travelling through the canal for inspection thereof, and the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, will be allowed to pass free of tollage. All other Government officers, heretofore passed free on grant of certificates of being on duty, will be expected to pay the required tollage for themselves and baggage boats.

Special rate.—Allowed to Messrs. Bullock, Welsted and Co. for their boats and passenger steamers, will cease from the 1st October next, and they will be charged thereafter similarly as the general public at the rates above notified, their boats and steamers being measured in accordance with existing rules for such measurement.

Demurrage.—The number of days which a boat entering the canal by booking or paying tollage at one of the locks may remain in it without additional payment, shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles or portion of eight miles to be traversed. Boats remaining for a longer period will pay a demurrage of eight annas per 100 maunds per diem for each day or part of a day that they may remain in excess.

DRAFT RULES PROPOSED UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1876.

Dated the 10th September 1878.

No. 249.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Sone Canals which it is proposed to substitute for the rules passed and published at pages 938 to 943, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd August 1876.

Rule under Act III (B.C.) of 1876.

1. The Collector, before awarding compensation under sections 16 and 17 of the Act, shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

2. Water shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, loss from wastage is likely to occur. From the decision of the Divisional Canal Officer an appeal shall lie to the Superintending Canal Officer, whose order shall be final.

3. Water shall not ordinarily be granted where the length of the water-course, from its head to its point of contact with the village boundary, would exceed two (2) miles.

4. Water for irrigation shall not be supplied, except through a water-course so constructed and maintained that, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer—

(a) the water will pass without wastage;

(b) the existing necessary lines of communication, the flow of drainage water, and the passage of water for irrigation, will not be obstructed.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer may withhold or postpone the grant of water for a crop to any cultivator whose fields he may have ascertained by personal inspection (by himself or one of his assistants) to be unprepared for irrigation by division into compartments not greater in area than 1 cottah or 1361·25 superficial feet, and by the addition of small water-channels, as is customary in irrigation from wells.

Rice-fields are exempted from the operation of this rule.

NOTE.—This rule shall only apply in those cases in which the discovery is made previous to the first watering of a crop; the water having been once given cannot be withheld for that crop, but a higher rate may be levied as provided in Rule 25.

6. Persons desiring to construct a village channel shall prefer a written application to the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer. In the latter case the application shall be forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer.

7. The application, if granted, shall be subject to the Act, and also, unless otherwise specially agreed upon, be deemed granted under the following conditions:—

(a)—That the water supplied shall not be used for other purposes than irrigation without the written consent of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer.

(b)—That the applicants nominate a headman known or ascertained to be a substantial person possessed of property to attend to their interests to receive and carry out the orders of the Canal Officers, to distribute the water among the shareholders in the water-course according to their shares, and to collect and pay in to the Collector, or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the lands watered from the water-course. Such headman shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Penal Code.

(c)—That in any case where persons desirous of taking water fail to appoint a headman, or cannot agree among themselves as to the headman, the Collector shall nominate, and the Divisional Canal Officer appoint a headman.

(d)—That the headman shall furnish security for the payment of all sums realized by him, the stamp and registration fees on security bonds being deducted from the percentage allowed under Rule 10.

(e)—That for each crop, previous to water being taken for any field, application shall be made in the prescribed form (appendix A) through the said headman to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer or other officer authorized to receive such applications, and that no water shall be taken until after the receipt of a "permit" (appendix B) from such officer.

(f)—That in any case where the Divisional Canal Officer, owing to the known recusancy of any village, or of any class of cultivators, anticipates difficulty in realizing water-rates, he shall intimate the same to the Collector or Sub-Deputy Collector, in whose option it shall be to require payment of water-rates in advance.

(g)—That any other cultivators in the same village, able and willing to irrigate their lands from the said water-course, shall be admitted as shareholders in the water-course on paying their proportionate share (to be determined by the amount of land they hold) of the first cost and maintenance of the water-course.

(h)—That all alterations in the number of shareholders, distribution of shares, or nomination of headman, shall be reported through the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer for the sanction of the Divisional Canal Officer.

8. The Divisional Canal Officer may accept the nominee of the shareholders in a water-course as "headman" of such water-course, and is empowered to pay him the fees as hereinbelow detailed, subject to the condition of satisfactory performance of duty.

9. The allowance to the headman of a water-course for duties connected with that water-course, such as arranging that it shall be kept in proper repair, seeing that no lands obtain water without a regular "permit," distributing the water to the shareholders, seeing to the outlet being closed according to the orders of the Divisional Canal Officer, and generally assisting the officers of the Irrigation Department, shall be 5 per cent. on the assessments of canal water-rates derived from the water-courses in his charge. The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees under this rule in the event of the conditions not being complied with.

10. The allowance to the headman of a water-course for collecting the water-rates shall be 3 per cent. on the assessments, and shall be paid by the Collector on receipt of the full payment of demand for that crop and not otherwise, unless he can satisfy the Collector that the balance in arrear is so through no negligence of his. The payment to be made within two months of the dates named in the permit.

11. An appeal against retrenchment under Rules 9 and 10 shall lie to the Superintending Canal Officer and Commissioner respectively, if preferred within thirty days of such retrenchment, and the Superintending Canal Officer or Commissioner's decision shall be final.

12. Contracts between the Divisional Canal Officer on the part of Government and private individuals for the use of water as a motive power, or for any other purpose whatsoever not included in the published schedule of rates, shall, if for any period not exceeding one year, require the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

If for longer periods, such contracts shall be submitted for the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor in the Irrigation Department.

13. Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge and without reference to the area irrigated in any village, whenever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependent on any canal, under the following regulations :—

(a)—No tank shall be so filled unless exclusively used for domestic purposes, and for watering cattle; such tanks are generally in the immediate neighbourhood of villages.

(b)—No tank shall be so filled from which irrigation is practised.

(c)—No tank shall be so filled which, intercepting any line of drainage, is liable to overflow from accumulation of water derived from natural causes.

(d)—No tank shall be so filled except on the written order of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, issued on the written applications of the parties concerned. The filling of tanks can only be permitted at such times and to such extent as the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer approves.

(e)—No tank shall be so filled unless the water-course used to fill it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

(f)—The privilege herein accorded may be suspended for twelve months for breach of these regulations by written order of the Divisional Canal Officer, subject, however, to revision by the Superintending Engineer, whose decision shall be final.

14. The Divisional Canal Officer may, by written order under section 76 (a) (ii), stop the supply to any water-course when he has satisfied himself by personal inspection (by himself or one of his assistants) that the water-course is not maintained in proper repair. Immediate report of any such closure shall be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, and the special ground for stoppage explained.

15. The Divisional Canal Officer may, under section 76 (a) (iii), regulate the distribution of the available water in proportion to the average area irrigated from the several outlets, or in proportion to the quantities of water contracted for, and may close the outlets in rotation as shall be necessary.

Such periodical closures shall not extend beyond ten consecutive days, and shall be notified to the headman of water-courses. For longer closures the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer is required.

Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to affect the power of the Superintending or any Divisional Officer to stop any supply of water in case of pressing emergency.

16. The water-gauges on distributaries or other channels shall be held to give authoritative data for all calculations of discharge required to verify claims for remission of water-rate on account of loss of water.

17. Claims to remission, under section 76 (b) of ordinary charges payable for use of canal water shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the charges. All applications for remission of water-rates shall be made by the parties concerned in person, or through their headman, to the nearest Sub-Divisional Canal Officer at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop, and the Sub-Divisional Officer shall thereupon inspect the applicant's fields, and forward his application for decision to the Divisional Canal Officer with his remarks.

18. Before awarding compensation under section 76 (c), the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, and such opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings. Under this rule an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the division, whose order shall be final.

19. Under section 78 of the Act the rates chargeable per acre on the different descriptions of crops are fixed for three years, viz. from 1st June 1876 to the 1st June 1879, and are as follows:—

The application of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally will be in the form prescribed in appendix C. The joint application of villagers and a water-rate contractor shall be in the form prescribed in appendix D. Every application under this rule must be signed by each applicant in the presence of at least one respectable witness.

24. A contractor or contractors shall be entitled to collect water dues at the rates given in the schedule attached to rule 20 from the cultivators who have applied for the water supplied. Every due from a cultivator to a contractor on account of water rates shall be deemed a sum due to Government under sections 82 and 85 of Act III of 1876.

25. A contractor (or, in case there be more than one, each severally and jointly) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the application (appendix D), and shall be entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. for cost of collection.

26. When the lease under these rules is for the supply of water to khureef crops or to all irrigable rubbee in the village, a list in form E should be submitted with the application showing the number of each field in the map, the area of the field, crop to be grown, and amount payable, and this should be signed by each cultivator. Water will be supplied in accordance with this list during the period of the lease. Similar lists must be submitted each year before water is supplied to rubbee lands when the area leased is less than the whole area of irrigable rubbee land in the village. In such cases the fields receiving water may vary from year to year, but the total area to be watered can never be less than the area stated in the application for the three years' lease.

27. No water shall be taken previous to receipt of a permit (appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a contractor or contractors the Divisional Canal Officer shall furnish such contractor or contractors with an authorization under section 82 to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to the list furnished under rule 26, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every contractor shall nominate a headman to be approved by the Canal Officer to perform the duties specified in rule 9. Such headman shall receive 5 per cent. on the assessment, but the Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. If only a portion of a field be irrigated the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

30. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exists between the two portions. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

31. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

32. Irrigation from natural or artificial escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

33. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

34. Persons irrigating lands from a canal without a written permit for water for such lands, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be chargeable with double water-rates on the area irrigated, in addition to such penalties as may be imposed under sections 93 and 94 of the Act.

35. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, viz. five rupees per acre on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower charge if he thinks fit. The headman to be held responsible for the payment of such rates as may be imposed, leaving it to him to realize the same from those to blame.

36. If mixed crops be grown in the same field, the water-rate shall be calculated on the highest rated crop.

37. When the original crop sown in a canal irrigated field fails and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates leviable shall be due on the second crop.

38. When a field is irrigated which has not been prepared by division into compartments, and by the addition of small water-channels as prescribed in rule 5, an additional charge may be imposed equal to half the amount of water-rate leviable on the field. In each case the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Officer must certify that he personally examined the field, and that it was not properly prepared for irrigation according to the terms of the rule.

39. The amounts demandable for water-rate shall be determined and apportioned by the Divisional Canal Officer.

40. All water-rates shall become due on the dates noted on the "permits," viz. the dates on which the crops ordinarily come to maturity, and are as follows:—

Water-rate on spring crops,—wheat, barley, peas, poppy, &c.,—shall become due on 15th April.

Water-rate on summer crops,—cheena, &c.,—shall become due on 15th August.

Water-rate on bhadoi crops,—seera rice, Indian-corn, murwa, &c.,—shall become due on 30th November.

Water-rate on annual and winter crops,—aghani rice, joaur, &c.,—on 31st January and shall be paid within one month of such dates.

41. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

42. Collection of all water-rates will be made by the Collector strictly in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer, in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

43. The Collector will make the collections through the Deputy Collectors attached to each division of the canal and the Subordinate Canal Revenue Establishment.

44. Objections to the demand on the score of short supply, or of matters affecting the Irrigation Department, addressed to the Collector, shall be referred by him to the Canal Divisional Officer. Meanwhile the collection of the demand shall not be suspended.

45. Claims for remission so referred by the Collector, and admitted by the Divisional Canal Officer, shall be reported by him for the sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

46. A remission statement signed by the Superintending Canal Officer shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

47. If the decision of the Divisional Canal Officer uphold the original demand, an appeal may be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, provided that it is preferred within forty days from the issue of the order. The decision of the Superintending Canal Officer shall be final.

48. In cases in which the water-rate is irrecoverable, from the absconding or bankruptcy of the defaulter, or when the question at issue does not depend on the canal supply or the action of the Irrigation Department, the Collector will obtain sanction to remission of canal demands from the Commissioner of the division. All such remissions shall be reported at the close of each official year to the Divisional Canal Officer.

49. If a cultivator is dissatisfied with the entries made against him in the "permit" (appendix B), whether as to the fact of the land having been charged "flow" instead of "lift," or as to the measurements and entries of class of crop, he must lodge a complaint, either personally or through the headman of his water-course, with the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer within fifteen days of the issue of the permit.

50. No person, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officers, shall pass, or shall cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks, or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, excepting upon such bridges, fords, and ferries, and their approaches, as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer.

51. No Canal Officer, unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly, or in shares with others.

52. The ameen after completing the measurement of a village, before leaving it, will compile the Khatianni. A copy of the Khatianni will be taken by the putwaree, who must himself make the copy; but if he cannot from any cause do so, the ameen must give it, and the latter is to be held responsible that a copy is taken.

53. The copy of the Khatianni thus made, will be hung up in some conspicuous place, and slips in the prescribed form (appendix F) will be prepared by the putwaree and given to each ryot showing the amount he will have to pay, area irrigated, &c.

54. The allowance to the putwaree for the above work shall be 2 per cent. on the assessments which shall be paid by the Collector on his being satisfied that the putwaree did his work properly.

55. The measurements shall be made as soon as practicable, and every care taken to have the Khatianni hung up in the village at least 15 days before the crop is cut, so that the ryot may make his complaints, if he have any, in good time.

56. In case of any alteration in the Khatianni owing to correction of clerical errors, &c., the same shall be communicated to the putwaree at once to enable him to correct the village copy and slips accordingly.

57. The zilladar shall submit his check measurements in the form (appendix G) which shall be sent in for the inspection of the Divisional Canal Officer. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall also check the measurements as often as he possibly can. If it is found that any ameen systematically makes wrong measurements, he shall be punished by dismissal, and shall be declared incapable of obtaining further employment under Government.

MY LORD,

In the Marquis of Salisbury's Military Despatch No. 148 of the 15th June 1876, you were informed that it had been decided to assimilate, with some exceptions, the rates of pay drawn by officers of the Indian cadres of Royal Artillery, while on leave in this country, from brigades serving in India, to the rates drawn by officers of the old Royal Artillery.

DEATHS OF SEAMEN BY DROWNING IN THE RIVER HOOGHLY DURING 1877.

Extract from paragraph 4 of Resolution of the Lieutenant-Governor on the report of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for 1877.

Of the 59 men drowned in the river, no fewer than 41 were European sailors. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad if the Commissioner of Police would take into consideration the question of deaths by sailors through drowning. The mortality from this cause is very serious, and it is open to question whether European sailors should be permitted to embark for their ships in this dangerous river after dark, especially during the rains, when the river is in full flood. The Lieutenant-Governor would like a detailed report showing how many of these 41 sailors were drowned from boats and how many by falling overboard, the time at which the accidents took place, and the rules in force regarding the prevention of the embarkation of sailors in a state of drunkenness.

No. 3158, dated Calcutta, the 5th August 1878.

From—H. M. KISCH, Esq., Offg. Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Judicial, Political, and Appointment Departments,

To—The Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.

I AM directed to invite your attention to the resolution passed by the Lieutenant-Governor on the report of the administration of the Police in Calcutta and the suburbs during 1877, and, with reference to paragraph 4, to request that you will favor the Lieutenant-Governor with the information therein called for as to the number of sailors drowned from boats and those drowned by falling overboard, the time at which the accidents took place, and the rules in force regarding the prevention of the embarkation of sailors under state of drunkenness.

No. 2429, dated Calcutta, the 24th August 1878.

From—C. T. METCALFE, ESQ., C.S.I., Offg. Commissioner of Police, Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial Department.

I HAVE the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 3158 of the 5th instant, and to forward, for submission to the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, a statement of the number of deaths of seamen by drowning in the river during the past year 1877, shewing what proportion of the casualties occurred by day and what by night, and also how many of the deceased were believed to be in liquor at the time they met their death.

2. There are no rules in force to prevent sailors attempting to board their ships when in liquor, nor do I think it possible to frame any. They go on board at all hours of the night; and the few European policemen that are posted along the Strand Bank and road are withdrawn at 11 P.M.

Calcutta,
The 24th August 1878.

C. T. Metcalfe,
Offg. Commissioner of Police.

No. 3793, dated Calcutta, the 18th September 1878.

From—H. M. Kisch, Esq., Offg. Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial, Political, and Appointment Dapartments,

To—The Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 2429, dated the 24th ultimo, submitting a list of seamen drowned in the river Hooghly during the year 1877, and showing the number drowned while in a state of drunkenness.

2. In reply, I am to say that the Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that something should be done to warn captains of the risk of employing men in painting the sides of ships in the river without taking proper precautions for the safety of the men. If a man loses his footing, his death is almost certain. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to be informed whether an inquest is held in cases of accidental drowning, or whether any other enquiry is made as to the sufficiency of the arrangements for men working over the ship's side.

3. Sir Ashley Eden requests that you will instruct the police to prevent, as far as possible, the embarkation in dinghees of sailors incapable of taking care of themselves. Such men should be locked up and sent off to their ships the next morning. A few extra constables should, for this purpose, be stationed at the ghâts on Sundays and holidays.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CALCUTTA PORT TRUST FOR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MARINE.

Calcutta, the 19th September 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta for the year 1877-78.

The report deals, first, with the carrying out and maintenance of works of port improvement under Act V (B.C.) of 1870; and secondly, with the conservancy and management of the port within port limits under Act XII of 1875. The report on the management and control of the Hooghly Floating Bridge, under Act IX (B.C.) of 1871, has been submitted separately to the Public Works Department.

THE PORT TRUST.

2. Up to the 31st March 1878 the Commissioners had spent upon works of port improvement, including payments to Reserve and Insurance Funds, Rs. 79,31,653. This sum had been provided in the following manner:—

	Rs.
Loans from Government	53,95,100
Contributions from Government	74,584
From revenue	24,61,969
Total ...	79,31,653

Deducting repayments, the Commissioners' debt to Government amounted on the 31st March 1878 to Rs. 49,30,482.

3. The gross profits of the works referred to in the foregoing paragraph up to the end of the year had amounted to Rs. 29,79,005, which had been expended thus—

	Rs.
On new works	23,51,109
Repayment of loans	4,73,061
Jetty Reserve Fund	50,000
Insurance Fund	23,042
Cash balance	79,793
Total ...	29,79,005

4. During the year 1877-78, the total expenditure on improvements amounted to Rs. 7,19,395, distributed over the following works:—Extension of the jetty heads, construction of an additional export shed, completing the 30-ton floating crane, additional engine and hydraulic cranes, pitching and widening Grey's Wharf, completing the river-side tramway, erecting a jute warehouse at Ruth Ghât, procuring locomotives and waggons, completing the new office buildings, and other minor works. Further very important extensions and improvements of the jetty heads are in contemplation, and some have been already sanctioned.

5. The dredging vessels have done more work than in any preceding year at very little more cost. Owing to the earnings of the barges in towing, the net cost of the dredging operations was Rs. 10,857 only, and the raisings 3,076,000 cubic feet, or at the rate of Rs. 3·5 per 1,000 cubic feet.

6. The Jetties account shows a revenue of Rs. 8,00,521, and an expenditure of Rs. 4,25,807, leaving a net revenue of Rs. 3,74,624. The net revenue of each year since 1871-72 shows thus—

	Rs.
1871-72	1,59,084
1872-73	1,65,655
1873-74	1,53,562
1874-75	1,43,165
1875-76	1,73,826
1877-78	3,74,624

The increase last year was due entirely to the number of vessels discharging import cargo. So great was the demand for accommodation that vessels wishing to load at the jetties could not always be allowed to do so, and there was an actual falling off in the receipts on account of exports. The number of vessels using the jetties was 232, or 40 more than in 1876-77; and had there been more room, more ships would have been glad to take advantage of it. Out of 365 days in the year, the jetties were occupied on the average 342 days as against 280 in the year preceding. The cranes and other jetty appliances earned Rs. 92,315, of which Rs. 12,650 were paid for the use of the new 30-ton crane. The cost of working the cranes was Rs. 37,136, the average cost per hour of steam cranes being Rs. 1-9-5 and of hydraulic cranes Re. 0-5-6.

7. In view of the large increase in the jetty revenue, the Commissioners have been able to propose, and Government to sanction, a revised schedule of charges estimated to give a reduction of Rs. 52,000 per annum. The new scale took effect from the 1st August 1878. Looking to the very considerable amount of work of an unproductive character that has yet to be carried out before the port of Calcutta can be said to satisfy the requirements of its trade, the Commissioners are acting wisely in maintaining an estimated surplus of revenue to meet such charges.

8. During the year the jetty bye-laws have been revised under legal advice, and an amended edition published with the approval of Government.

9. In paragraph 28 of their report, the Commissioners refer to correspondence which passed between themselves and the Chamber of Commerce on the one hand, and the Bengal Government on the other, on the subject of cargo-boats. Advantage was taken by the owners of these boats of the extraordinary demand caused by the shipments of grain for Madras and Bombay to raise their rates of hire to an unprecedented figure. There was a very general impression abroad that the construction of jetties and other port works had discouraged the building of cargo-boats and led to most of the difficulties felt by shippers at that time; and, under the irritation natural to the circumstances, the arrangements of the Port Commissioners were condemned as incomplete and inadequate, while charges of oppression and obstruction were somewhat recklessly made against both the Police and Customs authorities. The Port Commissioners, admitting freely that they were not able as yet to accommodate the whole trade of the port, showed that the number of cargo-boats actually plying in 1877 was greater by 894 than before the jetties were built, while many more boats were at the same time being built; and the result of very full and patient enquiry has been to show that there was no ground whatever for the more serious charges of obstruction directed against the Port authorities. The whole difficulty is explained by the simple fact that, between January and June 1877, Calcutta exported 558,765 tons of rice and 138,218 tons of wheat, against 182,688 tons of rice and 56,703 tons of wheat in 1876, and, as might be expected, the appliances of the port were not fully equal to the strain. The Commissioners are rapidly extending their jetty accommodation; and the Lieutenant-Governor has recently placed the control of cargo-boats under their supervision, and taken steps to prevent anything like unnecessary interference on the part of the river police or other subordinate officials.

10. The receipts of the Inland Vessels Wharves (including the tramway) were Rs. 5,49,137, against Rs. 3,94,016 in 1876-77, and the expenditure Rs. 2,59,762, against Rs. 1,99,737. The increase was due mainly to the abnormal briskness of the trade in grain.

11. The income from the Strand Bank lands was Rs. 1,43,809, and the outlay under this head Rs. 1,00,423; the net revenue being Rs. 43,337, against Rs. 18,279. The rates receivable for these lands have increased, and sites are still in strong demand.

THE PORT PROPER.

12. The financial position of the port at the close of 1877-78 was as follows. The value of the mooring, boats, &c., made over by Government stands as a permanent loan to the Commissioners of Rs. 17,65,000 carrying 4½ per cent. interest. A regular amount is annually written off for depreciation, amounting at the close of 1877-78 to Rs. 2,87,608 in the aggregate. Against this, Rs. 1,71,866 have been invested in Government promissory notes, and Rs. 87,600 spent in renewing boats, leaving a cash balance of Rs. 28,134 to credit of the depreciation account. Besides this, 3½ lakhs of rupees have been invested in Government promissory notes to meet any extraordinary losses that may at any time be caused by a cyclone. After providing for the foregoing funds, the balance of the profits of the port has been spent in adding to its block. Up to the end of 1876-77 Rs 2,46,310 had been so spent, and in 1877-78 Rs. 1,16,309 were set aside for a similar purpose.

13. The income of the port during the past year was Rs. 6,90,873 and the expenditure Rs. 4,70,839, giving a net revenue of Rs. 2,20,034, against Rs. 86,742 in 1876-77 and Rs. 5,620 in 1875-76. The foregoing figures, however, include receipts from sales of cargo recovered from the wreck of the Asia, for which the Commissioners have to account to those interested. The balance of the Asia accounts so to be made over amounts to Rs. 79,791, which must be deducted from the net revenue in order to get the true balance to credit of the port.

14. The very favorable results of the year's working were due to the extraordinary influx of vessels to the port in connection with the Madras famine. No fewer than 1,372 vessels of a gross tonnage of 2,056,944 entered the port, while 1,322 with a tonnage of 1,988,987 left it. The average tonnage of each vessel was 1,500 tons as against 1,450 in 1876-77. The following are the figures showing the employment of the steamers entering the port in 1877-78:—

	No.	Tonnage.
Suez Canal trade	171	417,604
Coasting and Eastern trade...	331	494,055
Famine transports	224	402,946
Total ...	726	1,314,605

The average tonnage of each Canal steamer arriving was 2,442 tons.

15. The work which fell on the Harbour Masters' Department during the year was singularly heavy; but, owing to the present extensive use of steam appliances on vessels of all kinds, it was performed without any extra establishment, and with singularly few casualties. There were only eight accidents altogether in dealing with 1,372 vessels entering the port, and performing 9,710 operations of mooring, hauling, docking, &c. The result is highly creditable to the department.

16. The steam fire-vessel was kept under steam throughout the year, but was required to attend only two fires on ship board and three on the river bank. In all cases the fires were got under without serious loss.

17. The Commissioners recovered 42 anchors and 657 fathoms of chain cable lost by vessels within the limits of the port: 21 anchors and 380 fathoms of cable were restored to owners, and 26 anchors and 203 fathoms of cable sold for Rs. 1,820.

18. The Commissioners realised for Government on account of pilotage fees, buoyage and lightage, hospital dues, &c., the sum of Rs. 14,75,341, the payment to them for this service being Rs 3,500 only.

19. The work of overhauling the moorings was greatly hampered by the crowd of shipping in the port; and the necessity for increasing considerably the amount of mooring accommodation, especially for long vessels, has been pressing itself upon the attention of the Commissioners. Eighteen new moorings were with Government sanction laid during the year, and further proposals are under submission. The attempt to dredge clear the silted up moorings below Fort Point has not been attended with much success, and the Commissioners have frequently urged that, unless the current be turned in upon the bank by certain alterations of the Fort Point, they cannot hope to recover and utilise these berths. This matter has now been before the Government of India since July 1877, and it may be hoped that, in view of the inconvenience caused to the work of the port by the delay, a decision may soon be arrived at.

20. Various proposals by the Commissioners for improving and maintaining the channel of the river within port limits, for reclaiming the Howrah foreshore, and for carrying out a scientific survey of the Hooghly bed, are under the consideration of the Public Works Department either of this Government or of the Government of India. The attention of those departments has again been called to these questions.

21. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes shortly to be in a position to place the survey of unseaworthy ships and the periodical surveys of steam vessels under the supervision of the Port Commissioners. Meantime he would wish them to consider, in consultation with the Superintendent of Marine and the Port Officer, whether the relations of the Port Officer to the Commissioners might not advantageously be defined and made closer. At present a good deal of executive work in connection with the port and shipping, which would naturally fall upon the Port Officer elsewhere, is done, it is believed, by the Vice-Chairman and other officers of the Commissioners. The Port Officer might, it is believed, in many respects usefully act as the executive of the Commissioners. At any rate, the Lieutenant-Governor would wish to have the subject taken into early consideration.

22. The Government of India have again been pressed for early orders on the practice to be hereafter followed in the matter of the Port Commissioners' loans.

23. The orders of Government with reference to the proposed railway bridge and central station have been communicated to the Commissioners from the Public Works Department.

24. Attached to the annual report is the Auditors' report of their examination of the Commissioners' accounts for the half-year ending the 31st March 1878. The Auditors take exception to certain transfers from revenue to capital account effected by the Commissioners towards the close of the year. It has always been the practice to make these appropriations, and in every instance the transfer was designed to meet the cost of works specifically sanctioned by Government under the law and intended to be met from surplus revenue. Formal sanction will be conveyed in separate orders to the appropriations in question, and this will no doubt meet the Auditors' objections. In future cases the Commissioners should conform to the procedure indicated by them.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SHIPPING OFFICE FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MARINE.

Calcutta, the 21st September 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Report of Calcutta Shipping Office for 1877-78.

The receipts of the Shipping Office have risen from Rs. 22,674-14-6 in 1876-77 to Rs. 29,351-11 in the past year. The disbursements were Rs. 16,870-9-7, against Rs. 15,939-3-3. This increase in disbursements is mainly due to annual increments in the pay of the Deputy Shipping Master and two of his subordinates, and only a small portion of it was caused by extended operations on the part of the office. The rise in the printing charges was caused by the enhanced demand for the forms, &c., required for sale in the Shipping Office. The bulk of the increased receipts arose from shipping fees and discharging fees paid by vessels chartered for the coasting trade to Madras. In consequence of the receipts having increased in a larger proportion than the charges, the net profits amount to Rs. 12,481, against Rs. 6,735 and Rs. 4,565 in the two preceding years.

2. The transactions under the head of Funds held in trust by the Shipping Office show a similar increase, due to the greater activity of shipping operations in the port. These trust funds fall under three heads.

3. The first head consists of ticket money, or wages due to crews actually serving on board vessels, which are paid into the Shipping Office by agents of ships on account of the families of the seamen.

The amounts received on this account during 1876-77 were all paid out during the year, and a balance which had been outstanding since 1872-73 was subsequently withdrawn from the annual return under Government sanction; it being understood that, in the event of the sum being claimed, the orders of Government would be applied for by the Board through the Accountant-General. The past year consequently opened with no balance on this account. Rs. 391 were received during the year, and Rs. 341 paid to the families of the crews; leaving a balance of Rs. 50 outstanding at the close of the year. Payments on this account are made regularly, and are claimed at stated intervals by the parties to whom they are due. It is to be expected therefore that the balance at the close of the year should be small.

4. The second head includes deposit money received from masters of ships on account of wages due to seamen left behind in hospital or jail; and also sums deposited by British seamen discharged with the consent of their commanders as security against their falling into distress. On behalf of British seamen Rs. 1,16,750 were paid in during the year, and a balance of Rs. 5,022 remained in hand from 1876-77. In the course of the year Rs. 1,12,134 were paid to seamen discharged from hospital and jail and re-shipped, and the balance at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 9,638. This result appears to be natural, as the balance in hand at the end of the year does not exceed what may reasonably be expected to be due to the seamen still detained on shore.

5. With regard to deposits on behalf of native seamen, it was observed in the Government letter commenting on the report of the Shipping Office for 1876-77 that the disbursements of deposits of this class were much less in proportion to the total amount deposited than in the case of British seamen. It appeared that, out of Rs. 1,357 standing to the credit of detained native seamen in 1876-77, only Rs. 893 were paid off, and Rs. 464 remained in hand at the close of the year. The Shipping Master subsequently explained that the unpaid balance of deposits on account of native seamen usually bears a larger proportion to the total amount than the balance in the case of British seamen; because the deposits due to native seamen who die while detained in hospital or jail are retained until they are claimed, while similar deposits in the names of British seamen who die in Calcutta are regularly remitted to the Board of Trade. During the past year it is observed that the same disproportion prevailed between the payments to British and native seamen. Assuming that the explanation given above is correct, there should obviously be some regular procedure for informing the families of deceased native seamen of the amount held to their credit in the Shipping Office, and care should be taken to register the village or home of every lascar shipped. At present the Shipping Office appears to be satisfied with telling the serang to inform the families of any deceased seamen belonging to his gang. The Magistrate of the district could generally no doubt trace those entitled to such lapsed deposits. The Board should take up this question, and should submit special proposals after consulting the Shipping Master and the Marine Department.

6. The third head comprises the estates of deceased seamen, being the amounts due to such seamen on account of wages and sale of effects. In the case of British seamen, Rs. 18,560, the entire amount due under this head, were transferred to the account current with the Board of Trade, and no balance remained in the hands of the Shipping Office. Deposit money under the second head due to British seamen who had died while detained in Calcutta was also transferred to this account. But in the case of native seamen it is observed that, out of receipts amounting to Rs. 2,288, only Rs. 878 were actually paid to claimants, and that Rs. 1,410 remained in hand. The Board should take steps to clear up the cause of this, and to provide for early payments in future, reporting the result of their investigations to Government.

7. The number of seamen shipped and discharged was as follows in the last two years:—

	1876-77.	1877-78.
Shipped	13,337	16,975
Discharged...	11,828	13,998

It is explained that in both years the excess of seamen shipped over the number discharged is due to the substitution of native crews for Europeans in vessels chartered to convey grain to Madras. For every two Europeans discharged in this way, three natives had to be shipped.

8. An increase in the number of desertions is stated to be due simply to the larger number of seamen visiting the port, and no cases occurred which call for special notice.

9. The prevalence of scurvy has already been fully discussed in connection with the Health Officer's report, and the suggestions of the Lieutenant-Governor on the subject have been communicated to the Board of Trade.

10. It is to be regretted that the Shipping Master has omitted to furnish any detailed information as to the health of lascar crews when on voyages beyond the tropics. The Lieutenant-Governor is led to believe from information received independently that such voyages, if prolonged beyond a certain period, which cannot at present be precisely defined, tend to deteriorate the health and physical capacity of the men; and he desires that the Shipping Master will pay special attention to the subject.

11. It is satisfactory to find that Rs. 48,839 were sent home by seamen through the newly introduced system of money orders, against Rs. 11,874 in the previous year. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the gradual extension of these money orders to colonial ports will ultimately do away to some extent with the necessity for the grant of advance notes.

12. After a needlessly protracted delay, the Board have at length furnished a complete statement of the actual and probable defalcations committed by the late cashier in the Shipping Office. In this statement the actual defalcations are shown to have been Rs. 4,190-5-11, and the probable further defalcations Rs. 2,198-12-8. Certain checks have been proposed by the Board of Revenue to guard against similar frauds in future, and the orders of the Government of India are awaited on this point.

13. In conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor must observe that, apart from the laxity of administration evidenced by the occurrence of the serious frauds already noticed, the Shipping Master's reports for the last few years have furnished a most inadequate account of a very important branch of port administration. The Shipping Master and his subordinates are in constant communication with the masters and seamen who visit Calcutta, and in the report of the management of the Shipping Office an attempt should be made to give some better idea of the circumstances of British and Native seamen than can be gathered from mere figures of payments.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to know the Board's opinion as to the expediency of continuing to use a portion of the Sailors' Home as a Shipping Office.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Board of Revenue for information, and for communication to the Shipping Master, Calcutta.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE DACCA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 20th September 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report for the Dacca Division for 1877-78.

The report is submitted by the Acting Commissioner, Mr. D. R. Lyall, who took charge only on the 21st March last. Mr. F. B. Peacock held the office of Commissioner for the greater part of the year, Mr. A. Smith officiating for two months while Mr. Peacock was on leave.

2. Tours.—The pressure of land registration work, and the great want of officers owing to the demand for assistance in the famine districts of Madras, are said to have interfered seriously with the cold weather tours of nearly all the Collectors. The Lieutenant-Governor is not satisfied that in every instance this excuse is a valid one, and he hopes that next year more attention will be paid to this duty. The Commissioner himself managed to see a good deal of his division.

3. Weather and crops.—The rainfall was everywhere above the average, and very heavy in the month of July. Unfortunately the fall in October was singularly scanty, and, as a consequence, the late rice and the cold weather crops suffered. The inundation upon which the late rice largely depends was very low in Backergunge, Furreedpore, and Mymensingh, but nevertheless that crop was a full average one in the division, taken as a whole; and in districts where it was short, it happened that a larger area than usual was sown with early rice, so that, generally speaking, the cultivators were remarkably fortunate. Though the yield of betel-nuts was small, the price ran up from Rs. 6 to Rs. 16 per maund, which fully made up for any loss on that account.

4. Public health.—There was a remarkable immunity throughout the division from anything like a general epidemic of cholera, though the year preceding had been particularly fatal in this respect. As usual, however, in years of low inundation, fever was very prevalent, and caused as many deaths as the worst cholera epidemic. It is satisfactory to note that the Government cinchona febrifuge was reported by the native doctors to be very efficient as a remedy. This drug seems rapidly to be making its way, and will probably, if it can be produced in sufficient quantities at its present or any cheaper rate, prove a perfect God-send to the malarious districts of Bengal. Small-pox broke out in Dacca and in four thanas of Backergunge, but was in both cases speedily checked by vaccination and, the Commissioner adds, by inoculation. Mr. Lyall urges that vaccination should be made compulsory, as the only effectual way of preventing disease in tracts where inoculation is forbidden by law. The time is perhaps hardly come for compulsory vaccination in Eastern Bengal. The best hope of spreading vaccination at present lies in inducing the old inoculators to work as vaccinators under Government protection and encouragement. A zemindar would often do as much good among his tenantry by employing vaccinators and encouraging his people to protect themselves from small-pox, as by contributing to dispensaries. Magistrates might take opportunities of suggesting this to influential and liberal native gentlemen, of whom the Dacca Division boasts so many.

5. Material condition of the people.—The year was to the cultivating classes, who in Eastern Bengal form the bulk of the people, a season of extraordinary prosperity. They had good crops both of rice and jute, and realised extremely high prices. The non-agricultural classes and the small landlords may have suffered to some extent (for with the rise in the price of rice all other articles of food went up), but the fact that they have been able to stand such a dear market so long, and so well, proves that they too are not without resources. The enormous amount of money which has been poured into the country for the purchase of grain must indeed have percolated through nearly all grades of society in one way or another. The district of Furreedpore was perhaps the worst off, the crop there having been rather short, but even here the Collector describes the people as fairly prosperous, well clothed, and well housed. The Mahomedan sub-divisional officer of Kishoregunge points to the improved houses, better clothes, and richer jewellery, but especially the greater number of wives of the peasantry, as incontestible proofs of their material well-being. In Dukhin Shahbazpore, devastated as it was by the cyclone and storm-wave, the people were able to support themselves by the sale of their ornaments until the crop was ripe, and from the time that the early rice began to be cut in August 1877, they continued steadily to improve. Mr. Gupta, the Assistant Magistrate in charge of Perozepore, himself a native of Bengal, shows that, but for his recklessness and prodigality in times of plenty, the Backergunge ryot would be even better off than he is. In proof of this he refers to the increase in the number of fairs held in the ryots' idle season between January and May. "At these fairs" (he says) "everything that can be wanted either as a necessity or a luxury can be found, from earthen pots to Keating's cough lozenges. The ryots spend a lot of money on useless things, instead of laying it up for a rainy day; but in spite of this and similar extravagances, it is clear they had laid by enough to keep them for some months after the great calamity of 1876, and I do not know that much more can be expected. They live in great comfort in homesteads of 4 to 5 beegahs, surrounded by a moat and ridge, the only approach to which is a raised road leading to the river, lined on both sides by cocoanut, date, and other fruit trees; they have an outer house where the ryot transacts his business, receives visitors, and puts up his guests for the night, and as many inner houses as the wants of his family require; the whole being surrounded by a thick plantation of betel and cocoanut trees, which not only gives seclusion, but also is a source of great profit, so much so that many families support themselves on the produce of their homestead gardens."

6. Emigration and movements of the people.—Among a peasantry so prosperous as that of Eastern Bengal, able to employ in the fields all the landless laborers of the division, and requiring large annual drafts of laborers from up-country to supplement their local supply, emigration is of course generally unknown. Twenty coolies for tea gardens were, however, recruited during the year in Bickrampore—an unprecedented event. There was the usual annual influx of labour from Behar. Indeed the numbers crowding to Mymensingh are said to have been greater than in any previous year. The only other symptom of emigration noticed is the removal of many of the Tipperah hillmen who had settled in British territory, and are now drawing back again owing to the greater restrictions recently placed on illicit distillation.

7. Prices of food and labour.—The prices of food were throughout the year extremely high. The range of price for common rice was as follows:—

	Highest. Seers per rupee.	Lowest. Seers per rupee.	Average.
Dacca	$11\frac{13}{16}$	$22\frac{14}{16}$	$16\frac{19}{16}$
Furreedpore	$11\frac{8}{16}$	20	$15\frac{8}{16}$
Backergunge	11	17	$12\frac{11}{16}$
Mymensingh	12	$26\frac{8}{16}$	$18\frac{8}{16}$
Tipperah	$11\frac{8}{16}$	19	$16\frac{19}{16}$

The wages of labour have not materially risen, except in Backergunge, where the effect of the mortality from the cyclone and subsequent cholera made labórers scarce.

8. Mines and manufactures.—The only noticeable matter under this heading is the development of the fish-curing trade at Goalundo. A special bonded enclosure has been formed within which curing is carried on upon an improved system. From 1,362 maunds of fish in 1875 and 4,835 maunds in 1876, the outturn of the depôt rose to upwards of 11,000 maunds in 1877. In the year 1877, 28,502 maunds of salt fish were despatched by rail from Goalundo to Calcutta, and it is satisfactory to know that the Calcutta Health Officer considers the fish turned out from the curing depôt at Goalundo to be far superior to that cured on the old native method.

9. Trade and Commerce.—The exports of 1877-78 were unprecedentedly large. From Dacca and Naraingunge alone 11,19,586 maunds of rice were carried away—two-thirds by steamers and the rest by country boats. Besides this, Backergunge sent 25,64,200 maunds to Calcutta direct. The total export of the division is supposed to have been over four millions of maunds. At present stocks are almost dangerously low, but prospects are so good that no real anxiety is felt. The export of jute from Dacca was also the largest known, 22,86,400 maunds having been sent from Naraingunge and Dacca up to the 31st December 1877. The carrying power of the Eastern Bengal Railway was quite unequal to the demand, and many large shippers are said to have this year made extensive arrangements for boats, while one has determined to ship from Chittagong. The trade in hides and seeds was also brisk. It is calculated that in payment for rice and jute alone 21½ millions of rupees came into the division. The Commissioner urges strongly the propriety of doubling the Eastern Bengal line to enable it to cope with the traffic, and anticipates great results for the Dacca and Mymensingh Railway when completed; the development of the coal and limestone of the Garo Hills being not the least important of the anticipated results. The establishment of joint-stock companies, managed by native directors, is a very interesting feature in the history of the year. There appear to be three such companies in Mymensingh with capitals of Rs. 50,000, Rs. 20,000, and Rs. 70,000 respectively. Mymensingh will remain under a great disadvantage in respect of trade until the railway is constructed. It has an enormous amount of produce to get rid of, and the river which forms its main communication with the great trade marts has silted up.

10. State of public feeling.—The Commissioner states that the Russo-Turkish war undoubtedly excited a large amount of attention, the sympathies of Hindus and Mahomedans alike being with the Turks. The latest telegrams were daily hawked about the streets of Dacca. The Vernacular Press Act gave rise to a good deal of talk among those affected by it. The benefits of the Land Registration Act are beginning to be generally recognized, and the Public Works Cess, though of course not popular, has been paid without objection. The chief trouble of the year has been the pressure of high prices upon the non-agricultural class. The better classes of Dacca and Mymensingh are rejoicing in the prospect of their railway. The Mahomedan Registration Act was a failure, being unpopular with the majority, and having against it the influence of both moollas and zemindars.

11. Public Press.—One newspaper is published in Mymensingh and six at Dacca. The sub-divisional officers, who are chiefly native gentlemen, are unanimous in declaring that the Vernacular Press has no influence whatever in the interior. The tone of the Dacca native papers is similar to that of the Vernacular Press generally. Their columns abound in free criticism of the acts of Government, expressed frequently in most offensive language, but more, the Commissioner thinks, from ignorance of how to write strongly without being abusive than from disloyal intention. The sub-divisional officer of Bamunkand says that he does not believe that 50 persons in this sub-division, with a population of 400,000, ever see a paper. The Kishoregunge sub-divisional officer says that when papers are taken in it is more for show than for actual reading.

12. Police and crime.—It is satisfactory to learn that all the district officers agree that the Chowkidari Act has improved the status of the village watch, which is now better paid and more useful than before. In the regular police the personnel of the upper grades is favourably spoken of, and serious crime is said to be fairly dealt with on the whole. The Lieutenant-Governor is not, however, satisfied with the criminal administration of Backergunge. The people of Backergunge are the most violent and reckless of human life of all the people of Bengal. That district has always enjoyed an unenviable notoriety for crimes of lawless violence, and of 25 cases of riot with murder which occurred in the division during 1877, 12 were in Backergunge. In murders also it led the way (59 out of 116), and the same in culpable homicide (23 out of 64). Dacoity also increased, and altogether the district was in a most unsatisfactory state. Its condition has formed the subject of special correspondence, and measures have been adopted with the view of strengthening the criminal administration, which have already commenced to show favourable results. In Dukhin Shahbazpore a curious phase of crime developed itself in the form of illegal force resorted to in order to coerce those widows who had survived the cyclone into marriage with the assailants. So many more women than men had been drowned, that difficulties naturally arose, which the temper of the Backergunge peasant led him to solve in his usual violent way.

13. Civil Justice.—The civil courts are all said to be overworked, and the delays in disposal of suits are a constant subject of complaint. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently given the High Court the means of increasing the staff of Moonsiffs very considerably. In the matter of enhancement of rent, the Moonsiffs are said to be generally against the landlord: for instance, in one sub-division, out of 90 suits brought, 52 were dismissed, in spite of the fact that landlords only go into court as a last resource. The Commissioner would make over the disposal of enhancement questions to the revenue officers, and this is in fact the object of a Bill now pending before the Bengal Council. It may be open to doubt, however, whether the revenue establishments are strong enough to cope with the amount of work likely to be thrown upon them in Eastern Bengal. The Commissioner also draws attention to the difficulty an auction purchaser experiences from the practice of giving him only nominal possession of the property purchased. The civil courts seldom attempt to give actual possession if there is the least show of opposition, and do not apply for the protection of the Magistrate or Police when their orders are practically set at defiance. The result affects the suitor, not the court. The suitor in Eastern Bengal then takes the law into his own hands, and the Magistrate is called in for other purposes. This is in fact a very serious state of things, which has come specially and directly under the Lieutenant-Governor's notice in a recent case. The High Court will be invited to consider whether anything can be done to remedy matters.

14. Matters connected with the land.—The relations of landlords and tenants have been outwardly quiet, but it is stated that in many cases the ryots are withholding rents, while the zemindars are waiting the passing of the Bill for providing a more summary procedure in rent suits. In the Government estates khas management is said to be a failure in the case of changing churs, which can only be managed and settled by resident farmers. This question will be dealt with in connection with the land revenue report.

15. Excise and stamps.—Excise gave an increased revenue of Rs. 27,406, with a satisfactory decrease in the consumption of both opium and ganja. The improvement of the revenue was due to higher prices. The stamp revenue increased by Rs. 2,14,975, a good sign of the prosperity of the division.

16. Education.—The number of schools has risen by 112, and of pupils by 3,137, notwithstanding a decrease of pupils in Furreedpore, owing, it is said, to the high prices, and in the Dacca returns owing to the exclusion of tols. The chief increase is in Backergunge, indicating that the effects of the cyclone are ceasing to be felt. All districts except Furreedpore show an increase in female pupils, which are now 5,023 against 4,270 in the year before. The number of Mahomedan pupils has increased by 2,526, and they did better in the scholarship examinations; but looking to the great numbers of the Mahomedan population, their proportion to Hindoos in the upper and middle schools is very unsatisfactory.

17. Committees.—The Commissioner very truly remarks that the interest local committees take in their work is generally in proportion to their responsibility. If the members are at all judiciously chosen and have real work to do, they generally do it very fairly. The Road Cess and Municipal Committees have as a rule shewn much interest in their duties, while the Education Committees take generally none. The Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to think that for this last fact the Magistrates have themselves to blame. There is ample educational work still for the Committees to do if they are encouraged to take it up. The interest which is sometimes taken by native gentlemen in local matters is well exemplified in the following extract from the report, which the Lieutenant-Governor has noticed with much pleasure:—"The (leading) Municipal Commissioners of Mooktagacha are the Alapsing zemindars. They have not only taxed themselves heavily, but have made further contributions to the funds in money, and have devoted their time to the improvement of Mooktagacha, converting it from a swamp and a jungle into a well-drained collection of houses supplied with an excellent tank. In Sherepore the improvements have been more gradual, as money has not been available to such an extent; but the improvements are nevertheless real and visible, and are chiefly due to the exertions of a resident zemindar, Baboo Har Chunder Chowdry." At the same time the Lieutenant-Governor regrets to find how often Committees are to be found who show a lamentable indifference to the work entrusted to them. On a late occasion the Lieutenant-Governor offered to give a very large grant to a Road Cess Committee if they would accept the terms which he suggested to them, and which they verbally approved of. Yet none of the members could be induced to attend a meeting called to formally consider the matter the day the Lieutenant-Governor left the station. Some of those most interested in the work declined to remain for only 12 hours more in the sudder station for the purpose. The consequence was that there was no quorum, and a work to which the inhabitants attached the greatest importance remains in suspense.

18. Conduct of zemindars.—The Dacca district has suffered a loss in the death of Rajah Kali Narain Rai, who both in public and in private life was a man deserving of the highest praise. To Nawabs Abdool Ghani and Ahsanoolah the town of Dacca owes a debt of gratitude. In Mymensingh the Alapsing zemindars, Raj Surjakant Acharjea, and several others are specially mentioned, and generally the zemindars in the district are said to have lived on good terms with their tenantry and one another during the past year. The one exception was Baboo Mohim Chunder Roi Chowdry, who is said to have made over the "miscellaneous collections" of his estate to his amlah, which they were to realise in lieu of pay—an idea which speedily led to very serious results. The Magistrate had to intervene, and a barrister has now been engaged by the zemindar to manage the estate. It is not stated whether this gentleman is to be remunerated in the same way, or whether the objectionable system has been changed. The estates of the Maharajah of Tipperah are reported to be badly managed. Rai Annoda Prashad Rai Bahadoor on the other hand is favourably spoken of.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 24th September 1878.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Division for 1877-78.

The report is submitted by the Officiating Commissioner, Mr. W. S. Wells. Lord Ulick Browne was in charge of the division throughout the year.

2. Annual tours.—The Commissioner and most of the district officers appear to have been sufficiently active in moving about the interior of their jurisdictions. Mr. D'Oyly, the Collector of Rajshahye, was, however, decidedly remiss in this respect, and Mr. Livesay, in Rungpore, also cut his tour somewhat short. It is stated generally that the sub-divisional officers visited the greater portion of their sub-districts. It would have been more satisfactory to know how long each was out in camp.

3. Weather and crops.—The rainfall in every district, except Julpigoree and Darjeeling, was in excess of that of 1876-77. As compared with the average of former years, it is said to have been deficient in Dinagepore, Bogra, Julpigoree and Darjeeling, while it was in excess in Rungpore, Rajshahye and Pubna. The average fall of former years should have been shown in the table, with a note of the number of years on which it is taken for each district. It is impossible to gather from the report whether the distribution of the rainfall was favourable or the reverse, as in one sentence it is said that "the distribution of rain was fairly seasonable in every district except Julpigoree," while a few lines further on the Commissioner states that "the year was characterised by a very irregular distribution of heat and rain, the rainfall being excessive when much was not required, and deficient when most needed."

4. The rice crop appears to have been full, or up to the average, in Dinagepore, Rungpore, Rajshahye, and Bogra. In Pubna the late rice suffered from deficient inundation, and in Julpigoree both early and late rice gave a short outturn. In Darjeeling also there was partial failure. The jute crop was everywhere good except in Julpigoree. Tobacco in Rungpore yielded only an average crop, and in Julpigoree the outturn was decidedly short. The yield of indigo was good, especially in Rajshahye, where the plants did not suffer as they often do from a too sudden rise of the Ganges. Sugarcane yielded well in Rungpore; badly in Bogra. The cold-weather crops were generally below the average, except in Pubna and Rajshahye. The crop of ganja was decidedly poor.

The report professes to state for most districts the area under cultivation for rice, jute, tobacco, and indigo, as also the average yield per acre of each of these crops. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot, however, place such confidence in these figures as to venture to reproduce them as a whole. Some of them are certainly open to very serious doubt. Thus the average yield of paddy in Rungpore is given at 10 to 12 maunds per acre, though the early rice is said to have been a good crop, and the late rice at least an average one. The special statistical enquiries made in Rungpore showed 21 maunds of paddy to be the average outturn of one-crop land, 30 maunds the average of two-crop lands, and 15 maunds the average of land growing rice and other crops simultaneously. Mr. Otley's "Note on rice statistics," and Mr. Macdonnell's Examination of the food-grain supply of Rungpore both go to show that 10 to 12 maunds is an unduly low estimate. The figures given in the report for the outturn of rice in other districts are but little more reliable. The figures of the outturn of jute are in some instances so aburd, as only to be explained by carelessness in copying, as where Pubna is said to have had 5,470 acres under jute, giving an outturn of 10,83,750 maunds, or 198 maunds per acre. The outturn in Rajshahye is put at 30 maunds an acre, which, as the Commissioner says, 'seems high.' The Jute Commission thought about 15 maunds an acre a fairly high estimate. For Bogra the report itself gives something over 8 maunds an acre, and for Rungpore about 12 maunds. It was not worth while to burden the report with statistics of this unreliable description. The Lieutenant-Governor objected last year to the report being made up of a string of vague generalities; but he would rather have no statistics at all than those which are only misleading. At the same time it is only fair to acknowledge that in other sections of the report a good deal of useful information has been put together.

5. Public health.—The year was generally an unhealthy one, mainly owing to the abnormal prevalence of fever in a severe and fatal form. Cholera was severe at Serajgunge, where it broke out in an epidemic form in October among the floating population, of whom there were 20,000 to 30,000 gathered there at the time. It was checked by moving the boats to the main stream of the Jamoona, but spread to various parts of the district and caused many deaths. The disease also appeared in epidemic form in Bogra and the Gaibanda sub-division of Rungpore. Julpigoree was singularly free from the disease, and it had disappeared entirely from the Darjeeling tea gardens. The Collector of Dinagepore gives a melancholy account of the desertion of villages in the south-east of that district, owing to the repeated ravages of fever and cholera. It is stated that Sonthals and other immigrants are being brought in and settled on the lands in place of the former inhabitants; and probably jungly races will stand a better chance of life there as long as fever only is the prevailing disease. In Rampore Beauleah and other parts of Rajshahye the same virulent type of fever committed great ravages, and people at once attributed it to the stoppage of drainage by the Northern Bengal State Railway, although the first 30 miles of this, which specially affected Rajshahye, had existed for years in the shape of the embankment of the old Nattore road. Pubna, Bogra, and Rungpore all suffered from fever in the same way. Measures are being taken to improve the drainage of the stations of Rungpore and Dinagepore, and the Public Works Department will be requested to direct a special enquiry into the drainage conditions of the whole tract affected by this fever, with a view to ascertain whether there has been any marked change of level, or any extensive silting up of natural channels which would account for the outbreak, or point to a remedy.

The success which has attended Dr. Lidderdale's vaccine operations has been very marked. Very few cases of small-pox were reported, and the disease has been practically almost stamped out in Bogra and Rajshahye, while 165,093 persons were vaccinated last year in Dinagepore.

6. Material condition of the people.—Notwithstanding their sufferings from fever and other maladies, the agricultural classes of this division are now extremely prosperous, and even the districts in which the crops were a little short got more than an ordinary money return, owing to the brisk demand for export to the south. The non-agricultural classes, especially the petty shop-keepers and men on fixed salaries, suffered from the rise in prices, but the artizans and those who work for wages were able to push up their rates of remuneration, which have indeed always in most parts of this division been tolerably high.

7. Emigration.—There is no emigration from the division. On the contrary, there is a constant demand for imported labour. Upwards of 10,000 coolies passed through en route for Dhubri and the tea districts. They suffered severely from cholera at first, but now that serais, hospitals, and medical attendance are provided at regular intervals from the Northern Bengal State Railway terminus up to Dhubri itself, the mortality should be kept down to a minimum. It is satisfactory to learn that the road between Rungpore and Dhubri is remarkably well furnished with supplies, moodies' shops existing every three miles or so, and more having been opened recently. The serais on the road between Rajmehal and the railway at Parbuttipore will shortly be put up and native doctors posted, as it appears that gangs of sirdari coolies are likely still to use that route. The usual immigration of labourers from the Sonthal Pergunahs took place in the cold weather, some 10,000 of them finding employment in Dinagepore alone, besides those working on the roads and railway. About 6,000 Nepalese and Dhangur coolies came into Julpigoree in the year. There are now about 25,000 Nepalese and Dhangur coolies working on tea gardens in the Hills and Terai.

8. The Nekmurd Fair drew together about 200,000 people in April, and was successful and free from epidemic. About 16,000 head of cattle were sold at high rates, 50 elephants (at an average price of 1,200 each), 180 hill ponies, and nearly 2,500 country ponies; 105 camels were sold, sacrificed at the shrine of a Mahomedan saint near the fair, and eaten; 150 big-tailed sheep from Cabul were also sold, but whether to improve the local breed or for purposes of sacrifice does not appear. Some information as to the sale of piece-goods, salt, &c., would have been interesting.

9. Prices of food.—Prices were everywhere abnormally high, owing to the unprecedented export. The average price in Dinagepore was 20 seers 14 chittacks a rupee. In Rajshahye the rates ranged from 17 to 21 seers, and have risen since the close of the year to 12 and 13. In Pubna the average was 15 seers, and at the close of the year 12 was the ruling rate. In Bogra also prices rose. to 14 seers 10 chittacks in March, the average of the year being 20 seers 10 chittacks. In Rungpore the average was about 20 seers, prices rising at times to 16½ seers. In Julpigoree the average rate was 16 seers. In Darjeeling rice is always dear, and, as the Indian-corn crop failed, the market was abnormally high all round.

10. Manufactures.—There are 57 large silk filatures in Rajshahye and 100 small private looms: the large works employ 19,450 men and 500 women; the private looms about 3,000 persons. The annual outturn of silk is about 4,000 maunds. The past year was a better one for the trade than the year preceding, but the market had again become dull at its close. It is calculated that 80,000 acres are under mulberry in this district. There is still a little silk manufacture in Bogra, where 60 looms employ some 480 workmen. The area under indigo in Rajshahye was estimated for 1877-78 at 16,800 acres, and the outturn at 1,308 maunds. The relations of planters and ryots were satisfactory. In Pubna indigo seems to be dying out. The area cultivated last year was only 4,224 acres. In Rungpore the jotedars here and there cultivate the plant, the area taken up being about 13,300 acres and the produce 1,669 maunds. This class of small cultivation will probably take the place of large factories in many parts of Bengal. The outturn of tea in Darjeeling last year was 4,946,630lbs. as compared with 4,181,622lbs. in 1876-77. The number of gardens rose from 132 to 136. In the Western Dooars 12,732 acres have been already leased out for gardens, and 27 applications for grants are pending. The plant has only reached maturity in six gardens, over 303 acres, and the outturn was 33,119lbs. The opening out of the trans-Teesta tract in the Dumsong sub-division will afford a fresh field for planting enterprise. Nearly all the cinchona now grown in the hills is on the Government gardens. The Serajgunge Jute Company turned out 96,000 maunds of gunnies from their mills last year, and in the Julpigoree district 1,600,000 bags were manufactured, the demand being great for the purposes of rice trade. It is not stated whether gunny-weaving is practised in any other district, though from a subsequent paragraph it would seem that Bogra, at any rate, exports gunny-bags.

11. Trade.—The export trade of the division was very brisk during the year, especially in rice and jute. The value of the exports from Dinagepore is estimated at Rs. 80,94,100, and from Rungpore at Rs. 95,00,000. Dinagepore exported about 44,00,000 maunds of rice, half to Calcutta and half to the North-West and Behar. Rajshahye exported about 2,20,000 maunds, Bogra 5,60,000 maunds, Rungpore about 6,00,000 maunds. The jute exports of Dinagepore were estimated at a value of Rs. 11,18,058 for about five lakhs of maunds: Serajgunge took nearly 18 lakhs of maunds of jute for conversion into gunny-bags for re-export to Calcutta. Rungpore exported 14 lakhs of maunds; Bogra about one lakh of maunds of jute and one and a half lakhs of maunds of gunny-bags. The Rungpore export of tobacco was estimated to be six lakhs of maunds, valued at Rs. 30,00,000. Dinagepore and Julpigoree had also a considerable trade in this article. The trade in hides is said to be growing, especially in Rungpore and Bogra. Rajshahye deals largely in linseed and pulses. The chief imports of the division are salt, sugar, and piece-goods. The frontier trade with Nepal, Sikkim, Thibet, and Bhootan continues to improve slowly.

12. Public feeling.—The mass of the population is agricultural, and regards with indifference everything not immediately and personally affecting it. The better classes here and there showed some interest in the Turko-Russian war, leaning always to the side of the Turks. There are traces of a growing interest in local matters—village roads, the proper expenditure of the cess, and municipal improvements. The Collector of Rajshahye notes the increase of an unemployed, half-educated middle class, which is, he thinks, both useless and mischievous, looking only to Government service and discontented, because it is not provided for by the State. Mr. D'Oyly, however, observes—"As civilisation progresses new paths of industry will be opened out, and knowledge will lead the native youths to follow these paths and wean them from the idea that the only use of education is to prepare them for Government service." The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that Mr. D'Oyly's anticipations will in fact in time be realized. English education is year by year becoming more self-sustaining, though it is not yet in a condition to be left to itself. No doubt the hope of public employment was one of the main incentives used at first to encourage education; and when the supply of educated natives was more proportionate to the demand, a large number of those who had gone to some expense in educating their children were rewarded by seeing them obtain Government employment. Obviously with the present annual outturn of lads from our schools who have received a certain amount of education, only a small fraction of them can be employed by Government, and there is not unnaturally some grumbling and discontent among the large class of young men, who, very often with an exaggerated idea of their own qualifications and attainments, find themselves unsuited for the callings followed by their fathers, and unable to obtain employment of a more intellectual kind. The only remedy for this is time. Necessity will eventually drive these young men to seek employment of a kind from which their early training and social prejudices at present make them shrink. Already trading companies are being formed with native shareholders and directors, and by degrees a number of new ambitions will spring up, which will divert the attention of the educated classes from the fixed idea of the public service. No doubt a mistake has been made in carrying English education down to too low a class of schools, which have been teaching English badly instead of teaching the vernacular well; but this is being gradually remedied. There are very few who would propose what amounts practically to withdrawing the civilising influences of English education from the people altogether to punish the foolish petulance of a small and disappointed class. The true remedy is to widen the basis and scope of education, so as to open up new fields for the energies of the literate classes. The Government is endeavouring to do this by fostering technical and special education.

The Land Registration Act is beginning to be appreciated and approved. The Act for the Voluntary Registration of Mohamedan Marriages seems to have met with more success than in the Dacca Division, but is still unpopular with zemindars, moollahs, and others who profited by the old state of things.

13. Public press.—There are only three vernacular newspapers published in the division, and one of these only appears at irregular intervals. The Hindoo Ranjika, which was one of the best of the local papers, is said to have abandoned its quiet and loyal tone, and to have got into the hands of writers who do their best to create feelings of discontent and class hatred between Europeans and Natives; and certainly the quotations made by Mr. D'Oyly bear out the impression. Fortunately it has only 200 subscribers.

14. Police and crime.—There was a marked decrease in both cognizable and non-cognizable crime in the year 1877 in nearly every district. It is particularly satisfactory to note that in Pubna this is said to have been brought about by a better understanding between landlords and tenants, and that throughout the division offences against public tranquillity, once so common, are now fast decreasing. It might be inferred, however, from the remarks made in a subsequent paragraph, that the present relations of landlord and tenant are rather those of truce than of established peace; for, in curious contradiction to his assertion of improved relations in paragraph 57, the Commissioner, in paragraph 73, describes Pubna as a "hotbed of slumbering discontent and distrust between landlord and tenant." In Rungpore also, the Collector says, the feeling between the zemindars and their ryots is every day becoming more complicated and unsatisfactory, and it is clear that the present improvement in the crime of the division may not prove lasting. From what the Lieutenant-Governor hears from other sources, however, he believes that the Collector takes an unreasonably gloomy view of the matter. The diminution of dacoity in Dinagepore, Rungpore, and Julpigoree is a noticeable feature in the return, and may be attributed not only to improved police, but to the general prosperity of those districts during the last few years. The bench system of trial has worked fairly well, especially in Dinagepore and Rungpore. The results in Dinagepore, which are particularly good (525 cases tried with 463 convictions and 211 acquittals) are due to the efficient assistance of Moulvie Mahomed Ali, the retired Government Pleader. In Rajshahye the system seems to have been badly worked, only 13 cases being disposed of in this way. Much of the improvement in the criminal administration is said to be due to the reorganization of the village watch under Act VI (B.C.) of 1870. There have been, and there are, difficulties in the way of the efficient working of this Act, but its general success is absolutely undeniable.

15. Civil justice.—In most of the districts the good harvests and high prices led, as usual, to increased litigation. In Dinagepore, however, this was checked by the extreme unhealthiness of the season and the consequent frequent changes in the personnel of the subordinate courts. Complaints of delay are rife here as elsewhere, but the work in all the courts is said to be overwhelming.

16. Land revenue administration.—The revenue was realized with the usual ease in the permanently settled districts, the percentage of collections being—

Rungpore	...	... 99·46	Julpigoree	...	... 94
Dinagepore	...	... 98·62	Pubna	...	... 88·1
Bogra	...	... 98·26	Darjeeling	...	... 59
Rajshahye	...	... 97·6

In Pubna the balances are due mainly from temporarily settled estates, and a large sum will have to be remitted. The balances in Julpigoree from ryotwari tracts have since been nearly realized. The collections in Darjeeling are attributed to the absence of the tehsildars on leave, but in fact the revenue system of this district is not satisfactory, and the Board will be requested to consider how it can best be put upon a legal footing. The collections from Government estates were everywhere satisfactory, except in Pubna, where, however, large remissions have to be made for diluvion.

The settlements of the Western Dooars and Darjeeling Terai made good progress, and the work under the Land Registration Act was diligently pushed on and is well advanced everywhere, except in Pubna, where peculiar difficulties have been felt from the extraordinary multiplicity of joint owners.

17. Excise.—The excise revenue increased by Rs. 45,430, of which Rs. 14,637 came from country spirits, Rs. 13,064 from ganja, Rs. 10,884 from opium, and Rs. 4,913 from imported liquors. The increase in the sale of country spirits is satisfactory, indicating as it does that the measures for stopping illicit distillation, so common in several districts of this division, have been partially successful. The increase from ganja may be partly due to a rise of price, but is partly also, the Lieutenant-Governor regrets to notice, attributable to increased consumption in Rajshahye. The increased consumption of both opium and ganja has been recently met by a rise of duty. There is no doubt a great deal of truth in what the Commissioner says of the mischief done by the undue rise in the price of country spirits through the manipulation of the cliques who in several districts monopolise the existing licenses. The Collectors should do all they can to break up such monopolies, and the extension of the out-still system will do much to put an end to it. There are thousands of spirit-drinkers in this division, and it is better that they should use a cheap wholesome weak liquor in moderation than be driven to the consumption of deleterious drugs.

18. Stamps.—The returns show an increase of Rs. 53,891 in the stamp revenue of the division, chiefly in court fee stamps, owing to increased litigation and the work under the Land Registration Act. The increase in Pubna and Bogra is attributed "to the gradual settlement of disputes between landlords and tenants, regarding arrears of rent and other matters, and the consequent execution of a large number of kubooliyuts, pottahs, and kistbundee agreements." This hardly tallies with the Commissioner's previous description of Pubna as a "hotbed of slumbering discontent" between these two classes. The Collector and Commissioner seem, from the manner in which contradictory statements on this point alternate in the report, not to have been able to make up their minds as to the state of things in Pubna; and it is to be hoped that the Commissioner has occasionally made the mistake of accepting the unfortunate state of things notoriously existing in one or two estates for a general indication of the relations between landlord and tenant. It is very satisfactory to note an increase of Rs. 12,959 in the sale of postage stamps.

19. Monetary arrangements.—The brisk trade of the year led to marked activity in the receipts and issues of currency notes. They are largely used for purposes of remittance, and frequently command a premium in the bazars. The use of money orders is very limited, and, while some districts show an increase, others show a decrease in the year of review. The use of savings banks is confined to Government officers and persons about the courts. The Commissioner thinks they would be more freely resorted to if opened at sub-divisions and in the interior with improved facilities for deposits and drawing.

20. Railways and communications.—The Northern Bengal State Railway was opened for traffic between Sara and Julpigoree on the 18th January 1878, and has already taken much traffic from the roads and rivers of the division. There can be little doubt of its complete success when once completed and in full working order. There were complaints last year that its bank had prevented the full amount of inundation from reaching parts of Rajshahye and Bogra, but, as is pointed out by the Commissioner, the inundation was abnormally low at any rate, and the present year will give a better test of the adequacy of the waterways provided. In Rungpore the Dhubri emigration road was pushed on vigorously, and the arrangements for coolie traffic are well advanced. The road administration in Dinagepore, Pubna, and Julpigoree was weak and inefficient. Funds are scarce in Julpigoree, but in Pubna and Dinagepore some blame must attach to the district authorities. The attention paid to village roads in several districts is very satisfactory. The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to know upon what grounds the Commissioner states that "a good deal of useful road work was done in Rajshahye; the principal was the metalling of the Nattore Road, in which good progress was made." So far from this being the case, the roads which existed in Rajshahye years ago have been allowed to become impassable, and the metalling of the Nattore Road had not even been estimated for when the Lieutenant-Governor visited Rajshahye a few weeks back, though it was ordered two years ago, a state of things hardly consistent with the Commissioner's assurance.

21. Education.—In Dinagepore primary schools have increased, and a system of payment by results is being tried, but the number of middle English and vernacular schools has decreased. Altogether the district is very backward. In Rajshahye there was an increased attendance at primary schools, and middle and higher education seems also to be fairly flourishing: Pubna and Bogra also exhibit improved results. But in Rungpore there has been a serious decrease in primary schools and scholars, owing apparently to the working of an ill-considered system of payments by results, which has since been amended. Julpigoree shows some advance, but is still one of the most backward districts in a backward division. In Darjeeling neither the mission schools nor the primary schools in the Terai seem to flourish. Mr. Macfarlane is "beginning to despair of making anything of the children of the coolies on the tea gardens." The Deputy Commissioner should endeavour to induce the planters to co-operate with him in bringing about a more hopeful state of things. Of the station schools in Darjeeling itself, the Bhootea School is said to be promising, having twenty pupils on its rolls, and the Diocesan Girls' School is now showing signs of marked improvement.

22. Wards' estates.—There are 23 estates in charge of the Court of Wards in this division, and in nearly all the collections were satisfactory last year. Those which are still encumbered with debt are slowly improving. There has been a marked improvement in the management of the Chaklajat estates of the Cooch Behar Raj. The Commissioner calls attention to the manner in which the civil courts make over to the Collector, for management, estates ruined by the extravagance of the owners, and which there is no hope of managing creditably. This has been objected to by other Commissioners, and will be considered in connection with the Board's annual report on Wards' estates.

23. Conduct of zemindars.—The conduct of the zemindars has been good in every district save Pubna. In Rungpore, Baboo Nobin Chunder Roy Chowdry and Baboo Govind Lal Roy have both made handsome grants of land towards the improvement of the drainage of the town. Other zemindars have also subscribed liberally for this work. Baboo Nobin Chunder Roy Chowdry has also made a liberal grant of Rs. 20,000 towards the construction of an iron bridge over the Alikuri river. Mr. Taylor's description of the feuds and enmities of the zemindars of Pubna is a melancholy, though it is to be feared a true, picture. Baboo Saroda Prosad Gangooly, trustee of the Dwarkanath Tagore estates, alone receives favourable mention in this district.

CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Sep. 20 '78	2·53	Weather—seasonable. Alternate sunshine and rain. No change to report Everything is promising well up to date, and bumper crops of all kinds may be expected. Cholera is steadily diminishing.
41	Lohardugga, „ 21 „	1·44	Weather—seasonable, with rain and sunshine alternating. Indian-corn has
	Palamow ...	0·75	yielded an overflowing crop in most places. Gora has been mostly housed and has given excellent returns. All other crops promise well, and a bumper harvest may be expected if the rains continue another fortnight. Fever is still prevalent.
42	Singbhoom, „ 20 „	3·03	Weather—seasonable. There have been heavy showers almost every day, besides lots of sunshine, and the mornings are becoming cool and pleasant The crops are all that can be wished. The reaping of the gora dhan, mugh, Indian-corn, til, &c., is still going on with very satisfactory results, and the rubbee crops are being sown. The price of dhan varies from 16 to 24 seers per rupee. Fever still prevails, and many deaths from dysentery have been reported during the week.
43	Manbhoom, „ 21 „	2·38	Weather—favourable. The reports received from the police are generally favourable both as regards the bhadoi harvest and the low land crops on the ground. The Deputy Commissioner has, however, been lately on a visit to some small pergunnahs in the west of the district, where he found that considerable injury had been done to the bhadoi harvest, excepting Indian-corn, by an insect. The low land crops are somewhat backward, and those which belong to the poorer classes are in great need of weeding, which the owners are too poor to pay for. There has been a good deal of distress in these pergunnahs which is in course of relief.

* Report of 22nd shows rainfall during week ending 21st.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet in elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof., Papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by o, and one completely overcast by 10.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA. ALEXANDER PEDLER.

Reports of fluctuation of Traffic on the East Indian Railway from 28th July to 24th August 1878.

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY, TRAFFIC MANAGER'S OFFICE, JAMALPORE, THE 17TH SEPTEMBER 1878.

Remarks on Traffic of East Indian Railway from 28th July to 24th August 1878.

THE approximate figures for the period are—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1878	495,597	5,67,912	29,58,011	12,26,555	17,94,467
1877...	478,602	5,71,[illegible]	51,29,946	22,00,466	27,71,799
Increases	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Decreases	[illegible]	3,901	21,71,935	9,73,911	9,77,312

In merchandise traffic—The principal fluctuations are—

Increases.

Hides. | Foreign Railway material.
Piece-goods. | Tobacco.

Decreases.

Commissariat beer. Grain and pulses. Jaggree. Seeds.
Coal Gunny. Salt. Stone.
Cotton. Iron. Saltpetre. Sugar.
Government stores.

Increases.

Hides ... ... Mds. 15,781 Rs. 13,641

This traffic is still brisk in Calcutta and supplies plentiful.

Piece-goods ... ... Mds. 7,837 Rs. 11,506

The increase is but a slight one; it is a dull season, and very small causes may lead to such fluctuations.

Foreign railway material ... ... Mds. 47,256 Rs. 41,010

This is the only really large increase over last year's figures; it arises in large measure from despatch of rails from Bombay to Agra for the "Scindia" State Railway.

There were also some heavy despatches from Howrah for the Gya line.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 8,076 Rs. 3,647

The tobacco season was drawing to a close, but the increased traffic which has distinguished it has continued to the last.

Decreases.

Coal, upward ... ... Mds. —97,130 Rs. —45,588 downward ... ... ,, +36,579 ,, +4,492
Net decrease ... ... ,, —60,551 ,, —41,096

The decrease in upward coal is of course explained by the comparative stagnation of traffic on the railways, which were last season drawing on us so largely for coal to meet emergent demands.

Cotton ... ... Mds. 10,783 Rs. 17,535

Grain and pulses ... ... Mds. 14,81,708 Rs. 5,74,710

This may be best divided as under—

Wheat	Tons.	20,500	Rs.	3,32,000
Rice	,,	9,700	,,	52,000
Other cereals	,,	5,300	,,	52,000
Pulses	,,	18,900	,,	1,38,000
		54,400		5,74,000

I need make no remarks on this decrease, as the whole question has been so fully dealt with in recent reports.

Gunny ... ... Mds 38,715 Rs. 39,838

This naturally follows the decrease in produce traffic; the earning is, however, about one-third greater than it was in August 1876.

Jaggree ... ... Mds. 11,037 Rs. 2,205
Sugar ... ... ,, 31,384 ,, 9,633

With jaggree the falling off has been mainly in traffic from Oudh and Rohilkhund Railway viâ Cawnpore and Allyghur, owing to failure of crops in those districts, and to poverty in the districts which usually draw jaggree from them.

As to sugar, the very exceptional position of matters, both as to crops and to foreign demands, has been repeatedly remarked on in these reports of late.

Salt ... ... Mds. 92,649 Rs. 20,285

The salt traffic in August 1877 was exceptionally large, as was remarked at the time; the figures for three years are—

1876	Tons.	7,000	Rs.	52,650
1877	,,	12,700	,,	91,903
1878	,,	9,300	,,	71,600
Saltpetre	Mds.	18,192	,,	13,081

The demand for saltpetre has slackened; the exports from Calcutta in all August were under 1,000 tons.
The earnings are almost precisely the same as in August 1876.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 3,44,198 Rs. 1,80,945

In 1877 the seed traffic had been largely interfered with by the heavy demand for grain, and came forward later in the season, while this year there has been a serious deficit in the seed crop of the North-Western Provinces, and yet the weight carried down in the first half of the year was unusually great.

The train mileage for the period has been—

	Coaching.	Goods.	Total.
1878	187,050	235,122	422,178
1877	177,572	433,976	611,548
Increases	9,484	.....	.....
Decreases	.....	198,854	189,370

Earnings per train mile—

	Coaching.	Goods.	Total.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
1878	3 0 7	5 3 6	4 4 0
1877	3 3 6	5 1 2	4 8 6
		0 2 4	...
		.....	0 4 6

JUBBULPORE LINE TRAFFIC.

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1878	19,705	48,199	2,29,500	70,601	1,18,800
1877	22,693	53,171	9,89,412	2,46,624	2,99,795
Increases	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....
Decreases	2,988	4,972	7,59,912	1,76,023	1,80,995

The decrease in coaching earnings is a merely temporary fluctuation, dependent in a great measure on pilgrimages and their seasons; and on the decrease in merchandise traffic I need not dwell looking at the exceptional circumstances under which the Jubbulpore line was working last year.

The train mileage has been—

	Coaching.	Goods.
1878	18,321	16,940
1877	18,272	54,355
Increases	49	.. ..	.. ..
Decreases	.....	37,415	37,366

The proportion of decrease in goods train mileage being nearly the same as in goods earnings.

Passenger boats.—A charge of one anna per head per mile on 1st class passengers, i.e., by steamers and boats and ¼ (quarter) pie per head per mile for all other passengers over and above the toll leviable from the boats or steamers by measurement. This charge to be leviable from the owners of boats or steamers and not from the passengers, except when a Government boat or steamer is hired by any person for his exclusive use. The hire in such cases charged by Government is for the use of the boat, and the tollage of boat, plus mileage charge per head, will be levied from the passenger at the rate of one anna.

Empty boats.—To be charged on tonnage of the boat itself as ascertained from its draught for displacement.

Exemption.—From payment of canal dues at the above rates for goods will not be allowed to any department or departments. The canal officers, i.e., those directly in charge of irrigation works, and whose duty will necessitate travelling through the canal for inspection thereof, and the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, will be allowed to pass free of tollage. All other Government officers, heretofore passed free on grant of certificates of being on duty, will be expected to pay the required tollage for themselves and baggage boats.

Special rate.—Allowed to Messrs. Bullock, Welsted and Co. for their boats and passenger steamers, will cease from the 1st October next, and they will be charged thereafter similarly as the general public at the rates above notified, their boats and steamers being measured in accordance with existing rules for such measurement.

Demurrage.—The number of days which a boat entering the canal by booking or paying tollage at one of the locks may remain in it without additional payment, shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles or portion of eight miles to be traversed. Boats remaining for a longer period will pay a demurrage of eight annas per 100 maunds per diem for each day or part of a day that they may remain in excess.

DRAFT RULES PROPOSED UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1876.

Dated the 10th September 1878.

No. 249.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Sone Canals which it is proposed to substitute for the rules passed and published at pages 938 to 943, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd August 1876.

Rule under Act III (B.C.) of 1876.

1. The Collector, before awarding compensation under sections 16 and 17 of the Act, shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

2. Water shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, loss from wastage is likely to occur. From the decision of the Divisional Canal Officer an appeal shall lie to the Superintending Canal Officer, whose order shall be final.

3. Water shall not ordinarily be granted where the length of the water-course, from its head to its point of contact with the village boundary, would exceed two (2) miles.

4. Water for irrigation shall not be supplied, except through a water-course so constructed and maintained that, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer—

(a) the water will pass without wastage;

(b) the existing necessary lines of communication, the flow of drainage water, and the passage of water for irrigation, will not be obstructed.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer may withhold or postpone the grant of water for a crop to any cultivator whose fields he may have ascertained by personal inspection (by himself or one of his assistants) to be unprepared for irrigation by division into compartments not greater in area than 1 cottah or 1361·25 superficial feet, and by the addition of small water-channels, as is customary in irrigation from wells.

Rice-fields are exempted from the operation of this rule.

NOTE.—This rule shall only apply in those cases in which the discovery is made previous to the first watering of a crop; the water having been once given cannot be withheld for that crop, but a higher rate may be levied as provided in Rule 25.

6. Persons desiring to construct a village channel shall prefer a written application to the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer. In the latter case the application shall be forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer.

7. The application, if granted, shall be subject to the Act, and also, unless otherwise specially agreed upon, be deemed granted under the following conditions:—

(a)—That the water supplied shall not be used for other purposes than irrigation without the written consent of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer.

(b)—That the applicants nominate a headman known or ascertained to be a substantial person possessed of property to attend to their interests to receive and carry out the orders of the Canal Officers, to distribute the water among the shareholders in the water-course according to their shares, and to collect and pay in to the Collector, or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the lands watered from the water-course. Such headman shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Penal Code.

(c)—That in any case where persons desirous of taking water fail to appoint a headman, or cannot agree among themselves as to the headman, the Collector shall nominate, and the Divisional Canal Officer appoint a headman.

(d)—That the headman shall furnish security for the payment of all sums realized by him, the stamp and registration fees on security bonds being deducted from the percentage allowed under Rule 10.

(e)—That for each crop, previous to water being taken for any field, application shall be made in the prescribed form (appendix A) through the said headman to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer or other officer authorized to receive such applications, and that no water shall be taken until after the receipt of a "permit" (appendix B) from such officer.

(f)—That in any case where the Divisional Canal Officer, owing to the known recusancy of any village, or of any class of cultivators, anticipates difficulty in realizing water-rates, he shall intimate the same to the Collector or Sub-Deputy Collector, in whose option it shall be to require payment of water-rates in advance.

(g)—That any other cultivators in the same village, able and willing to irrigate their lands from the said water-course, shall be admitted as shareholders in the water-course on paying their proportionate share (to be determined by the amount of land they hold) of the first cost and maintenance of the water-course.

(h)—That all alterations in the number of shareholders, distribution of shares, or nomination of headman, shall be reported through the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer for the sanction of the Divisional Canal Officer.

8. The Divisional Canal Officer may accept the nominee of the shareholders in a water-course as "headman" of such water-course, and is empowered to pay him the fees as hereinbelow detailed, subject to the condition of satisfactory performance of duty.

9. The allowance to the headman of a water-course for duties connected with that water-course, such as arranging that it shall be kept in proper repair, seeing that no lands obtain water without a regular "permit," distributing the water to the shareholders, seeing to the outlet being closed according to the orders of the Divisional Canal Officer, and generally assisting the officers of the Irrigation Department, shall be 5 per cent. on the assessments of canal water-rates derived from the water-courses in his charge. The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees under this rule in the event of the conditions not being complied with.

10. The allowance to the headman of a water-course for collecting the water-rates shall be 3 per cent. on the assessments, and shall be paid by the Collector on receipt of the full payment of demand for that crop and not otherwise, unless he can satisfy the Collector that the balance in arrear is so through no negligence of his. The payment to be made within two months of the dates named in the permit.

11. An appeal against retrenchment under Rules 9 and 10 shall lie to the Superintending Canal Officer and Commissioner respectively, if preferred within thirty days of such retrenchment, and the Superintending Canal Officer or Commissioner's decision shall be final.

12. Contracts between the Divisional Canal Officer on the part of Government and private individuals for the use of water as a motive power, or for any other purpose whatsoever not included in the published schedule of rates, shall, if for any period not exceeding one year, require the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

If for longer periods, such contracts shall be submitted for the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor in the Irrigation Department.

13. Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge and without reference to the area irrigated in any village, whenever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependent on any canal, under the following regulations:—

(a)—No tank shall be so filled unless exclusively used for domestic purposes, and for watering cattle; such tanks are generally in the immediate neighbourhood of villages.

(b)—No tank shall be so filled from which irrigation is practised.

(c)—No tank shall be so filled which, intercepting any line of drainage, is liable to overflow from accumulation of water derived from natural causes.

(d)—No tank shall be so filled except on the written order of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, issued on the written applications of the parties concerned. The filling of tanks can only be permitted at such times and to such extent as the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer approves.

(e)—No tank shall be so filled unless the water-course used to fill it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

(f)—The privilege herein accorded may be suspended for twelve months for breach of these regulations by written order of the Divisional Canal Officer, subject, however, to revision by the Superintending Engineer, whose decision shall be final.

14. The Divisional Canal Officer may, by written order under section 76 (a) (ii), stop the supply to any water-course when he has satisfied himself by personal inspection (by himself or one of his assistants) that the water-course is not maintained in proper repair. Immediate report of any such closure shall be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, and the special ground for stoppage explained.

15. The Divisional Canal Officer may, under section 76 (a) (iii), regulate the distribution of the available water in proportion to the average area irrigated from the several outlets, or in proportion to the quantities of water contracted for, and may close the outlets in rotation as shall be necessary.

Such periodical closures shall not extend beyond ten consecutive days, and shall be notified to the headman of water-courses. For longer closures the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer is required.

Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to affect the power of the Superintending or any Divisional Officer to stop any supply of water in case of pressing emergency.

16. The water-gauges on distributaries or other channels shall be held to give authoritative data for all calculations of discharge required to verify claims for remission of water-rate on account of loss of water.

17. Claims to remission, under section 76 (b) of ordinary charges payable for use of canal water shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the charges. All applications for remission of water-rates shall be made by the parties concerned in person, or through their headman, to the nearest Sub-Divisional Canal Officer at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop, and the Sub-Divisional Officer shall thereupon inspect the applicant's fields, and forward his application for decision to the Divisional Canal Officer with his remarks

18. Before awarding compensation under section 76 (c), the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, and such opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings. Under this rule an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the division, whose order shall be final.

19. Under section 78 of the Act the rates chargeable per acre on the different descriptions of crops are fixed for three years, viz. from 1st June 1876 to the 1st June 1879, and are as follows :—

WATER-RATES.

NOTE.

1 Cottah ... ... = 1361·25 superficial feet.
1 Beegha ... ... = 27225·00 " "
1 Acre ... ... = 43560·00 " "

20. Up to 1st June 1879 leases for three years may be granted at the following rates provided that the area leased in any village shall not be less than the whole irrigable area in the case of khureef cultivation or half the irrigable area in that of the rubbee cultivation. In the latter case the area must be as far as possible in one block. In certain cases it may, at the discretion of the Superintending Engineer, be comprised in two or at most three blocks.

Schedule of Rates.

	Per acre.	Per beegha.	Per cottah.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Rubbee, including bhadace ...	2 4 0	1 6 6	0 1 2
Khureef	1 8 0	0 15 0	0 0 9

21. Three-year leases will not be granted for sugarcane.

22. By irrigable area is to be understood as a general rule the extent of land for which water can be supplied at the rate of 80 acres in khureef and 180 acres in rubbee per cubic foot of available supply.

23. Leases for three years at the reduced rates may be given (1) on the application of all the cultivators of a village, on condition of their agreeing in such application to become jointly and severally responsible for the payment of all amounts due on account of water-rates; or (2) on the joint application of the cultivators and of some person hereinafter called the contractor, who may agree to collect and pay to Government under section 82 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876 all sums which may be due under the application on account of water-rates. The application of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally will be in the form prescribed in appendix C. The joint application of villagers and a water-rate contractor shall be in the form prescribed in appendix D. Every application under this rule must be signed by each applicant in the presence of at least one respectable witness.

24. A contractor or contractors shall be entitled to collect water dues at the rates given in the schedule attached to rule 20 from the cultivators who have applied for the water supplied. Every due from a cultivator to a contractor on account of water-rates shall be deemed a sum due to Government under sections 82 and 85 of Act III of 1876.

25. A contractor (or, in case there be more than one, each severally and jointly) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the application (appendix D), and shall be entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. for cost of collection.

26. When the lease under these rules is for the supply of water to khureef crops or to all irrigable rubbee in the village, a list in form E should be submitted with the application showing the number of each field in the map, the area of the field, crop to be grown, and amount payable; and this should be signed by each cultivator. Water will be supplied in accordance with this list during the period of the lease. Similar lists must be submitted each year before water is supplied to rubbee lands when the area leased is less than the whole area of irrigable rubbee land in the village. In such cases the fields receiving water may vary from year to year, but the total area to be watered can never be less than the area stated in the application for the three years' lease.

27. No water shall be taken previous to receipt of a permit (appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a contractor or contractors the Divisional Canal Officer shall furnish such contractor or contractors with an authorization under section 82 to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to the list furnished under rule 26, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every contractor shall nominate a headman to be approved by the Canal Officer to perform the duties specified in rule 9. Such headman shall receive 5 per cent. on the assessment, but the Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. If only a portion of a field be irrigated the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

30. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exists between the two portions. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

31. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

32. Irrigation from natural or artificial escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

33. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

34. Persons irrigating lands from a canal without a written permit for water for such lands, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be chargeable with double water-rates on the area irrigated, in addition to such penalties as may be imposed under sections 93 and 94 of the Act.

35. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, viz. five rupees per acre on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower charge if he thinks fit. The headman to be held responsible for the payment of such rates as may be imposed, leaving it to him to realize the same from those to blame.

36. If mixed crops be grown in the same field, the water-rate shall be calculated on the highest rated crop.

37. When the original crop sown in a canal irrigated field fails and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates leviable shall be due on the second crop.

38. When a field is irrigated which has not been prepared by division into compartments, and by the addition of small water-channels as prescribed in rule 5, an additional charge may be imposed equal to half the amount of water-rate leviable on the field. In each case the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Officer must certify that he personally examined the field, and that it was not properly prepared for irrigation according to the terms of the rule.

39. The amounts demandable for water-rate shall be determined and apportioned by the Divisional Canal Officer.

40. All water-rates shall become due on the dates noted on the "permits," viz. the dates on which the crops ordinarily come to maturity, and are as follows:—

Water-rate on spring crops,—wheat, barley, peas, poppy, &c.,—shall become due on 15th April.

Water-rate on summer crops,—cheena, &c.,—shall become due on 15th August.

Water-rate on bhadoi crops,—seera rice, Indian-corn, murwa, &c.,—shall become due on 30th November.

Water-rate on annual and winter crops,—aghani rice, joaur, &c.,—on 31st January and shall be paid within one month of such dates.

41. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

42. Collection of all water-rates will be made by the Collector strictly in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer, in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

43. The Collector will make the collections through the Deputy Collectors attached to each division of the canal and the Subordinate Canal Revenue Establishment.

44. Objections to the demand on the score of short supply, or of matters affecting the Irrigation Department, addressed to the Collector, shall be referred by him to the Canal Divisional Officer. Meanwhile the collection of the demand shall not be suspended.

45. Claims for remission so referred by the Collector, and admitted by the Divisional Canal Officer, shall be reported by him for the sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

46. A remission statement signed by the Superintending Canal Officer shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

47. If the decision of the Divisional Canal Officer uphold the original demand, an appeal may be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, provided that it is preferred within forty days from the issue of the order. The decision of the Superintending Canal Officer shall be final.

48. In cases in which the water-rate is irrecoverable, from the absconding or bankruptcy of the defaulter, or when the question at issue does not depend on the canal supply or the action of the Irrigation Department, the Collector will obtain sanction to remission of canal demands from the Commissioner of the division. All such remissions shall be reported at the close of each official year to the Divisional Canal Officer.

49. If a cultivator is dissatisfied with the entries made against him in the "permit" (appendix B), whether as to the fact of the land having been charged "flow" instead of "lift," or as to the measurements and entries of class of crop, he must lodge a complaint, either personally or through the headman of his water-course with the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer within fifteen days of the issue of the permit.

50. No person, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officers, shall pass, or shall cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks, or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, excepting upon such bridges, fords, and ferries, and their approaches, as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer.

51. No Canal Officer, unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereof, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly, or in shares with others.

52. The ameen after completing the measurement of a village, before leaving it, will compile the Khatianni. A copy of the Khatianni will be taken by the putwaree, who must himself make the copy; but if he cannot from any cause do so, the ameen must give it, and the latter is to be held responsible that a copy is taken.

53. The copy of the Khatianni thus made will be hung up in some conspicuous place, and slips in the prescribed form (appendix F) will be prepared by the putwaree and given to each ryot showing the amount he will have to pay, area irrigated, &c.

54. The allowance to the putwaree for the above work shall be 2 per cent. on the assessments which shall be paid by the Collector on his being satisfied that the putwaree did his work properly.

55. The measurements shall be made as soon as practicable, and every care taken to have the Khatianni hung up in the village at least 15 days before the crop is cut, so that the ryot may make his complaints, if he have any, in good time.

56. In case of any alteration in the Khatianni owing to correction of clerical errors, &c., the same shall be communicated to the putwaree at once to enable him to correct the village copy and slips accordingly.

57. The zilladar shall submit his cheek measurements in the form (appendix G) which shall be sent in for the inspection of the Divisional Canal Officer. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall also check the measurements as often as he possibly can. If it is found that any ameen systematically makes wrong measurements, he shall be punished by dismissal, and shall be declared incapable of obtaining further employment under Government.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

Circular Order issued by Authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CIVIL AND CRIMINAL.

No. 31, dated the 19th September 1878.

The attention of all Judicial Officers in the Lower Provinces of Bengal and Assam is drawn to the remarks contained in Circular Order No. 24, dated the 23rd August 1870, in which the importance of a strict attention to the provisions of the law with respect to the service of processes forwarded by the Calcutta Court of Small Causes under Sections 29 and 30 of Act IX of 1850 was pointed out.

2. The Court has learnt with regret that the Judges of the Small Cause Court have still frequent reason to complain of the want of care with which their processes are treated by the Courts in the interior, and that much inconvenience and expense are occasionally caused to suitors by the irregular manner in which affidavits of service are filled in. The Judges of the Small Cause Court will now be asked to mention specifically any Court from which processes are habitually or frequently returned in an imperfect condition, and the Court will not fail to take such steps as may be necessary to prevent a repetition of the complaint.

No 32, dated the 20th September 1878.

The attention of all Judicial Officers is called to the notification of this date, copy of which is annexed, imposing a fee of one rupee in respect of administering oaths on affidavits under the Code of Civil Procedure (Act X of 1877).

2. It will be observed that the fee is payable in Court fee stamps, and will therefore be credited to Government. These fees should be shown separately in the daily register of Court fees realized, prescribed by Circular Order No. 23, dated 22nd December 1877, in order that it may be ascertained whether the receipts in any district are sufficient to justify the appointment of a special officer to administer oaths on affidavits.

NOTIFICATION.

Dated the 20th September 1878.

It is hereby notified that, with the sanction of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, the following charge has been introduced into all Civil and Criminal Courts subject to the Appellate Jurisdiction of the High Court, and that it will be levied from and after this date, viz.,—

For administering the oath of the declarant in the case of any affidavit under the Code of Civil Procedure (Act X of 1877), except—

(a) affidavits made by process-servers regarding the manner of service of process;

(b) affidavits made by any public officer in virtue of his office, one rupee.

The above fee shall be paid by means of a Court fee stamp of not less value than the amount above prescribed.

3. All the revenue accounts, it will be seen, close with credit balances of larger or smaller amounts, but t transactions for the year 1877-78, considered apart from the accumulations of previous years, have resulted follows:—

	First half-year.	Second half-year.	Total for the year.	Surplus.	Deficit.
		PART I.—Jetties.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A.
Receipts	3,91,382 1 0	4,10,518 12 0	8,01,900 13 0
Expenditure	2,59,797 1 9	5,94,709 0 3	8,54,506 2 0		52,605 5
		PART II.—Inland Vessels' Wharves.
Receipts	2,81,753 13	2,67,383 2	5,49,136 15 9	.....
Expenditure	1,97,191 3	2,84,650 13	4,81,842 0 0	67,294 15 3
		PART III.—Strand Bank Lands.
Receipts	66,095 7 0	77,713 6 10	1,42,808 13 10
Expenditure	51,982 2 7	95,039 15 3	1,47,022 1 10		3,213 4
		PART IV.—Port Proper.
Receipts	2,44,578 11 7	3,65,592 14	6,10,171 9 10	.....
Expenditure	2,28,589 2 11	3,27,636 11	5,56,225 13 11	53,945 11 11

4. The year's expenditure, however, as stated in the last paragraph, includes in every case large contributi from revenue for the construction of new works:—

	Rs. A. P.
Part I.—Jetty revenue contributed	3,56,476 8 10
„ II.—Inland Vessels' Wharves contributed	1,81,454 0 0
„ III.—Strand Bank Lands contributed	36,564 0 0
„ IV.—Port Proper contributed	1,16,309 0 0

and we observe that, with few exceptions, the whole of these amounts were withdrawn from the several revenue accounts and paid into the capital account within three or four days of the close of the year, remaining unexpended on the 31st March, the cash balance of the capital account on that date having been Rs. 6,37,204-2-6.

5. In the following cases the orders which have been produced to us in support of the transfers appears to be insufficient for the reasons stated :—

PART I.—Extension of jetty heads and increase of export sheds, Rs. 80,000.—This amount has not been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor either in an annual estimate of income and expenditure under section 50 of Act V of 1870, or in a supplemental estimate submitted in the course of the year 1877-78 under section 51; nor, in the absence of such sanction, has the written assent of the Lieutenant-Governor to the excess expenditure been produced under section 52 of the Act. The orders of Government approving the annual estimates for 1878-79, to which we have been referred, contain no reference to the expenditure of former years, and cannot be regarded as sanctioning such expenditure under the sections of the Act which have been cited.

PART II.—Balance of cost of three locomotives ... Rs. 8,000 } The objection stated above applies to „ II.—Ditto of new steam road roller ... „ 2,750 } the foregoing charges.

Excess expenditure of Kidderpore wharf, Rs. 12,200.—In this case, besides the above objection, it appears that the plan and estimate of the work, for which the contribution is charged, have not been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 35 of the Act, and no appropriation of funds to meet the cost is therefore admissible. The amount should, in our opinion, be repaid to credit of the revenue account.

PART IV.—Cost of heave-up boat, Rs. 10,000.—The sanction of Government is wanting under one of the sections 50 to 52, as explained above.

6. In the account prepared under section 4 of Act III of 1872, showing the proceeds of the property recovered from the wreck Asia payable to the owners, we observe that the expenditure incurred by the Commissioners under section 3 of the Act has been held to include the auctioneer's commission on the sale proceeds, and 20 per cent. on such; commission or Rs. 1,137-3-3 has been credited to the revenue account as due to the Commissioners, although only the net amount of the proceeds after deduction of commission was received from the auctioneers and the commission was not expended by the Commissioners in the terms of the law.

7. The total expenditure incurred during 1877-78 in constructing a training-wall along the Howrah bank of the river was Rs. 9,112 5-3, and this amount has, we observe, been removed from the Depreciation Fund account (to which, as pointed out in paragraph 3 of our last report, the expenditure did not seem chargeable) and debited to the grant for constructing a retaining wall to Schalch's Wharf. A report on the subject has been submitted to the Government, but the sanction of Government has not been received to the transfer of charge.

8. We subjoin a statement showing the amounts by which your actual receipts and expenditure for the year 1877-78 have either exceeded or fallen short of the budget figures, and we observe that the excesses of expenditure are about to be reported in detail for the sanction of the Govern nent. It would be more in keeping, however, with the provisions of the law if supplemental estimates were submitted for sanction in the course of each year, in the manner prescribed in section 51 of the Act.

BYE-LAWS AND REGULATIONS FOR THE SOCIETY'S EXHIBITION.

I.—Opening.

The Exhibition of 1879 shall open on the 1st August at noon.

II.—Admission.

Members free, on presentation of member's ticket which is not transferable.

Non-Members, one shilling each.

N.B.—The Gate-keeper or Stewards in charge thereof may require proof of ownership of any ticket, and, in default of such proof being afforded, may impound the same.

III.—Conditions of Competition.

All exhibits must, on the day of Exhibition, be bonâ fide the property of the exhibitor, and have been so at least one month previously; and all farm and horticultural produce, excepting in classes A, B, C, D, and E, must be the production of the person exhibiting it.

The same exhibit cannot compete for the Society's prizes in two distinct classes, except where it is permitted by the Council.

Exhibits, although entered in any class, may compete for special prizes, notice of which shall be given on the certificate of entry.

Exhibits entered in the wrong class by the exhibitor will be excluded from competition for prizes, except where permitted by the Executive Committee.

Any exhibit having taken the first prize in a class for two consecutive years shall not receive any prize in such class, but may be exhibited; and if considered superior to all other exhibits in that class, it shall receive a certificate from the Judges to that effect. Such exhibit shall, however, be eligible to compete for any special prize.

IV.—Certificates of Entry.

The certificate of entry is a printed form to be obtained from the Secretary, and from the Secretaries of the principal local Societies, and is available for one exhibit only, except in the case of stock entered for sale, when one certificate is sufficient. The exhibitor, therefore, must apply for as many certificates as he has exhibits, except as specified above, and must fill them in according to the forms prescribed; and as it is from these documents that the catalogue will be compiled, it is absolutely necessary that the whole of the questions contained in them should be answered as far as possible.

The certificate will not be valid unless signed by the exhibitor or his agent.

No exhibit will be admitted without a certificate of entry correctly filled in, signed, and delivered by post or otherwise to the Secretary at the office of the Society, on or before the dates for the closing of entries specified on the certificate of entry or advertised; and the Secretary will acknowledge the delivery of the certificate by returning to the exhibitor a receipt for the same, upon the production of which the exhibit will be admitted into the Society's ground.

No entrances will be received after the dates specified for the closing of the same.

All owners competing in sections 1 and 2 shall be restricted to three entries of pure pedigree (as admissible in the Stud and Herd Book) in each class; but no branch establishment of one partnership shall entitle owners to more than the three aforesaid entries in each class, but they may enter ten others, not necessarily of pure pedigree, for exhibition and sale on the grounds upon payment of a fee of ten shillings for each head; these latter to be placed in yards or covered stalls. In case of protest, based on difference of age, animals to be submitted to the Society's Veterinary Surgeon.

Exhibitors or their agents, when called upon by the Stewards or Committee, shall prove the correctness of their certificates of entry.

No charge will be made to members upon the certificate of entry for any of the Society's prizes, but a fee of 2*s*. 6*d*. will be levied on certificates of entry for non-members.

Such charge as the Committee may determine shall be made for ground or wall space, and the Stewards shall use discretionary power as to the space to be allotted to each exhibitor.

V.—Arrival and Arrangement of Exhibits.

All exhibits must bear a distinctive mark corresponding with that entered upon the certificate of entry, and be delivered to and removed from the Society's ground free of charge.

Exhibitors or their agents must, if requested, point out to the Stewards their respective exhibits, in order that they may be identified, classified, and numbered according to the catalogue before being submitted to the Judges.

No exhibit will be admitted into the Society's ground unless the attendant is in possession of the Secretary's receipt; and each exhibit, when it enters the ground, must be at once put into its proper place.

Exhibits must be brought to the grounds on the days to be hereafter specified.

VI.—Desease or Danger.

Should there be any reason to suspect that any exhibit is either diseased or dangerous, the Society reserves the right of removing the same from, or refusing its admittance to, the Exhibition. No stock will be admitted into the Society's Exhibition without first being passed by Inspectors appointed by the Society.

VII.—Control of Exhibits.

Exhibitors shall, under direction of the Stewards, arrange their exhibits; and no exhibit shall afterwards be moved without the sanction of the Stewards under a penalty not exceeding £5.

The Committee shall have power to retain the exhibit of any exhibitor so fined until such fine is paid.

The members of the Executive Committee and the Stewards in the section shall at any time have power to enter any space allotted to any exhibitor, and give such directions as regards the exhibits as they may think fit.

Exhibitors will render themselves liable to a penalty of £5 by removing any official placard, ticket, or ribbon, affixed or posted by the Stewards, or by affixing any other placard, ticket, or ribbon, in lieu thereof, or by refusing in any way to carry out the instructions of the Stewards, who shall incur no responsibility by putting these regulations in force.

No exhibitor shall be permitted to be with the Stewards or Judges during the time of judging the exhibits, unless by special request of the Stewards; and the exhibit or exhibits of any person infringing this rule shall be at once disqualified.

Live-stock attendants will be supplied by the Stewards with distinguishing badges and required to wear the same, and shall be regarded, during the time of the Exhibition, as servants of the Society, and shall be under the entire control and direction of the Stewards. They shall be in attendance each day of the Exhibition, from 9 A.M. to 4 P.M., for the purpose of exhibiting and parading stock.

VIII.—Care and Feeding of Stock.

The Society undertakes to find the necessary accommodation and attendance, if required for the animals and birds during the Exhibition; but no provision will be made for the feeding of the same (except in the case of section VI.—Dogs) beyond establishing a store at which fodder may be purchased by exhibitors; nor will the Society provide for the nightly accommodation of entire horses.

IX.—Departure of Exhibits.

The Society reserves the right to retain any exhibit for such time as the Executive Committee may consider necessary; and no exhibit shall be removed from the Exhibition without a formal permit from the Stewards or the Secretary.

The dates on which exhibits will be allowed to be removed will be hereafter specified.

X.—Responsibility.

DAMAGE THROUGH EXHIBITS.—The Society will not be responsible for any accident that may be caused through or by any exhibit, and it shall be a condition of entry that each exhibitor shall hold the Society harmless and indemnify it against any legal proceedings arising from any such accident.

DAMAGE TO EXHIBITS.—The Society will not, under any circumstances, hold itself responsible for any loss or mis-delivery of live-stock, or other exhibits, at the Society's Exhibition, or for any damage thereto.

LOSS BY DISEASE.—The signing of the certificate of entry of any animal will be taken as a guarantee that the animal specified is free from all disease, as far as is known to the owner. In case of infectious disease being spread through or by an exhibit, the exhibitor shall be held responsible.

FIRE.—Means will be taken to guard against fire and protect the property at the Exhibition.

XI.—Trials, Parade of Stock, &c.

Due notice will be given by advertisement to exhibitors of the arrangements made by the Stewards for carrying out field trials of implements, machinery, parade of stock, &c.

MOVEMENT AND WORKING.—The conveyance to the trial ground and working of the implements and machinery will be directed by the Stewards, and they will be carried out at the exhibitor's expense.

WORKING IMPLEMENTS.—No implement shall be worked on the ground unless by express order of the Stewards.

GRAIN IN SHEAF, &c.—Grain in sheaf, hay, corn, straw, roots, wool, or any material required for testing the machines, and, if wanted, horse-power must be provided by exhibitors.

STEAM.—No exhibitor shall light a fire under, or supply the boiler of any steam-engine, until he has the authority of the Stewards to do so; this authority will be given after the engineer appointed by the Society has examined the engine, and has certified that it is perfectly safe.

The Stewards shall have power to order the removal of any exhibit worked in contravention of this rule.

XII.—Infringement of Regulations.

In the event of a wilful infringement by an exhibitor of any of the foregoing regulations and bye-laws, it shall be in the power of the Council, upon proof of the same, to prohibit such exhibitor from exhibiting and competing at any of the Society's Exhibitions in future.

XIII.—Prize Awards.

The prize awards affixed to all exhibits shall be distinguished by the following colours, viz.:—

Blue for First.
Red for Second.
Yellow for Highly Commended.
Black for Commended.
Red, white, and blue for Champion.
Ribbons will only be affixed in sections 1, 2, 3, and 6.

XIV.—Protests.

All protests must be lodged with the Secretary, or left at the office of the Society, addressed to him, within forty-eight hours from the notification of the Judges' awards.

XV.—Non-Competitive.

The Committee may receive for exhibition only, and not for competition, if space admits any exhibit not specified in the schedule.

XVI.—Stewards.

1. Shall attend at the time and place notified to them by circular.
2. Shall examine as to the correctness of certificates of entry in their respective sections, prior to the completion of the catalogue.

Should the Judges be unable to agree upon any award, they shall refer the matter to the Steward, whose decision shall be final.

XVI.—At the conclusion of the tasting, the Judges shall draw up a report of their proceedings, sign and deliver it to the Steward, by whom it is to be countersigned.

Section XIII.—Implements and Agricultural Machinery.

This section is of so much importance in a colony where manual labour is scarce and dear that a great deal of attention will be devoted to it. It is not intended to draw any line between imported and colonial articles, because it is considered that a position of impartiality tends best to stimulate colonial skill in manufactures. Except in the case of a collection of implements and things that can be judged in a quiescent state, prizes will be offered only in such classes of exhibits as can be judged in action either in the field or in the Exhibition ground. Steam engines, threshing machines, sheep-washing machines, sugar-making machinery, chaff-cutters, corn-crushers, winnowing machines, &c, will be judged on the ground. In this department prizes in the shape of bronze medals will be awarded in case of special merit, as recommended by the Stewards; but a certificate will be given in all other cases.

The silver medals will only be awarded in such exceptional cases, when recommended by the Judges, as to the Council may seem expedient.

A competent jury of gentlemen will be selected to report upon the whole of these exhibits, they being allowed to call in experts when necessary, and on their recommendation, endorsed by the Stewards, the Council may award Champion prizes for the best collection of exhibits.

N.B.—All articles manufactured at the Exhibition may be sold and delivered to purchasers, permits to allow removal being obtained from the Secretary.

No exhibitor must enter two articles of the same sort, and the Stewards will be empowered to refuse admission to articles deemed, for various reasons, inadmissible. Articles not properly entered will not be admitted.

Intending exhibitors are requested to give a full description of their goods.

It is specially requested that exhibitors will pay attention to the regulations concerning the filling up of the certificate. It is from those documents that the catalogue will be compiled; all points of novelty or originality, and other information respecting the exhibits, should be fully stated.

Since it will not be allowed to attach price tickets to the exhibits, it is the more necessary that the price should be mentioned in the catalogue, and therefore that this particular be put in the certificate.

Any exhibitor whose goods can be properly placed together will be at liberty to arrange such goods in his own way, provided his arrangement is compatible with the general scheme of the Exhibition and the convenience of other exhibitors.

Packing cases must be removed at the cost of the exhibitor as soon as the goods are taken charge of by the Stewards.

Articles and packages will be unloaded at the building. Should the exhibitors or their agents not be present, the packages will not be opened, but stored at the risk and expense of the exhibitors.

The Committee may decline to receive any article they may think unsuitable for exhibition, or objects of an inflammatory, offensive, perishable, or dangerous character.

The Committee reserve to themselves the right to receive for exhibition only, and not for competition (if space admit), any object not specified in the schedule, which may be considered to possess special merit.

Packages and articles intended for exhibition should bear on the outside the class or classes, the contents belong to, the name of the exhibitor, and be delivered, free of charge, on or before the 15th July, addressed as follows :—

To the Secretary of the Agricultural Society of New South Wales,
